Red Roses Remember
17 St. John's Soldiers

J. D. G.

Days and years roll by so quickly in our busy lives, that we can forget, but Nov 11th as it comes around each year, brings our memory back to how much we owe to those who made the great sacrifice in World Wars 1 and 2. On Remembrance Sunday in St. John's United Church, 17 Red Roses were placed on the Communion Table by Mr. and Mrs. A. Maclaren in grateful memory of those in connection with the congregation who had made the supreme sacrifice. This debt was acknowledged by the congregation in silent and prayerful remembrance. The choir sang as an anthem "O Valliant Hearts who to your glory came, Through dust of conflict and; through battle flame."

Rev. John M. Smith spoke on the text in Corinthians, the words in Paul's letter "For a great door and effectual, is opened unto me, and there are many adversaries." Paul had been expecting God to open the door to Corinth, but instead it was opened for him to stay in Ephesus, so he tarried and worked there. Paul saw that God had opened a door for him and he seized the opportunity.

Mr. Smith bid us look around us and to other parts of our world and see the doors of opportunity which God is opening to us, doors to many others of His creatures who are anxiously looking for a higher way of life such as He can give them through us. That God opens doors even in our own life experiences, in the testimony of many of His followers, often making the seemingly impossible become possible, and the testimony is the same in respect to others needing the gospel.

We are looking closely at our own interests, even our national interests, often forgetting that God looks beyond these and is concerned that all men are our brothers under God and that He is opening doors so that we may reach them in love rather than in war. And when God opens the way, He expects us to enter and do something about it. People almost the world over are seeking a higher way of life. In Japan as an instance, with its 85 million people, who had believed that power and force could give them the way of life they longed for, they have found it to utterly fail and even their religions, Hindu and Shinto, have not upheld them, leaving them beaten and bewildered. Evidence shows that they are seeking for the answer of the Christian religion.

At the same meeting, Ted Bludd's tender for painting the exterior of the township garage in Stewarttown was accepted.

A new method of paying members of the council has been adopted this year, and a by-law outlining this has been sent to the Dept. of Municipal Affairs for approval. Heretofore, councillors have been paid $14 a meeting, plus mileage and a commission which was based on votes cast. The new by-law provides a flat rate of remuneration of $25 for the year, plus $25 for each of the three councillors.

AT ESQUESING COUNCIL ON MONDAY, NOVEMBER 2

K. C. Lindsay, Georgetown, was appointed tax collector for the township, succeeding Isaac M. Bennett. Mr. Bennett, who has been serving as clerk-treasurer for the past few years, recently resigned the collector's position, but will continue as Esquesing clerk. Mr. Lindsay is township treasurer and also has served as assistant assessor.

The tender of David Barclay, of Stewarttown, for snow plowing this winter was accepted. Mr. Barclay will be paid $6.00 an hour for snow plowing and $8.00 a day standby time.

Payments for sheep destroyed and injured and valuator fees reached a high figure of $568. Details are as follows: E. F. Brain, 5 Reg. Suffolk ewes killed, $246.25; Emmett McGibbon, ram lamb, $40; Edward Brown, 3 lambs, $47; George Jennings, lamb, $15; H. A. McCullough, lamb and two sheep killed, lamb and three sheep injured, $90; Donald Lindsay, two lambs killed, $40; James Sprowl, 3 lambs, killed, $57.75; Valuator fees of $4 to Spencer Wilson, $8 to Meldrum Stark, A. N. Stark $16 and Duncan Waldie $4.

Accounts passed included: Roads $5,080; Halton County, 50 per cent of hospital accounts to Sept. 30th, $15,67; Town of Georgetown attending fire at Mr. House's on July 22 and fire at A. J. Ruddell's Sept. 4, $100; Town of Acton, attending fire at J. Koltis's Oct. 17th, $50; Georgetown Poppy Fund, $15.

At a special meeting on October 20th, a by-law was passed for issue of debentures for the new public school in Norval. Financing for the $64,000 expenditure until the debentures are sold, will be done by temporary bank loans.

At the same meeting, Ted Bludd's tender for painting the exterior of the township garage in Stewarttown was accepted.

A MARCH FOR HIM

It was a very interesting and moving affair, held on Monday, November 10th, at the home of Mrs. H. J. Stewart, 111 St. John's St., Georgetown. It was held in honor of the late Mr. H. J. Stewart, who died on the 7th.

Called "For Every Child" it showed the search of souls and boys for the meaning of life, the meaning of it to them, the strange happenings all about them; searching for the love and kindness which they expect in God's world; looking for the leadership they so much need and to which they respond so readily. And it showed how hard it was to get sufficient who are willing to give a part of their time and energy in trying to help solve some of the problems facing these boys and girls and help give the answers to their questioning thoughts about God and life, seeking to lead them in His way. And too it showed the rich joy and satisfaction, which comes with the giving of oneself to this task. Truly a challenge. Miss Doreen Warwick was pianist.

Debaters, Speakers
Chosen at Milton

Halton Juniors presented an enjoyable evening's entertainment at Milton High School on Friday evening. This was the occasion of the annual inter-club debates and public speaking competition, when representatives were selected to represent Halton in the inter-county activities.

The judges, K. Y. Dick, Edwin Harrop, and George E. Elliott, had their work cut out to select the winners in both public speaking and debating. The ten young people who participated displayed a wealth of talent and natural ability. The evening's programme, included a piano solo by Mitchell Neale of Acton, and a humorous skit by Acton club members.

Norval and Palermo Win
In the first debate, "Resolved that the best interest of Agriculture can best be served by a county fair rather than by a number of smaller township fairs," Norman Bird and Barbara Cunningham representing Norval Juniors, upholding the negative, took the decision over Robert Cox and Douglas Anderson of the Brookville Juniors.

The second debate brought together Palermo and Milton on the subject: "Resolved that competition has done more for the prosperity of the farmer than has co-operation." Palermo, represented by Diane Abbott and Jean Patterson upheld the affirmative — Wm. Kelly and Jim Ingram of the Milton Club the negative, with the ladies getting the decision.

To select the two best debaters was a difficult task. The judge's decision went to Jean Patterson of Palermo and Barbara Cunningham of Norval. These two young ladies will prove worthy representatives for Halton in the inter-county debating field. In the first round they will debate the first topic of the evening "County vs. Township Fairs."

Mary Pope Speaking Champ
The North, Alaska to the North Pole was the topic of Mary Pope's winning address. In an interesting and entertaining manner, Miss Pope presented a wealth of information on the great North country and its inhabitants.

The second speaker Miss Dorothy Ingram of Milton presented a beautiful address entitled "Babies." Each speaker displayed an ease of platform delivery that was a delight to the audience. Miss Pope will represent Halton in the Provincial Competition to be held in Toronto in the month of January, at the Junior Ladies' Conference. Her participation with the inter-county team of the Ontario Federation of Agriculture.
