Blasts Hong Kong Canvas Shoe Imports

"Coolie wages in Hong Kong footwear factories are robbing Canadian workmen of half a million hours of employment in the Canadian footwear industry each year," N. A. Kilian, General Manager of the Footwear Division of B. F. Goodrich of Canada told the New Hamburg Board of Trade last week.

He said that the threat of mass imports of rubber-soled canvas shoes had grown to "alarming proportions" and imperilled the very existence of Canada's canvas footwear industry.

Mr. Kilian explained that imported rubber-soled canvas shoes, largely from Hong Kong, had accounted for 35 per cent of total sales in Canada during 1954. "In six years, imports have risen from 2,000 pairs in 1949 to a million pairs last year. If the trend continues at its present rate, the Canadian industry will be forced out of existence in a matter of a few years," he stated.

"Wages, costs and selling prices of Hong Kong merchandise are based on standards far below the Canadian economy, and against which we cannot possibly compete. This is proven by the 1952 figures which show an average wage for a Hong Kong footwear worker as 45 to 75 cent a day as against a Canadian wage at that time of $1.40 an hour. The situation is further aggravated by the terms of the Most Favoured Nations Tariff under which the foreign-made footwear enters Canada," Mr. Kilian said.

He urged the government to place a reasonable value on the imported footwear for duty purposes so that the Canadian-produced article could compete on a more equitable basis.

"Nearly half a million man hours of employment were lost last year through the importation of a million pairs of rubber-canvas footwear, in addition to an estimated four hundred and eighty thousand dollars in Canadian materials such as cotton fabrics, chemicals, shoe findings, and reclaimed and synthetic rubber," said the rubber company executive.

Nurse, Armstrong Champs At Bacon and Seed Show

He added that Canadian exports of rubber-soled canvas shoes had shrunk from well over 2 million pairs in 1947 to only 15 thousand pairs in 1954, and this changed market was entirely due to competition from low wage area nations. He said that the domestic market of Canada could support the present footwear industry if unfair competition is eliminated.

"If rubber soled canvas shoes are brought into this country at a fair market value and placed in a fairly competitive position, the technical skill of Canadian labour and industry will prove the superiority of Canadian-produced merchandise," he said.

Mr. Kilian commented that a stepped-up immigration program is vital for our domestic market, but warned that Canadian industry must provide jobs for the new citizens. "We cannot provide these jobs if we are faced with increasing competition from low wage area countries. It will do little good to import low-price footwear from foreign nations, produced at a fantastically low wage rate, if Canadian workmen themselves are forced out of work and have no money to purchase. Certainly, we must have imports in order to export our raw material and our other manufactured goods, but let us make sure that imports are competitive with Canadian standards. We must make sure that in allowing merchandise to come into our country, we are not importing a depression at the same time," Mr. Kilian concluded.

Haltom's annual Seed Fair & Bacon Show brought out a total of 65 exhibitors at the Milton Town Hall, on Friday and Saturday. Due to drought conditions of mid-1954, the entries in the seed fair were somewhat lighter than in former years. In the grain show the ten bushel class in oats brought out the heaviest entry, with thirteen lots. Fred Nurse had the champion entry in the open show on his bushel of Laramie oats, with the reserve going to R. A. Hurren and Sons' entry of red clover seed. Both were exceptionally choice lots according to Prof. Jas. Laughland of the Dept. of Field Husbandry, Guelph, and Glenn Anderson of the Field Crops Branch, who were the official judges.

The winners in the various classes of the seed show were as follows:
Early Oats — 1st Fred Nurse, Ashgrove; 2nd Calvin Aitken, Acton; 3rd Woodlands Orchards, Bronte; 4th M. T. McNabb and Sons, Georgetown.

Palermo Club Tops

The Haltom Junior Farmer inter-club educational display section, which has been a highlight of Haltom Seed Fair over the past 5 or 6 years, was again a real credit to the three clubs participating, Acton, Milton and Palermo. The latter was prizewinner.

Bacon Show Award

The officers and directors of the Haltom Hog Producers can be proud of their 1955 Bacon Show. It was the responsibility of the township directors to select the five live hogs to represent their respective township. The directors of Trafalgar Township proved to be the best judges of how their live hogs would look on the rail. In all 17 of the 20 hogs graded A, or in other words, 85 per cent of the hogs selected made the A grade.

Howard Armstrong had the grand champion carcass, with the reserve going to Percy Merry.

Those who contributed the five hogs in the Trafalgar township's winning display were as follows:
Howard Armstrong, Percy Merry, V. B. Bradley, Clayton May and Rayner Bros.

The Bacon Show was made possible as a result of the cooperation of officials of Canada Packers Ltd. and also of the Canada Dept. of Agriculture. In next week's Herald, we will give some of the highlights of Saturday's programme, which will include the Junior Farmer Judging competitions.

ANGLICANS OBSERVE PALM SUNDAY

The Anglican parish will observe Palm Sunday in true style on Sunday, as congregations meet in worship and prayer to think on the entry of the Blessed Lord into Jerusalem in Triumph. Palms will adorn the churches and pieces of the Palm Branches will be distributed. The preacher for the day will be the rector, Rev. Kenneth Richardson.

REMEMBER THE "PERSONALS"

Easter is always a time for visits and visiting. The Herald will appreciate a call next week with items for the Social and Personal column.
