FIFTY PIGS PERISH IN ETOBICOKE FIRE

Fifty pigs perished in a $45,000 fire that destroyed a barn and implement shed on the farm of Moses Teggart in Etobicoke Friday.

There were 150 pigs in the barn when the fire broke out. Many that survived were badly burned and had to be destroyed. A truck loaded with chocolutes, a tractor, two combines and a load of hay and barley were destroyed in the fire. The Teggart's son and his wife, who is the former Pat Edmunds, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Edmunds, R R I, Georgetown, live on an adjoining property.

Roof against RAIN and REVELLERS

ANYONE who ever visited Loadon knows Piccadilly Circus. and the famous statue of Eros. God of Love, poised above its central fountain. This statue has taken a lot of punishment during the past sixty years, from both practical jokers and Londen amog. But because the sculptor cast it in aluminum -it was the first large statue to be cast in the "new metal" - it has come eafely through the years. When it was cleaned up for the Cosenation, it gleamed as freshly as ever. The enduring beauty of aluminum has meanwhile made it a favorite of modern architects, furniture designers, decorators too.
