NORVAL JUNIORS HEAR TALK ON CHANGEOVER

The Norval Junior Farmers held their meeting at the home of Ralph and Barbara Cunningham last Wednesday evening, when the boys' section heard an address on the 60-cycle changeover by a hydro official, and the girls' had the Public Health Nurse for Halton, Miss Nevitt tell about the grounding needed for a nursing course, and about the actual course itself. When the groups joined, they enjoyed films on the hydro conversion, and many amusing anecdotes which happened during the changeover. At the end of the meeting, Mrs. Cunningham served lunch. The December meeting will be held at the home of Howson Ruddell.

flood victims." Mrs. W. Lawson and Mrs. Armstrong were hostesses for the lunch. Junior Choir will hold practice in St. John's Church, Wednesday at 7.30 p.m.

Inquest Into Death of Mrs. J. Denton

An inquest will be held to ascertain the cause of the death of Mrs. John Denton, 62, who was found unconscious Sunday morning, Oct. 24. It is thought that Mrs. Denton, who had very poor eyesight, fell down her basement steps. She died in Guelph Hospital, Oct. 30. Her home was on No. 7 Highway, before the Silvercreek Hill. She had lived alone there, since the death of her husband four years ago. The late Mr. Denton, who worked in Galt, was known throughout this district for the thoroughbred spaniels he raised and sold through his "Loxley Kennels" at his home. Mrs. Denton had sold the Kennels after his death. Mr. and Mrs. Denton moved here fourteen years ago. A private funeral was held for Mrs. Denton from the McClure Funeral Home, November 2nd. Messrs. Albert Dawson, town, and Walter Higg, Glen Williams, were among the pallbearers. Surviving Mrs. Denton is a sister, Mrs. Tutt of Guelph.

WILLIAM E. BRECKON, of Burlington, is World Wheat King of 1954 at the Royal Winter Fair, winning the grand prize after seven firsts and a second in eight years of exhibiting.

Former Resident Thos. Bulger Dies

Member of one of Georgetown's early families, Thomas Bulger was buried in the family plot in Greenwood Cemetery on October 30th. He died in Woodstock the previous Thursday. His father, Pat Bulger will be remembered by older residents during the days when he was a teamster and hauled express and freight from the station. A bachelor, Mr. Bulger is survived by a sister, Violet, Mrs. H. Cooper and two brothers Bev and Mel.

Funeral mass was celebrated in the Church of St. Paul the Apostle in Toronto that morning, and Rev. Fr. V. J. Morgan, pastor of the local Holy Cross Church conducted a graveside service here.

Harvey Copland Wins $50. Bond

Harvey Copland of Georgetown, was the winner of a $50.00 bond at the monthly meeting of the general membership of the Halton Riding CCF Association. The attendance draw took place at the home of Gus Frenzel, 100 Felan Ave., Oakville. Stanley Allen, CCF candidate for Halton was also present. After laying plans for pre-election work to be done this fall and winter, and receiving reports from members of clubs in the Burlington and Georgetown areas, the members enjoyed a meal of hamburgs, coffee and cake provided by Mrs. Frenzel.
