Suspect Galt Robbers Same as Glen Williams
 Possibility that an organized ring of textile thieves is operating in Ontario has been raised by Galt police after a robbery in that city this week.
 One hundred bolts of special cloth, valued at $12,500 and weighing two tons, was stolen from Program Brothers woollen mills there. The cloth had been specially prepared for consignment to customers, and in view of a depressed textile market, officials of the company are wondering what the thieves will do with the cloth.

 The robbery, occurring soon after two break-ins at the Besumont Woollen Mills in Glen Williams, has led to the suspicion that the three thefts were done by the same gang.
SPEYRIDE FEATURED
 Arrangements have been made with the Hamilton Spectator to reproduce a story, with pictures, about Speyride which appeared in that paper recently. Watch for it in a future Herald.

Congratulates Police On Stopping Vandals
 Georgetown, Jan. 5th, 1964
 Dear Sir:
 It seems most unfortunate that at this time of year, six boys should be arrested for destroying property or Christmas decorations. Two from Weston one from Woodbridge and three from Georgetown, ages 17 to 19 years were arrested by the Provincial Police for taking Christmas tree lights from the trees on Main Street.
 On Halloween night boys were picked up and charged for breaking 22 lights on the street light system. It seems such things do happen, but owing to the cooperation of our present police force such acts of vandalism are being discouraged. Congratulations are certainly in order for their splendid work.
 Sincerely,
 G. W. McCallum, Sup't.
 Georgetown H.E.P.C.

Legion Notes
 Well, the New Year has arrived, and we see everyone still alive and kicking. The Steward reports that there was an unusually large number of bottles of 'boke' and ginger ale sold on New Year's day. Could it be New Year's resolutions?
 The New Year's party was quite a good one, with more in attendance than last year, we believe! The hall sure was packed and as the evening went on, dancing became more confined — however, to one mind being crowded when they're all together. A special word of commendation to the ladies who looked after the buffet supper — it was an excellent one, and they certainly did a lot to make the party a success.
 The treasurer tells us it's that time of year again — and he has all his papers and accounts out for the auditor to arrive. Which is to be any day now!
 The Auxiliary election takes place on Thursday, January 21 just a couple of weeks away, and the Branch election will be held on Sunday afternoon, January 31st. It does seem that time has flown very quickly (and peacefully) this past year.
 According to a recent bulletin from Provincial Command, Legion branches are growing so rapidly, that drastic action has to be taken to adjust zone boundaries to successfully administer the growing number of branches.
 We hear too, from Provincial Command that this year instead of an essay contest, a public speaking contest will be conducted through Ontario, with local branches putting up individual prizes with a grand prize to be given for the Provincial winner.
 April 15th is the deadline for local competitions in both elementary and secondary schools. There are fourteen subjects which may be chosen from. A final grand prize will be given at the finals to be held at the Dominion Legion convention, this year to be held in Toronto.
 DVA Representative Ramsden is going to be at the Branch here on Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock for an hour and will be pleased to see anyone interested.
