

Mackenzie News

Oh, well, Sundridge is just a bit too far to go to hockey games anyway. The most economical of decorating finishes is gypex texture paint. A 10 lb. box costs $1.65 per box and covers an average of 70 square feet making the cost 2 1/3 cents per square ft. It comes in white, ivory, buff, blue, green, pink and silver grey. It is ideal for covering cracked ceilings or walls where the plaster is still firm but the cracks unsightly. Also it is ideal over a gypox ceiling to hide the joints.

Isn't it remarkable how much March weather we are having this month?

Weavers Guild Resume At Arts, Crafts Meet

The Georgetown Arts and Crafts held their March meeting last Thursday at the home of Mrs. Arthur Beaumont, Glen Williams. The members were welcomed by the president, Mrs. Cyril Brandford.

Due to rapid growth of the club since its organization, it was considered necessary to review the laws and by-laws. The afternoon was spent revising the motions passed since 1942.

Mrs. Brandford congratulated Mrs. Era Hatkin on her achievements again this year at the London and District Exhibition of hand weaving. Mrs. Hatkin won first prize for an evening bag and honourable mention for place mat.

Mrs. D. W. Baxter gave an interesting account of the display of work at the London Exhibition and Mrs. Hatkin spoke of the various woven articles exhibited.

A stimulating resume of the Weavers' Guild was given by Mrs. Leslie Clark. This guild was formed nearly a year ago to further the craft of weaving. There are sixteen members under the presidency of Miss Laura Treble.

Two members of the Arts & Crafts, Winnifred Watson and Wilma Stull, exhibited work at the public library in March. Both ladies are graduates of the Ontario College of Art. Those who attended the annual exhibition and sale of the Arts and Crafts held last October had an opportunity to observe Miss Watson demonstrating the technique of oil painting.

The meeting was moved adjourned, followed by an enjoyable tea hour. Mrs. Beaumont was assisted by Mrs. D. W. Baxter, Mrs. Wallace Thompson, Mrs. R. H. Wright, Mrs. M. H. Moyer, Mrs. John Glynn, and Mrs. J. F. Gillis. Tea was poured by Mrs. D. Langwood and Mrs. S. Matheon.

Miss Dorothy Stone moved a vote of thanks to the hostess and her assistants.
