Mr. Wright travelled light

WHEN THE Wright Brothers first took off at Kitty Hawk fifty years ago, weight-saving aluminum was already in on the act. Their tiny engine had a single cast aluminum crank-case and cylinder block. Aluminum has been growing with the aircraft industry ever since. Now strong aluminum alloys are helping to combat the heats and stresses of supersonic flight, and Alcoa is faster than ever supplying aluminum for Canada's aircraft plants and other industries looking for light-weight materials. At a fraction of the weight of steel, aluminum is the Wright Brothers' answer to the Conquest of the Skies. (Alcoa)

New Pictorial Bible Designed for Children

"The Newest and Most Modern Bible," "a Picture-Book Bible," "The Jubilee Youth Bible" as it has been variously termed, will be released to the public in September. Copies of it have already been presented to Prince Charles and Princess Anne.

Packed with 500 pictures that are simple snapshots of every bird, beast, tree and flower mentioned in the narrative, the attractive volume is the Authorized Version, "without note or comment" in keeping with the 150 year policy of its publishers, the British and Foreign Bible Society.

For the first time this new line of plain and practical illustration is introduced into the Bible. It is really an up-to-date visual aid rather than the old time type of story picture. Route-maps accompany the text to show the reader the road he travels, milestones give the distance between different places, time signals count out the passing of the centuries, badges or identity cards indicate the nationality of the people he meets. City gates and dwellings of the points visited are also shown. Highlights of the book are the special close-up studies of the Temple buildings, officers, vestments and vessels of worship; the costumes, coins, countryside and customs of the time of Christ; and the journeys of the apostle Paul.

It is the complete Bible but so arranged that the narrative flows on in uninterrupted fashion; passages, especially in the Old Testament, which are concerned with genealogies, itineraries, specifications and measurements, and other technical matters, are placed in three columns on the lower half of the page, but in their right sequence and of equal importance, yet not impeding the Bible Story.

Several years work has been put into this handy edition for young people and children. The aim and purpose is "to bring the story to life." It is published to commemorate the Third Jubilee — 150th anniversary of the Society formed when William Wilberforce and some of his friends heard the story of Mary Jones, a little Welsh girl, who trudged many miles over rough roads of her native country to buy a Bible only to find the last copy sold upon her arrival at Bala.

The first edition soon to be available will consist of 100,000 copies and is printed by Oxford University Press, and distributed by the Society below publication cost.

The editor is Mr. John Stirling, who has had wide experience in work of this kind, he is responsible for "The Bible for Today", published by the Oxford University Press, for "The Study Bible", in 20 volumes, published by Messrs. Cassell and Co., and for "The Atlas of the Life of Christ" and "The Atlas of the Epistles", published by Messrs. Geo. Phillips and Son Ltd. Mr. Horace J. Knowles, the artist of this beautiful work, is versed in ancient Jewish history, ritual, architecture, etc. and in archaeology.

FARM NEWS

ARMY WORMS CLOSE BE ON THE LOOKOUT

While no serious outbreak of army worms has been reported to date in Halton county, Simcoe, Grey Bruce, Huron, Lambton, Oxford, Perth, Waterloo, Lincoln, York and Peel counties have all reported considerable damage from this pest. Any Halton farmer noticing these greenish brown caterpillars, which have longitudinal stripes on their backs, should phone the Agricultural Representative's office. Oat and barley fields seem hardest hit, and earlier this week we viewed a 12-acre field of oats in Peel County, where all leaves and several kernels were stripped from the stalks. In one area alone in Peel County poison bait at the rate of 25 lbs. of bran, 1 lb. of Paris Green, 1 - 2 qts of molasses and 2½ gals. of water per acre, was spread by hand over 300 acres of oat crop on July 21, 22 and 23. We do not quote this to alarm you, but merely in the hope that all farmers will be on the lookout for this pest. Army worms can be serious but also can be controlled if poisoned before they begin to march.

Bridegroom Attended Public School Here

A mid-summer wedding took place in St. John's Anglican Church, Jordan, with Rev. E. H. Bowden-Taylor officiating, when Rose Helen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Simpson and William Robert Anderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Anderson, Guelph, were united in marriage.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a ballerina length gown of white embroidered nylon. The finger-tip veil was held by a lace cap trimmed with pearls and she carried a Colonial bouquet of red roses. The bride was attended by her sister, Mrs. Albert Lott, as matron of honour, who was attired in a dress of ice-blue tulle over taffeta and carried yellow mums. Margaret Anne Lott, niece of the bride, was flower girl in a pink nylon dress with yellow mums. Mrs. James Evans of Georgetown, aunt of the groom, was organist and Kenneth Bullard of Kilbride, cousin of the groom, was best man. Donald Simpson, brother of the bride and John Bryden, B.S.A. of Guelph, were ushers.

A reception for sixty guests was held at the home of the bride's parents, Mrs. Simpson, mother of the bride, received dressed in a gown of figured nylon with navy accessories and a corsage of red Sweetheart roses, assisted by the groom's mother in ice-blue sheer with pink accessories and a corsage of pink roses. For a wedding trip to London, Detroit and Munroe the bride chose a beige linen suit with white accessories. Guests were present from Toronto, Guelph, Eden Mills, Kilbride, Burlington, Carleton Place and Campbellville. The bride and groom will reside in St. Catharines where Mr. Anderson is employed as chemist at the Danforth Wines.

The groom at one time was a resident of Georgetown and attended public school here. He is a grandson of Mrs. William Frank.

Stone School Plans Recreation Room

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Trow were hosts to the Stone School Association for their July meeting when 18 members attended. The question of leakage in the water pipe to the school was discussed, and a committee consisting of Edgar Beesley, Ben Case and Earl Trow was appointed to investigate the cause of this. The question of further improvement at the school was discussed, but no definite decision was reached at this meeting. A social hour was enjoyed after the meeting adjourned.

At the request of the School Board, the Association met again, this time with the board members at the school on July 21st. Charlie Greig, chairman of the board, was in the chair. The board asked the association if it would consider the possibility of remodeling the building at the back of the school for use as a recreation room for the pupils during their play periods at school. The building was carefully examined and after thorough discussion it was agreed that the association would go ahead with the project. Committees were appointed for the various jobs to be undertaken. The work will commence at once and it is hoped that all parents of pupils at the school, as well as interested friends in the community, will offer their assistance to the association in this project for the children.

The Seagram "Cities of Canada" Exhibition

sketched in Madrid by J. Caballero '54

They're talking about Canada the world over

A few months ago, Jose Caballero, noted Spanish artist, sketched his impression of The Seagram Collection of Paintings while they were exhibited in Madrid at the famed Castellana Hilton. Like Señor Caballero, 30,000 people of Spain took the opportunity in the next two weeks to view these original canvases of 22 of our cities and to see, too, for the first time, a new aspect of a great and growing Canada as reflected in these impressive portraits of our nation's thriving metropolitan centres.

Everywhere these paintings went . . . north and south of the equator . . . on both sides of the Atlantic . . . they won new friends and favourable comment for Canada. In sixteen cities along a 30,000-mile international route through 45 foreign lands, more than a quarter of a million people came to visit them; to observe the skyline of our land, and to try on their lips the unfamiliar name of our Canadian Cities.

Accompanying the Collection were 48-page booklets containing reproductions of the paintings. These were available to all who visited the exhibition. The Seagram Collection is now back home on a two-year Canadian tour but it continues, through these booklets, to build goodwill for Canada abroad. In many thousands of homes, the text and pictures of these booklets are keeping Canada talked about the world over.
