Tran and McLaughlin Canadian Champ Plowmen

Two Ontario farmers will travel to Sweden next year to represent Canada in the third annual world tractor plowing match. They are Joe Tran, 37, of Claremont, and Ivan McLaughlin, 50, of Stouffville, winner and runner-up in the annual Canadian plowing championship, which was held at Ballantrae, 30 miles northeast of Toronto, after bad weather forced its postponement at the 41st International Plowing Match at Breslau, near Kitchener, Ont.

In addition to the trip abroad, Tran won the Esso Silver Plow, symbol of Canadian plowing supremacy, which will be held for a year by his provincial group, the Ontario Plowmen's Association.

This year's Canadian championship was contested by two plowmen from each of the provinces of Ontario, Manitoba and British Columbia.

Tran scored 83 points out of a possible 100, McLaughlin 81 points. In third place with 78½ points, was a 14-year-old lad, Gerald Lytle of Portage la Prairie, who captured the western Canada plowing championship at Manitoba's provincial matches in the Portage area last June. Alan Werbiski, also of Portage la Prairie, was fourth with 76 points.

Fifth and Sixth, respectively, were the contestants from Chilliwack, B.C., Tom Hickman, with 73 and B.C. champion Henry Thomson, with 72½ points.

Tran's Canadian championship victory comes after 22 years of competitive plowing, during which time he has amassed a large array of trophies, medals and other prizes, including two silver medals and one gold medal from Imperial Oil for prowess in the Esso class competitions. With the gold medal he captured at the 1953 International, Tran also won a trip to Portage la Prairie, Man., where he took part in the provincial competition. A Holstein farmer, he lives with his wife and four children on the Claremont farm where he was born.

The runner-up, Ivan McLaughlin, who is reeve of Whitechurch, Ont., has been a friendly rival of Tran's in plowing competition for many years. He defeated Tran in the Ontario championship class only a few days before the Canadian championship contest.

Tran, McLaughlin and W. C. Barrie of Galt, a director of the Ontario Plowmen's Association who has been chosen their team manager, will make the trip overseas as guests of Imperial Oil.

Crack plowmen from more than a dozen nations are expected to compete in Sweden for the Esso Golden Plow, a perpetual trophy awarded each year to the world's best tractor plowman. It was won in October this year by Hugh Barr of Northern Ireland and in 1953 by James Eccles of Brampton, Ont.
