 St. John's Anniversary

J. D. G.
 Last Sunday St. John's United Church celebrated their 114th anniversary. They were favoured in having as their guest minister for the morning service, the Very Rev. George C. Pidgeon, D.D., first Moderator of the United Church of Canada, beloved veteran of the church's ministry, deep and logical in his meditation, direct and earnest yet simple in its presentation.

He chose for his subject: "Lofty thought and Lowly Service," based on the Scripture of St. John's Gospel, telling of the lowly service of the Master himself, in the washing of the Disciples' feet, on that last night in the Upper Room, when Jesus knew that His hour had come, the supreme hour of His life, and yet knew that, as His disciples were thinking just then, they needed to learn the lesson of humility, of lowly service if they were to be of full service to Him as He was expecting. So He took time and patience to teach them by example, in such a manner that they never forgot.

This night Jesus fully realized the intensity of the hatred which had been stirred up against Him, and which was about to break on Him; knew that all God's preparation of His chosen people to be used for the bringing of this world back to His love, was to be rejected because it was not the world's way, of repression, lording over the weak ones, but was to-be through service and love. Jesus knew that at whatever cost, He must carry out His Father's wish and will that night, that time and eternity were meeting, all things had led up to this, all things yet to come would flow from it. He had the destiny of the world in His hands that night, a tremendous task and responsibility which would require all His strength and will; why had He in the midst of it, to listen to and adjust the petty differences of His followers as to who would have the chief places in His kingdom?

He knew why. These were the ones He had to count on to carry out His task; He knew they had the seeds of God's kingdom in their hearts; they needed to learn that this kingdom was to be founded on service, the lifting of the people to higher levels in love, founded on what could be done for them in lowly service, not on what attitude in business, at home, in play, anywhere, that of what do we get out of it, or is it how best can we serve? Do we look for the highest places for ourselves or are we willing to do as Jesus did, the lowly task so long as it helps to bring others into God's kingdom? Only so can His Kingdom come.

The choir, under the leadership of Norman Laird sang the anthem: "Sing O Heavens," Mr. V. Stein taking the solo part. The Junior choir sang as an offertory: "The Lord is My Shepherd." Mr. Robert McCaul of Brampton, formerly of Georgetown was guest soloist, singing "Beyond the Dawn." There were a large number of former members from out of town present.

At the evening service, the guest minister was Rev. Wm. G. Berry, M.A., B.D., Associate Secretary of the Board of Social Services and Evangelism. He spoke on "The Church's Evangelistic Responsibility" using the parables of Jesus, The Lost Sheep, The Lost Coin, The Lost Prodigal. He showed from these the importance God places on each individual of His creation; that people do matter. Then too, that their environment matters. The lost sheep, the lost coin, the lost boy, all got into wrong places, wrong conditions, which counted against their being of service to themselves, humanity or God. So it is a Christian's duty to challenge conditions which are wrong.

The church matters too, not just the building, but the people who are the church, because if they are sincere, they can do much to keep the environment for children and youth, right to grow up in, and towards God, and to seek out the lost and restore them to their proper relationship with God. And lastly God matters too, God is important to every life. Man may be indifferent to Him, try and struggle through on his own, but he cannot do his best or reach his highest goal without taking full count of God in his thoughts and decisions of life. Though God is a loving Heavenly Father, He is also a merciful judge, whose laws and statutes are to be obeyed, if we would live right, not just for time but for eternity too. Mr. Laird led the choir in the anthem "Great is the Lord," with Mr. T. Faram taking the solo part.

The Junior Choir sang "The Crusader's Hymn," and Mr. Robert McCaul who again guest soloist singing "The Living God." Rev. John M. Smith assisted in devotions, introduced the guest ministers, and thanked all who contributed to the success of the anniversary services.

52 Canadian Ambassadors of Goodwill

THE CANADA STORY is being told abroad as perhaps no other living nation's story ever has been told . . . told as only art, the universal language, can tell it.

When The House of Seagram commissioned the painting of 52 portraits of Canadian cities by distinguished Canadian artists and then dispatched those paintings by air on a 30,000-mile international tour, it was with the earnest hope that greatly increased understanding and goodwill toward Canada would follow.

There was little doubt that these graphic glimpses of the Canadian skyline and landscape would bring to people of many lands a deeper interest in Canada and a warmer feeling of friendliness for the Canadian people.

Today the Seagram Collection is barely half-way on its international tour—and the actuality is daily outstripping the most optimistic of advance estimates. Throughout Latin America . . . in San Juan, Havana, Mexico City, Caracas, Rio de Janeiro, Sao Paulo, Buenos Aires . . . Canada, through Seagram's airborne art gallery, is Page One news. Not only at the time of the formal previews for leaders, of government, industry, the professions and society, but throughout the seven-to-ten day public showings in each city the Canadian paintings and the cities they represent are major topics of interest in the news pages, on radio, and television, in everyday conversation.

As these Canadian ambassadors of goodwill leave Montevideo for Rome, Paris, London, Stockholm, Geneva and Madrid, more than 60,000 people already have studied the collection and carried home brochures reproducing the paintings in full colour. More than that, they have carried away vivid personal impressions of Canada as a great and growing country—a land of vast natural and industrial resources and remarkable human resourcefulness.
