Starcrest Farms Scene Of Saturday Bridal

At Starcrest Farms, R. R. 3, Georgetown on Saturday, Frances Eleanor Stark, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Neilson Stark became the bride of Emerson Osborne Robinson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Robinson, Milton. Rev. J. N. McFaul of Oakville officiated.

The double ring ceremony was performed in a setting of standards and baskets of white and pink gladioli. Miss Mary Crozier, Streetsville, the bride's cousin, was pianist.

The bride wore an ankle length white faille taffeta portrait gown styled with sweetheart neckline. A fingertip veil and lace and rhinestone halo completed her ensemble and she carried a cascade of pink delight roses. Miss Margaret Stark, Milton, was her cousin's bridesmaid, wearing sky blue faille taffeta, similarly styled to the bridal gown, and carrying a cascade of yellow Queen Elizabeth roses.

Mr. Stark gave his daughter in marriage and the groom's brother, Edward Robinson, Stoney Creek, was groomsmen.

Receiving after the ceremony in Esqueping Community Hall, Stewarton, the bride's mother wore peacock tissue faille, brown accessories and a corsage of talisman roses. The groom's mother wore moss green, yellow accessories and a corsage of pink delight roses. A sentimental note was added at the reception when the cake was cut with an ivory and sterling knife which had been a wedding gift sixty years ago of the bride's grandmother, the late Mrs. James Stark. For the wedding ceremony, the bride carried a handkerchief which her maternal grandmother, Mrs. Ward Ruddell had carried on her own wedding day, June 13th, 1900.

Leaving on a honeymoon trip in southwestern Ontario, the bride wore turquoise silver metallic jersey, a matching hat, brown coat and accessories and pink carnation corsage. They will make their home at Starcrest Farms, where the groom is employed.

THE WEATHER

Mr. Editor:- Hot and VERY humid well describes the weather of the past week. It was almost a duplicate of the corresponding week last year. The last week of August seems to be a favourite spot for the thermometer to register 90 or over, as the following table shows the past five years. —Ern Batkin.

Budget Market Business Bought by Galt Man

A local meat and grocery store, Budget Market, changed hands this week, with the new owner Joseph Hohmann taking over the management yesterday.

It has been operated for the past three years by Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hills, who are moving to Galt tomorrow, though Mr. Hills will be staying with the new owner for a few weeks.

Mr. Hills intends to enter the insurance and real estate business in Galt with a friend from his home town of Highgate. They are moving this week in order that their children Lorraine and Ronald can start school next week. The family will be missed in town, where they have taken an active part in church work at St. John's, with Mr. Hills also a leader in boy scout work.

Mr. and Mrs. Hohmann, daughter Barbara, who will be working in the store, and Joseph, Jr., a public school student, will live in the apartment above the store. They also have a married daughter in Galt and a son Jack, in Korea with the army.

Mr. Hohmann has worked for several years in Galt as a weaver, first at Riverside Silk Mills and for the past year at the Stauffer-Dobbie Company.

Death Bereaves Licata Family Twice in Month

Michael Licata, 57, only brother of Dick Licata of town died suddenly in Hamilton early Saturday morning.

Ailing for some time with heart trouble, Mr. Licata's death was unexpected. Born in Sicily, he had been a Hamilton resident most of his life, operating a grocery store there until he retired a year ago.

He is survived by his wife, one son, Dr. Harry Licata of the University of Michigan staff at Ann Arbor, his mother, Mrs. Mary Licata, Hamilton, brother Dick and one sister, Mrs. A. Restivo, a former Georgetown resident who now lives in Hamilton.

Requiem mass was held in All Soul's Church on Tuesday morning. It was the second time Mr. and Mrs. Licata have been bereaved this summer. Five week's ago, Mrs. Licata's father, Mr. Nick Curto died suddenly of a heart attack in Hamilton.

Long Illness Fatal Charles Erwin Dies

A native of Georgetown, who had been seriously ill for some time, Charles Erwin, 79, died at Rochester, N.Y. on Saturday.

Son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Robert Erwin, he had lived in Rochester for many years. His wife, Florence McPherson of Acton, died eighteen years ago. He is survived by two brothers, Robert and Lorne Erwin of town, only members living of an original family of nine.

Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Erwin and Mr. Jim Erwin attended the funeral service in Rochester on Monday, which was followed by interment in Penfield Cemetery.

Rural Fire Demonstration Slated at Bessey Farm

Demonstrations of the new rural fire truck have already been held at Glen Williams and Norval, and two more are scheduled during the next week.

The $19,500 truck, purchased by residents of the Esqueping fire area around Georgetown, which will be housed and manned locally, arrived last Friday, and after a practice run around town was taken to the Glen for a demonstration. On Monday a similar expedition was made to Norval, and Thursday night it will be in Stewarton.

Next Thursday, September 10th, a purely rural demonstration will take place at Wray Bessey's farm on the 6th Line. Slated for 7 p.m., farmers who are interested in seeing what the truck can do, will gather there at that time.

Until the new dial telephone system goes into operation later this month, fire area residents who might need the truck's services need only to call the Georgetown phone operator and the fire siren is sounded from the phone office.

Was Station Agent at Norval and Kitchener

Station agent for the Canadian National Railways at Norval and later at Kitchener, Herbert Jackson, 69, was buried in Norval Cemetery on Monday.

Mr. Jackson died at his home, 23 Louisa Street, Kitchener, on Friday. He succeeded his father as agent at Norval Station, first working with the company at Parkdale. When the station was closed there, he was transferred to Kitchener, retiring three years ago. Lately he had been an insurance and real estate salesman.

Mr. Jackson is survived by his wife, Clara Currie and one sister, Miss Florence Jackson, Toronto. Interment at Norval followed the funeral service in Kitchener early on Monday afternoon.

BROOKLIN NEXT IF N & G's WIN TO-NIGHT

A win tonight in Georgetown Arena will clinch the semi final for Georgetown N&Gs and send them into the finals of the Intermediate B lacrosse group.

Georgetown won handily here last Wednesday and on Saturday took a thriller in Wallaceburg to make it three in a row. When Wallaceburg is out of the way, N&Gs will meet Brooklin for the Ontario championship.

The crowd of 600 on Saturday was not as large as for the first game, but they wanted their team

Mrs. Ern Batkin, prominent in craftwork and a member of the Arts & Crafts of Georgetown, was a first prizewinner at the Canadian National Exhibition.

Mrs. Batkin won first prize for her linen table set, entered in the handicraft division, for which a prize was donated by John Leckie Limited, Toronto.

—Next Monday is Labour Day.

Ernie Alcott Now Partner at Henry's

An important business change on Main Street this week is the announcement that Ernie Alcott has joined Henry Helfant as a partner in operating Henry's Clothing Store.

Mr. Helfant established the business two years ago in the Main St. location vacated when the Herald moved to its present location.

Mr. Alcott, a native of Georgetown has worked on Main Street for sixteen years, being associated for several years with Brill's men's department. He served with the RCAF during the war and was employed for a short time at Provincial Paper before joining the Brill staff.

Mr. Helfant served in the Belgian underground during the war, returning to his native country after escaping from a prison camp in France. He was training in England with the Belgian army when the war ended. He came to Canada in 1946, and worked in a Toronto clothing firm until establishing his own business here two years ago.

SILVER-WOOD

Communities Join For Newlywed's Presentation

A pleasant evening was held in Limehouse Hall Tuesday, September 1st, when the community of Limehouse and the Stone School Farm Forum and the Silver-Wood Women's Institute, had a shower for Margaret and Dick Appleyard, who were married recently. "Pat" Patterson was master of ceremonies, Neil Benton played the piano; there were solos by Anna Splizer, Mrs. W. Norton and Rev. Alex Calder, and little Mabel Greig did a Scottish dance. Ern Batkin, on behalf of the S.S. Farm Forum and neighbours from the 7th and 8th lines, made the presentation of an easy chair and cushion. Neil Benton read an address from the Limehouse Community, presenting an end table, two cushions and a picture. A social hour followed, cost-vened by ladies from both communities.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Vary and Allen spent a few days recently in Harrison.

Dennis Lock of Toronto, a cousin of the Burt family, visited them recently for a week, and at present Joyce Johnson, another cousin from Acton, is visiting them.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Norton spent the week-end in Dundalk. Mrs. Russell Hunter and Judy
