SCHOOL OF CHARM ESTABLISHED HERE

If Georgetown ladies look better dressed, have smarter hair-does and more graceful walk, you can thank a new organization, the Georgetown School of Charm.

This popular development has spread from the city and Mrs. John Patterson is ready to launch the Georgetown school this month. Classes are being made up at present and the several ladies who have signed up for the course will take their lessons in the Oddfellows Hall on Saturdays. Associated with Mrs. Patterson in operating the course are Shirley Wright and Alice Murphy.

All three ladies are graduates of Patricia Stevens Finishing School in Toronto. They conceived the idea this summer of inaugurating a similar type of course in Georgetown. Mrs. Patterson tells us that four main subjects comprise the course: make-up, wardrobe, figure coordination and modelling. The students will also be sent to a hair stylist for advice about this important beauty aid.

At the end of the course, it is planned to have a fashion show.

Fellowship Winner,
Bride are En Route To England

Newlyweds of last Wednesday, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Molozzi will be sailing for England later this week, where they will live while Mr. Molozzi takes post graduate work at Imperial College, University of London.

Today, with other winners of Athlone scholarships, Mr. Molozzi and his wife will meet the Governor General at a reception at his summer home in Quebec City. They will have a tour of England after arrival before he settles down to his studies.

The wedding of Margaret Amy Sargent, daughter of Mrs. Christopher Sargent and the late Mr. Sargent, and Andrew Robert Molozzi, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Molozzi, R. R. 2, Acton, was solemnized in St. George's Anglican Church at an evening service on September 2nd. Archdeacon W. G. O. Thompson officiated.

White chrysanthemums and candles adorned the altar and the church was decorated with standards of gladness. Mrs. J. R. Williams was organist and Thomas Warnes sang The Lord's Prayer before the service and O Perfect Love during the signing of the register.

The bride wore a strapless ballerina length gown of white rosepoint chantilly lace over taffeta, with matching bolero jacket fashioned with bracelet sleeves. Her shoulder length veil of white net fell from a cap of rosepoint lace. She wore lace mittens and carried a bouquet of red roses and stephanotis.

Mrs. Michael Fothergill, Barrie, matron of honour, wore a strapless ballerina length dress of cornflower blue chantilly lace over taffeta with matching lace jacket which buttoned down the front to the waist. She wore lace mittens and carried a nosegay of yellow sweetheart roses.

The bride was given in marriage by her uncle, Sam Walker, Groomsman was a college chum of the groom, Andrew Ottolenghi of Quito, Ecuador. They honeymooned in the States.

The bride was a member of Smith and Stone office staff before her marriage. One of Georgetown High School's most distinguished graduates, Mr. Molozzi took high honours in his final year course in Engineering and Physics at the University of Toronto this spring, and worked during the past summer months at National Research Council in Ottawa. His Athlone fellowship entitles him to two years of postgraduate work at a university of his choice in England.

EILEEN OATES BURSARY WINNER

One of Georgetown High School's best students, Eileen Oates has been awarded a $100 Dominion-Provincial bursary. It is one of two possible such awards made each year by the government.

Eileen enters Grade 13 this year, and plans after graduation to train as a nurse in a Toronto hospital.

A good student, she is also prominent in sports and extramural activities at the school. Last year she was second in command of the girl cadets and captain of the basketball team. A few years ago she attended the Ontario athletic training camp at Lake Couchiching and put what she learned there to use as a leader of the local Stay-At-Home Camp. She has also been intermediate girls' champion at the 4-school field meet.
