Will Start Landfill Garbage Disposal Soon

Georgetown's new system of landfill garbage disposal will be adopted within a month if present plans work out.

Advertising for an operator for the new machine, council reviewed 14 applications at Thursday's meeting, and chose three men for interview at the next council meeting January 31st.

Possible sites for starting the landfill were also discussed, such as Normandy Blvd. ravine, town owned property behind the sewage disposal plant and land on the McClure farm which has been offered by Rex Hepler.

Cr. Harry Hale proposed buying rat poison to rid the present dump in the park of these pests, and a 500 lb. order of Warfarin was ordered.

The mayor, reeve and deputy reeve will represent Georgetown on the urban board, where representatives from Acton, Milton and Georgetown meet monthly to discuss problems of mutual interest.

Cr. Walter Gray said traffic lights at the downtown four corners will be a necessity in future, and once again proposed banning U turns at Church and Main.

Mentioning a traffic tie-up the day before New Year's when traffic in all directions had been jammed for some time, Mr. Gray said he had asked the provincial police for traffic direction on Main St every Friday, and this has helped greatly. Cost of traffic lights is estimated at $2,000.

When Reeve Allen read parts of a letter from Neptune Meters, explaining how the water system can pay its way through meters, he said that 110 users have to pay $22,000 one way or another in order not to have the system subsidized by the general tax rate. The reeve has been an outspoken advocate of dropping the meter system for flat rates.

The deputy reeve wondered if it is feasible to have a system where an initial cost of $25 for meter installed must be met by water users, and also indicated that he favours flat rates.

The question will be debated at a later meeting.

Hunter Spots Wolf In Georgetown Park

A few days after reporting shooting of the first wolf in this district in many years at Norval Station a local man tells us he saw a wolf right in town limits.

Bert Colman, William St., was hunting rabbits one day last week, and was in the swamp at the end of the park behind E. B. Swackhamer's home, when the animal appeared momentarily. Mr. Colman is quite sure of his identification.

He took a large wolf was shot by a fox hunting party, Sid Morris, Andy Critchton and Herb Woodring who will claim the provincial and county bounty for their catch.
