Warden Leslie in Party Which Tours Northland

George Leslie, reeve of Esquimaux and warden of Halton, was one of a party of farmers who made an interesting week-long visit to Ontario's northland.

The men are officers and directors of the Ontario Agricultural Council, Warden Leslie representing Zone 3 which comprises the counties of Halton, Peel, Bruce, Dufferin, Grey, Simcoe and Wellington. They travelled by Dept. of Agriculture cars, driven by two department officials, S. H. Symons and William Hall.

It was originally planned to travel to Moosonee, but bad weather en route delayed the trip and the men missed the train from Cochrane. Driving all day in the rain from North Bay, they had a preview of winter at Cochrane, where 7 inches of snow fell, and later travelled on to Kapuskasing.

Highlights of the trip, according to Warden Leslie, were a visit underground at the McIntyre Mine at Timmins, and visits to the provincial experimental farm at New Liskeard, and the federal farm at Kapuskasing. In each district visited, the Ontario agricultural representative took the party on tours of the best farms.

Mr. Leslie was impressed with possibilities in the north, and says there is some wonderful farming land, particularly around New Liskeard, and in a clay belt off the highway at Cochrane. Short seasons and drainage problems occupy the attention of the experimental farms, where research is constantly underway to develop grain which will mature fast. Short-horns and Ayrshires are the only cattle raised extensively in the north, says Mr. Leslie, and while modern farm equipment is in evidence, there is not nearly so much as in Halton.

Members of the council who made the trip included William P. Oswald, Chesley, whose son John is a member of the local Bank of Commerce staff, John McLennan, Martintown, James Matches, Shallow Lake, John Malcolm, Vanessa, Earl Galbraith, Thamesville, Reg. McCann, Brighton, H. H. Williams, Mountain and D. A. Moodie, Richmond.

Fund is Memorial For Gordon Graydon

"Some people erect a monument to a friend in recognition of long years of public service but we, about 100 of his friends, have chosen to do it this way."

This was the simple explanation by Hon. T. L. Kennedy, former Ontario premier, of a "strictly private subscription" to assist the estate of Gordon Graydon, who had little time for making money while serving Peel for 18 years as a member of the House of Commons.

"The man does not live, who can serve his people in public life and make any amount of money—that is the simple fact of the situation," declared Col. Kennedy. "He is generally always a little in debt throughout his life. I have been in public life for 34 years and I speak from experience."

"If you happen to be appointed to the cabinet, you might be able to save a few dollars, but not very many. This applies to Liberals, Conservatives, CCF and Social Credit members, alike."

Many Cash Calls

"You are away so much while serving the people, that you gradually lose your business and therefore cannot make any money," Col. Kennedy continued. "Then you have to practically keep two residences — one at home and one at Ottawa or Toronto — and there are always many calls for donations to worthy causes."

"It costs about $4,000 a year for hotel rooms and meals while in Ottawa or Toronto as cabinet members have found out," he explained. "Then if someone comes in from the constituency, a member has to treat him and take him around. It certainly costs a lot of money to be a member of the House of Commons or of the legislature."

A member of parliament spends at least six months of the year in Ottawa and we know of many times when Gordon Graydon made special trips to Ottawa to help someone in trouble.

"The public believes a member of Parliament picks money off trees. They don't know the constant cost of public service," Col. Kennedy contended.

"Did a Wonderful Job"

"We think that Gordon Graydon did a wonderful job for we his constituents. He came into our homes when we had trouble and got us out of trouble. Many times he went on trips at his own expense for us," Col. Kennedy continued.

"About 100 of his friends got together and instead of building a monument to his memory we have decided to do it this way."

"It is strictly a private subscription to help his estate. Everybody is so willing and nice about it. Many friends are helping and they

FARM NEWS

CNE HOLSTEIN SHOW BRINGS GOOD RESULTS

Frequently we hear some of our farmer friends make the statement, "Oh, I can't be bothered showing livestock, and anyway there is no money in it." True it does necessitate a great deal of extra work and the majority of the Halton exhibitors, who go to the CNE, the county, and other local shows, only do so out of loyalty to their respective clubs. But it does pay dividends in that it brings buyers and results in sales which otherwise would never have materialized.

To substantiate this statement, we need only refer to the recent sale of A. G. Hunter's and M. C. Sherwood's great two year old bull, Hunterholme Rag Apple Supreme.

It will be recalled that this animal not only topped a strong class of ten 2-year-olds at the recent C.N.E., but was made reserve grand champion male of the Holstein Show—being beaten by his older half-brother, Illehee Sovereign Supreme. Both are sons of the $20,000 Spring Farm Sovereign Supreme, which was four times All-Canadian for J. M. Fraser of Streetsville, before being sold to Columbia. Had Hunterholme R. A. Supreme not gone to the C.N.E., Bill Hepburn, manager of Forsgate Farms, Jamesburg, New Jersey, would not likely have ever seen him. Mr. Hepburn was the official judge of Holsteins at the C.N.E. and liked him so well that following the show he purchased him for Forsgate Farms at a nice price well up in the four figures. Were it not for the fact that Albert G. Hunter appreciates the value of getting his cattle before the public, Hunterholme R. A. Supreme would almost assuredly have ended up down at the stockyards.

Another well-known Halton "Black and White" exhibitor at the C.N.E. is Gordon Sinclair, a nearby neighbor of Messrs. Hunter and Sherwood. Since the CNE his 4th prize senior yearling bull and his fifth prize senior bull calf have both been sold at nice figures. Who says it doesn't pay to show if one has anything worthwhile showing?

are not limited to Conservatives by any means."

About 85 per cent of those assisting, to date, live within Peel, which Mr. Graydon represented so ably.
