GLEN WILLIAMS

Lengthy Illness Fatal
Mrs. Dishaw Buried Here

Member of an old Glen Williams family, Mrs. Joseph Dishaw, 49, was buried in Glen Williams Cemetery, on Saturday following a funeral service at the Washington & Johnston Chapel in Toronto. She died in Queen Elizabeth Hospital on Wednesday, following an illness of two years.

Mrs. Dishaw, who was the former Rose Hancock, was born in Huntspill, Somerset, England, and when she was six years old her parents Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hancock, emigrated to Canada where they farmed for several years on what is now the Howard Dolson farm on the Town line.

She attended public school at S. S. No. 3, Chinguacousy, and Glen Williams, and before her marriage was employed at the home of Mr. Morris Saxe, and in the Beaumont and Barraclough woollen mills in the Glen. She had lived in Toronto since her marriage.

Surviving are her husband and one son, Walter, and several brothers and sisters, Harold of Acton; Walter of Toronto; Mrs. E. Snowball (Jean), Toronto; Mrs. Septimus Thompson (Daisy) Glen Williams. Mrs. John Conaghan (Lucy) of Lakeview; Mrs. J. Floyd (Catherine) of Halifax, N.S.; Mrs. Gordon Hayward (Isabel) of Mono Road; and Margaret Hancock, Glen Williams. Two sisters predeceased her, Mrs. Mary Atkinson, Toronto and Mrs. Hester Thompson, Glen Williams.

Rev. Hugh J. McAllister of the Stone Church conducted the funeral service and pallbearers were Frank Dishaw, Morris Miller, Trevor Harding and three nephews, Harold and Ernie Thompson and Jack Hancock.

Lions Entertain
Kids at Big Hallowe'en Party

Georgetown Lions Club again held "Open House" for Georgetown and district children this year, with a big party in the armouries Saturday.

The gaily costumed crowd matched from Main Street to the park where a busy hour of games and contests ended with distribution of peanuts and candies to everyone present.

An added feature was entertainment by a group of young square dancers from Grand Valley. These eight young people, trained by Stewart Corbett, won second prize at Erin Fair and were recently auditioned for a CBL television show "Now's Your Chance" on which they expect to be appearing later this fall. They will also compete at the Royal Winter Fair. Mr. Corbett is a relative of club member Pat Vance who was instrumental in bringing them to town.

Bobbing for apples provided some fun and some head wetting for the more adventurous youngsters, and everyone got a prize when they carried a peanut on a stick in one of the races.

Costumes were clever and varied and judges Mr. and Mrs. Jack Gunning were hard put at times, to decide on proper winners in each class. Among those who won prizes were Pauline Spence, Mae West; Richard Wade, pirate; Jean Inglis, old fashioned lady; Neal Tost, devil; Pierrette Pruneau, peanut man; Tommy Marshall, Peter Pan; Karen Scott, Indian; Peter Bouwman, cook; Joan Cummins, Georgetown Herald; Douglas Kennedy, caballero; Michael Cummins, tramp; David Jones, Garth Marchmont, Carol Marchmont, Ruth Macdonald.

Mrs. Annie Salmon
Dies Suddenly

Mother of two former Georgetown residents, Mrs. Annie Matilda Salmon, 70, died suddenly in St. Joseph's Hospital, Guelph, last Tuesday.

Mrs. Salmon, who was the former Annie Cook, had been a resident of Erin for several years and was buried there following the funeral service in All Saints Anglican Church on Friday.

She is survived by seven children, Thomas of Toronto; Ethel, Erin; Anne, Mrs. Harry Watkins, of Milton; Benjamin, Sprucedale; Rev. Reuben Salmon, Windsor; Robin, Stratford; Josephine, Mrs. W. R. Longstreet, Erin. Mrs. Watkins is a former Georgetown resident, and Rev. Reuben Salmon obtained his secondary schooling here before attending divinity college in Toronto.

Mothers Attend School
Hallowe'en Party Here

Please see Coming Events for St. John's Bazaar.

The children had a Hallowe'en party at the school Friday afternoon. Mothers of the children and pre school members of the family were invited to attend and join in the fun. Lunch was enjoyed by all.

Ruby Tennant returned last week from Guelph General Hospital. She is improving daily.

Judy Walker chose the opening hymn — Onward Christian Soldiers, at the Junior W.A. meeting last week and conducted the worship service. Nine members were present. Quilt blocks were sewn during the busy period.

The W.A. meeting was held at Mrs. M. Bailey's home.

There were some weird looking creatures roaming the streets Friday night, visiting any who happened to be staying at home. And all were provided with bags into which candies and other goodies were dropped. It's surprising what the little people can stand.

A children's service was held in the church Sunday morning, conducted by Rev. J. E. Maxwell. The parents were invited to attend. Another service will be held next Sunday morning. At the evening service some coloured slides were shown of the work of medical missionaries in Tibet and the Himalayas.

Miss Lydia Snow, home economics teacher in Nassagaweya, will speak at Equestrian W.I. meeting next Wednesday, at the home of Mrs. C. A. Grant. Members will answer roll call with a suitable Remembrance Day verse.
