MRS. NORMAN FELKER HEADS CHURCH CLUB

At a meeting of the Willing Helpers Club of the Glen United Church at the home of Mrs. Curly Wheeler, new officers were elected for 1954. Serving under Mrs. Norman Felker as president are the following officers: Mrs. Curly Wheeler, vice president; Mrs. John Wagstaffe, treasurer; Mrs. Roy Norton, Jr., secretary; Gail Wheeler, pianist; Mrs. Clare Little, Mrs. Bev Moody, Marilyn Felker, social committee; Mrs. W. Everson, Mrs. F. Engleby, Mrs. C. Wheeler, sick committee.

December 11th, the club held their Christmas banquet in St. Alban's parish hall, with the Ladies Guild of that church catering for a roast beef supper. Afterwards members spent the evening at the home of Mrs. Jim Gambell, where games were played and Christmas gifts exchanged.

Parents of pupils attending Chapel Street school viewed the children's work at an Open Night at the school recently.

Legion Notes

The W.A. of this district purchased a television set for the patients in Sunnybrook, and last Wednesday, Mrs. Alex Taylor went down as one of the representatives to officially turn it over to the hospital. As an added gift she took along cigarettes from the Imperial Section, and chocolate bars from a number of the merchants in town. She tells us she was quite impressed with the set-up down there, mentioning particularly the beautiful way the hospital is decorated for Christmas. She also was in to see one of the Branch comrades, Bill Hadley, who has been there for quite some time.

And once more Father Time is closing another chapter in life, with the approach of a new year. At this time it is the custom of this column to pause and glance in retrospect over the past year and to mention any highlights that were out of the ordinary in the past 'twelvemonths. It is our honest and sincere belief that in the past few months there has been a greater spirit of harmony and good will among the members than it has been our pleasure to see in years. This, naturally, has an excellent effect on the affairs of the branch, because without a harmonious feeling among the membership, the discontent naturally becomes apparent to your elected officers and tends to disturb the balance of things. And although the year did start out a little "stormy" any differences existing were amicably settled in short order, and the executive have had little disciplinary action to take with their own members, happily. And that is as it should be — the Branch should be a place where comrades may gather to watch television, play cards, darts or billiards, or just plain visit with old friends. That is the predominant purpose of the Legion, a centre for ex-servicemen, not just a rather advantageous location to operate a beverage room. And we could digress just for a moment to say that our branch of the Legion is conducted in an excellent manner, and to the utmost satisfaction of the Ontario Liquor Control Board.

During the past year the Friday night socials have been continued, under the management of Sam Tennant, with his band of volunteer helpers. During the year there have been a number of larger parties, including one known as a Coronation Party. The Binges have been successfully carried on as well, with Charlie Peyton running them with the aid of his trusty few who help him out every Saturday night.

This year was not only Coronation year but also the anniversary year

Thanks Expressed For Sunnybrook Television

Sunnybrook Hospital, Toronto 12, Ont. December 17th, 1953.

The Editor Georgetown Herald, Dear Sir:

Yesterday afternoon, December 16th, a deputation of ladies from the Auxiliary of Zone 10, Canadian Legion presented to the patients in Sunnybrook Hospital a 21" television set. I understand the money, which was subscribed to purchase this expensive gift, came from various branches of the Canadian Legion in the district, and I just want to say how much this gift is appreciated by our hospitalized veterans. It will provide splendid entertainment for them, especially during the long winter evenings, and it really has a therapeutic value from a psychological standpoint, inasmuch as it will assist greatly in keeping up the morale and spirits of these men who are still in hospital as a result of their service with the Armed Forces.

May I also mention that a quantity of cigarettes and chocolate bars were handed to me from the Imperial Section of the Legion and also from a number of Georgetown merchants.
