• Legion Notes •

Well, Christmas is just around the corner, and that means a fairly busy time for the Branch.

First and foremost, there is the annual Christmas Tree scheduled for a week Thursday night, December 23. This is always a big night in the lives of the Legion youngsters, so do your part by bringing them out. The committee looking after the tree have done a fine job, everything seems to be in apple pie order, so be on hand for this big evening. Time 7:15 and try to be there promptly, as there's a lot of ground to be covered that evening and the various age groups have to be run off promptly.

Members are requested to turn in their Christmas Tree draw stubs not later than this Saturday. Please try and remember this, fellows.

The New Year's Eve party is pretty well arranged and it is hoped to once again bring out a bumper crowd of members for this big affair. Each year this has become a bigger success and we hope to see this year top all others.

Darts and crib seem to still be managing to pack 'em in on Wednesday nights and on Saturday afternoons. It is good to see the number of boys who are attending these affairs.

The Hockey Committee have got the Kid Hockey off to a great start as in former years, and they deserve a lot of credit for their efforts. After all, it's a considerable sacrifice to be on hand every Saturday morning at the Arena, to run this hockey. Incidentally, we believe the boys could do with a few more volunteers. See Bud James or Frank Conely for details.
