—Telegram Photo

Mrs. Daisy Graydon, widow of Gordon Graydon, has been appointed the judge of the Peel County Juvenile and Family Court.

She will replace Judge T. H. Moorehead, who resigned last month but who has been carrying on temporarily since that time.

Born at Stayner, the former Daisy Giffen, Mrs. Graydon is a graduate of Toronto Normal School. She taught in Nottawasaga Township and Pape Avenue School, Toronto, before coming to Brampton.

Two daughters, Carol, an art specialist in Brampton District High School, and Leone, a teacher at the Gordon Graydon Public School, are following in their mother's school teaching profession.

A third daughter, Pat, is at McMaster University. She hopes to enter social service work.

Mrs. Graydon had a keen interest in welfare work during the many years her husband served as MP in Ottawa.

"My new position will give me the opportunity to serve in the most worthwhile work," remarked Mrs. Graydon. "It will be a challenge, but I feel I am doing the right thing in taking it."

Full House Two Nights For Cooking School

One of the finest cooking schools yet held in Georgetown was conducted by the Canada Packers Cooking School for the Ladies section of the Esqueping Agricultural Society and held in St. John's Memorial Hall last Wednesday and Thursday evenings. The school was conducted by Miss Elizabeth McKinnon, home economist for Canada Packers, who excelled in her preparation and presentation of the recipes on the printed program. McClure's Home Furnishings supplied Frigidaire refrigerator and stove for the school and many local and district merchants gave donations for prize giveaways.

Winner of the door prize, also donated by McClure's, was Mrs. Jack Teeter, the two turkeys, donated by Willits Turkey Farm were won by Mrs. Wilfrid Bird and Mrs. Jack McCarron of Hornby. The large ham donated by Canada Packers went to Mrs. Ted Stigger.
