

Notre Dame de Beauregard Gets Publicity in City

Some times a weekly newspaper editor has news on his doorstep which he doesn't recognize until one of the dailies brings it to light. So it is that we let the Toronto Star 'scoop' us on telling about Miss Therese St. Jean, and the good work which she does at Notre Dame de Beauregard farm on the outskirts of town.

The farm, once owned by the late Professor H. L. Hutt and later by Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Moyer is not only a productive, happy home for Miss St. Jean's children but is a beauty spot on the 8th Line. The Star story carries only the essence of what she is doing for the young boys fortunate enough to come under her care. We would suggest that more local people pay the farm a visit and see for themselves what happy, useful lives are being moulded under her guidance. Here is the item which appeared in the Toronto paper last week.

Learning by seeing and doing is the motto at Notre Dame de Beauregard, a farm near Georgetown where 18 orphans are finding a full and satisfying life under the motherly eye of Miss Therese St. Jean.

In company with a Roman Catholic priest, Father Beauregard, Miss St. Jean began a farm for orphans near St. Catharines 19 years ago. They moved to Georgetown seven years ago. When Father Beauregard was killed in a motor accident four years ago, Miss St. Jean almost gave up the farm but was persuaded to carry on by her church.

There are 18 orphans, one a girl, on the farm and they are supported by the apple crop. The boys do their own mending, cooking, washing and ironing. They pick up pack apples which support the whole enterprise. They sell them by the basket in Georgetown and never fail to get rid of their entire load, Miss St. Jean said.

A vegetable plot, chickens, cows and sheep help in stretching out the food budget and enables the children to wear good clothing. "Give them clothing to be proud of and they take good care of them," Miss

St. Jean said.

Miss St. Jean believes the boys should get around as much as possible, as part of their education. They have visited Queen's Park, Montreal, and the Marian Congress in recent weeks.

During her 19 years in this work Miss St. Jean has seen 160 orphans pass through the farms. At present a young married couple, Gabrielle and Charles Migus, who were once orphans on the farm, are helping Miss St. Jean with the work. Many children on the farm are handicapped. Last winter seven boys were in the Hospital for Sick Children for eye operations.

Until now Miss St. Jean has refused help from outside organizations. But now she has a housing problem. The three-storey farmhouse is beginning to creak at the joints and Miss St. Jean has plans for a $10,000 addition but insufficient funds.

If help is forthcoming Miss St. Jean plans to start on the addition to the farm before winter sets in.

HALTON JUNIORS PROMINENT AT "EX"

The winning of a red ribbon at practically any show is a real achievement but to win one at the Canadian National Exhibition and to follow this up by winning the grand championship over all breeds, is indeed a major triumph. This was the achievement of Katherine Merry, Oakville, with her Short-horn steer, "Louie". Katherine is a member of Halton's 4-H Beef and Dual Purpose Club, and she and her steer will be seen at Milton on September 25th.

Other Halton members or former 4-H Club Members, who competed in the same competition at the CNE were Alex (Sandy) Buchanan, John Willmott, and John R. Black.

Rosehill's Hampshires
As usual J. H. Willmott and Son, Milton, were prominent in the strong Hampshire show at the CNE. Altogether the Rosehill flock took 11 prizes and among these were two seconds and three thirds. This, while hardly up to their wins of former years, nevertheless is no mean achievement at a show like the CNE.

Stan May Prominent
Stan May, of Hornby, was the only Halton exhibitor in the Percheron show at the CNE but he made an excellent showing. Of five horses entered, Mr. May won no less than nine prizes. Among his more prominent wins were a 2nd and three 3rds.

Valley Crest Clydesdales
Valley Crest Farms, of Palermo for many years noted for their outstanding Clydesdales, while not out with as large an entry as in former years, were nevertheless prominent winners. On the three horses entered, manager Bert Berry brought home five awards. Numbered among these were one First, and two Seconds.

BANDS AND VARIETY AT ACTON FALL FAIR

Acton Fair, on Friday and Saturday this week, again offers a big two-day program starting with the arena show and featuring the 11th Field Regiment Band and a colorful variety show.

The Saturday program, in addition to the big show and parade of livestock, presents a midway, road race and Mrs. Lightle and her trained pony. In the evening donkey baseball will be featured in the arena and a dance in the town hall.

Four Bridal Attendants at Arnott-Hutchinson Wedding Last Month

Margaret Elizabeth (Betty) Hutchinson became the bride of Delbert Henry Arnott in Home United Church on August 28th with Rev. A. R. Muir officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. William A. Hutchinson, Cheltenham and the late Mr. Hutchinson; and the groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Hunter H. Arnott, Streetsville. Mrs. Edgar Gowland, Brampton, played the wedding music and Miss Jean Newhouse, Cheltenham, sang The Lord's Prayer and O Lord Most Holy.

Entering the church with her brother William J. Hutchinson, the bride wore a gown of camellia white imported nylon tulle over satin, fashioned with a fitted bodice, long sleeves pointed over the hands and folds of tulle forming a V neckline. Bouffant skirt and bodice were appliqued with scrolls of french alien-on lace, scattered with iridescent paillettes. The skirt was made with layers of tulle over satin and formed a chapel train. Her fingertip veil of white illusion tulle was held by a crown embellished with gleaming pearls and she carried a cascade bouquet of white orchids and stephanotis.

Gowned alike in cocktail length gowns of Margaret Rose limelight and carrying bouquets of giant white mums, bridal attendants were Mrs. John McClure, Georgetown, the bride's sister, matron of honour, Misses Helen Devereaux, Montreal, and Anna May Hutchinson, bridesmaids. Lynda May Hutchinson was flower girl and wore a gown of carnation pink taffeta.

Peter McKellar, Toronto, was groomsmen and ushers were Gerald Graham, Georgetown and Clare Hutchinson, Cheltenham. The reception was held at Hilltop Lodge, Erin.

For the wedding trip to Haliburton, the bride wore a green gabardine suit with brown and tangerine accessories and a corsage of tangerine gladioli. Mr and Mrs Arnott are residing on the groom's farm at Streetsville.

Lynda shows typical little girl interest in her mother's telephone call, that's 18 month-old Donna, perched on her back there.

A bargain for Mrs. Renaud...

"When you have to do everything for two small children it's not easy to leave the house even for essential shopping," says Mrs. Bernard Renaud of 755 Desaulniers Blvd., St. Lambert, Que.

"I've really appreciated our telephone in the last few years. It means I can still pick up bargains I see in the paper and do my shopping in a matter of minutes... by telephone. So, my phone saves me money and gives me time to do other things that crowd my busy day. That's why I think one of the best bargains I ever bought was our telephone!"

"Nightgowns" for
FIRE-FIGHTERS

WIDE-AWAKE fire departments may soon be turned out in a new heat-resisting suit built on the general lines of the old-fashioned nightgown. Made of reflective aluminum foil, this outfit gives the hook-and-ladder lads a lot more protection from extreme heat.

Canadian farmers have the same idea when they build their barns of aluminum sheet. Not only is aluminum fire-resistant but it also keeps barns cooler in summer because it reflects the heat of the sun; and in winter reflects back into the barn heat that would otherwise escape. In fact you might say that in the products of Canada's aluminum industry are reflected countless aids to better living — on the farm and in the city. In your own
