Hints for the WELD-DRESSED Man

LATEST RESEARCH and newest techniques in aluminum welding are passed on to Canadian industry in clinics conducted by Aluminium Laboratories Limited, in Kingston. Plant engineers, managers, foremen and welders attend lectures and demonstrations by Alcan's research specialists.

We mention it here to show how closely the companies that use aluminum and the company that supplies it work together. More than a thousand manufacturers turn Canadian aluminum into everything from airframes to hairpins. And they know that in exploring new uses or improving old ones they can always call on Alcan to help them find the answers. Aluminium Company of Canada, Ltd. (Alcan).

MANY HAZARDS FOR STOCK CAR TIMER

Stock car drivers may come and go but starters go on for ever — or until they zig when they should have zagged. While it's true that the jalopy jockers literally get themselves wrapped up in their pile of junk, you might say the guy with the assortment of colored flags tries to do likewise without getting hurt.

And one such gent, who has been bitten by the fugal disease but hopes to die in bed with his boots off, is Pinecrest's Ted Belton. Tricky Ted, a lanky, good looking, 23 year old insurance adjuster, spends every Wednesday and Saturday evening from 8:30 to 11 chimes dodging the iron steeds at the No. 7 Highway oval and so far has managed to stay all in one piece.

How'd he get that way? Well, even Belton finds it too hard to explain, except to say it's a disease that gets in your blood, and of course, the money he makes doesn't have to be filtered back into a car.

Since being first bitten by the stock car bug three years ago when he paid his way into Oakwood stadium, Ted has gradually dug his ways deeper and deeper into the sport.

After spending the 1951 season watching the moves of starter Ross Kennedy and absorbing them, Belton approached Promoters Joe Cappy and Norm Smith for a job at Pinecrest. He was called out of the stands one evening and has been "in" ever since.

"I'll admit I had nightmares after seeing Kennedy get hurt in June," Ron said the other day.

Although he's had his pants nicked on more than a few occasions Belton still operates with a devil-may-care attitude. He's also become a student of car racing and this year journeyed to Indianapolis for the 500-mile classic and a look at the famous 16th Street track.

"The 16th Street track is similar to Pinecrest in its general layout," Belton stated, "except that it is some 200 feet longer than a quarter mile. It's also shaped different, shorter straightaways and wider, more sweeping highly banked turns."

Keep your eye peeled for Ted and his assistant, Eric Robertson. They perform almost as many tricks as the drivers — only they do 'em without the protection of an all-steel body and a safety belt.

It's an education in how to keep from growing old!
