BUSINESSMAN POINTS NEED FOR REST ROOMS

SOME THINGS WE WOULD LIKE TO KNOW.

Dear Mr. Editor:
Some time ago the councillors of Georgetown discussed the problems of a restroom for Georgetown and at this late date I would like to know what they have done along this line?

I do know that almost every day from 8 to 12 persons patronize the driveway between Buck's Store and J. V. Barker's real estate office and on Saturday last, July 17th, two boys acted like some of the loose dogs around town and used the front door post on Mill Street to leave their visiting cards.

Why should this be in an up-to-date town?

Vacation School Ends At First Baptist Church

Friday morning, a two week vacation bible school was concluded at First Baptist Church.

Planned for children 6 to 11, there were 64 enrolled and the school proved to be successful and inspiring to those attending. Mrs. W. Townsend and Rev. A. J. Barker were the leaders of the primary and junior groups, assisted by Mrs. W. P. Thompson, Arlene Reeve, Joan Chartier, Evelyn Harris, David Carter and Terry Harley. Activities of the group consisted of bible studies, singing, recreation and hand-work.

NORVAL

NORVAL UNION HOLD SATURDAY PICNIC

On Saturday the annual picnic of Norval and Union Presbyterian churches took place at Stanley Park, Erin, with ample lunch provided by ladies of the two congregations.

Afterwards the usual sports events took place with prizes for lucky competitors and peanuts and balloons for all. The children later amused themselves swimming and pony riding while the men took part in a strenuous ball game.

GLEN WILLIAMS

TWO EXCITING GAMES GIRLS BALL TEAM

Both games played by the Glen Williams girls ball team were exciting last week.

Thoroughly at Omagh, the Glen team came to life in the 7th inning when they were trailing the home team 9-1. They scored seven runs but couldn't get the equalizer. The story was different Monday at the Glen and they won a see-saw game with Hornby with final score 12-11. Tomorrow the girls play at Norval and on Monday at home to Haltonville for the last scheduled game.
