Bob Goldham Here For Hockey Dinner

Monday evening, May 3rd, saw the annual Kid Hockey banquet for all the Saturday morning kid hockeyists, referees, coaches and managers. The affair was arranged by the hockey committee of the local Legion branch, who sponsor this each year.

An attractive dinner was served by ladies of one of the Auxiliary groups. The evening started with the singing of Grace, led by Mayor John T. Armstrong.

The chairman of the evening, Les Clark then welcomed the guests and introduced the head table, including Pat Patterson, the local Legion sports chairman, Arena Board members and others, as well as the guest of the evening, NHL star, Bob Goldham. After the meal, Pat Patterson spoke briefly, complimenting the Legion on their all-out hockey effort and offering in the future once more, his cooperation.

As chief OHA referee, he cautioned the lads to be a bit easier on the referees, as they were the boys called on to make anywhere up to three hundred decisions during a game. And each of these had to be a snap decision. Mayor Armstrong spoke to the boys and also complimented the local Legion on their sports effort. Neils Robinson thanked the town for allowing the neighbouring communities to come in on the sports program and said he hoped that they would all be back next year.

The guest of the evening Detroit start defenceman, Bob Goldham was then called on to speak to the lads. Bob recounted his experiences in the NHL and then offered to answer questions for a period. The lads took advantage of this offer by volleying questions at him right and left. Questions ranging from "who is the fastest skater in the NHL?" to "who's the outstanding Junior of today?" Bob answered questions for three quarters of an hour.

After the question period, the hockey committee took over, and made the various presentations to the winning teams, and to the individuals voted most valuable player, best goal-keeper, etc. Trophies and crests were presented.

Clergy, Lay Delegates Have Pre-Synod Meeting

A meeting of the clergy and lay delegates of the Anglican Archdiocese of Halton and Wellington was held at St. Patrick's Church, Guelph, Tuesday evening, May 4th. Evening song was sung by the rector, Rev. Angus Hunt, after which all gathered in the basement. Archdeacon W. G. O. Thompson called the meeting to order, then requested Col. Government, Not Council Was Rent Control Authority

Georgetown, May 7th, 1964
The Editor:

IN DEFENCE OF LANDLORDS

May I be permitted once again to reply to Mr. Broughton and to disagree with many of his views.

The first of which is that three parts of Georgetown does not read the Herald. From my own personal experience both in business life and in private I am quite sure that there is very little that is printed in the Herald that 90% of our townspeople don't know about.

To get back to rent control, Mr. Broughton asks if the councillors put the question to the ratepayers and did they tell the Legion and the ratepayers that they were going to abolish rent controls. Surely, Mr. Broughton is talking through his hat! Our town never imposed rent controls, so how could they abolish them? Rent controls were placed there by our Government as a wartime emergency. It was the only emergency that was carried on long after all the others were dropped. And if the government decided it was not worth the expense and headaches to operate, then why should our councillors burden themselves with such a hot issue?

Mr. Broughton speaks of a seven roomed house renting for $21.00 per month. Well, he certainly opened his mouth and put his foot in it. $21.00 a month for a seven room house? Why that's barely enough to pay taxes and insurance. What about the mortgage and what about the poor landlord's investment? To say nothing of tenants who may wreck his property. No wonder that poor guy could not decorate it, and if its forty now, just think of how long it will take to save up that extra rent before he can afford to have it decorated. $21.00 a month for a house of any kind is simply turning back the time to conditions as they were in 1935. Would Mr. Broughton like it if his pay cheque were turned back to that period of time also? Pay cheques were about $35 to $40 per week then.

Another thing is quite noticeable. Very few people outside of the Legion have raised their voice in protest against the lifting of the controls. I have always said and still believe that nothing is too good for those who proved their valor on the battlefield. We do owe much to these courageous men. But in the majority of cases those who proved their valor overseas have also proved that they have what it takes to settle down and make a home for themselves when they came back.

Not long ago I heard of a group of ex-service men who banded themselves together to pool their efforts in building their own homes. Each contributed his share of work and money. When the job was done they drew lots as to which member should own the home. If there is any of Georgetown's ex-service men in dire need of a home, why not band yourselves together and do something about it instead of sitting down and howling about the injustice done to men of the Legion. I am very sure that in such a case you would not only have the backing of the mayor and councillors but also of the whole town.

Furthermore, Mr. Broughton, I would remind you that the housing shortage is due to the tremendous influx of immigrants from England and other countries. Most of them are willing to co-operate and will become good citizens of Canada. However, there are a few that would like to take over this fair country and tell us how it should be run. They do nothing but grouch over our way of life. To these grumblers I would like to say, put up or pack up.

Never in the history of our country have conditions been so good for the working man. If they really want a home of their own they can easily get one with a little of the same hard work and saving that we have done in the past. A glance at this week's Herald will show you that you can purchase a home on the monthly payment plan for as little as $53.61 per month. This ad was in the Georgetown Herald weeks ago but maybe Mr. Broughton was one of the few that did not read that ad.

Mr. Broughton speaks of apartments renting for $100. per month. Yes, just as there has always been deluxe apartments in the past, there will be in the future. Said apartments will no doubt include heat, hydro, water, etc, tile bathroom and kitchen, refrigerator and electric stove. All these things had to be paid for by the landlord at modern day prices and anyone who wants modern apartments will have to pay modern rents.

And last but not least, is Mr. Broughton speaking with the authority of the Legion Imperials as its president, or is it just what Mr. Broughton thinks?

Yours, very truly,
Mrs. Katherine Cordaro.
