IODE Plans Welcome For New Canadians

A social evening for New Canadian ladies is being planned in the Legion auditorium on April 26th. Members of Countess of Strathmore Chapter, IODE will be hosts, repeating a similar party last year to welcome newcomers from Britain and the continent to Georgetown.

Another item planned at Monday's meeting which was held at the home of the regent, Miss Ruth Evans, was the annual dinner which will be held May 9th in St. John's Memorial Hall.

Mrs. Thomas Beer was welcomed as a new member. Twenty-five dollars was voted to the Lucy Morrison memorial fund and $20 will be given to the local library for books. Jean Mackenzie reported on treats sent to the girls at Cedarvale School for Easter. Mrs. Wm. Hamilton gave a report on a meeting which she attended to discuss possibility of a hospital for Georgetown. Mrs. H. J. Newman and Mrs. Ron Kitchen will attend the next meeting. Georgetown will be represented at the annual meeting of the provincial chapter in Hamilton next week. Hostesses assisting Miss Evans were Mrs. Robert Wicks, Mrs. Sam Mackenzie, Mrs. Ron Kitchen, Mrs. Val Stein, Mrs. Howard Wrigglesworth and Mrs. Norman Herbert.

Fifty Young People Attend Dawn Service

Some fifty young Georgetowners were up bright and early on Easter Sunday morning when members of the Young People's Unions of three local churches planned a 7.00 ant. sunrise service in First Baptist Church. - The group included young people from Knox Presbyterian, St. John's United and First Baptist. Bill Whitney conducted it, assisted by Barbara Lindsay, reading scripture and Philip Clappison leading in prayer. Arlene Reeve and Douglas Peck sang a duet "It was Alone." Rev. Alfred Barker preached the measage for the service, centering his thoughts upon the "All Hall" or "Good Morning" the disciples had on the first Easter morn.

Several of the disciples had forsaken Jesus and they were filled with despair and blackness as their master had gone from them. Hearing that he had risen from the tomb. they went to see for themselves and met Jesus who said "Good Morning." Now their darkness turned to victory and triumph, because sin and death had been conquered and power given for future generations to rise and seek eternal life. Rev. Morgan McFarlane pronounced the benediction.

Pollowing the service, the group went to Knox Church where breakfast was served. It is expected that this will become an annual event.

Easter Bunny, Clown Appear at Church Tea

The Easter theme was carried out in mauve and yellow decorations, attractive table centrepieces, spring flowers, and a mischievous Easter bunny and clown, at the annual Easter tea and sale of doll-clothes, held by the Daughters of St. George's in the church school yesterday.

A large number of children and adults attended, and all the various attractions at the event were well patronized. Mrs. Bert Gilmer - was in charge of arrangements for the tes, with Mrs. Ed. Wilson and Mrs. Joseph Gibbons in charge the day of the tea. The rector's wife, Mrs. Kenneth Richardson, Mrs. Wilson and Mrs. Thomas Eason poured tea at a table attractively decorated with daffodils and yellow tapers

Mrs. Ted Stigger and Mrs. Wilfred Mino were in charge of the sale of doll clothes and accessories. Mrs. Rodney King had the parcel post table, Mrs K Kidd and Mrs. Harry Adams ran the "Bran Pie" for the kiddies, Mrs Fred Armstrong, Jr., assisted by Mrs Ross Simmons conducted an archery contest for children, and Mrs Thomas Eason was in charge of the home-baking and candy table.

The children had a special tea convened by Mrs. J. L. Lambert, assisted by Mrs. John Staines and Mrs. E. Barnes. The table was prettily decorated in Easter colours and centered by a rabbit pulling a cart of coloured eggs. The "live" Easter bunny and clown were impersonated by David Smith and David Hiddle-

The choir sang the anthem "Hallelujah, Now is Christ Risen," Mr. Edgar Gowland a solo, "Open the Gates of the Temple" and a mixed quartet made up of Mrs. Vic Torrance, Mrs W T Cromer, Richard Packer and Edgar Gowland sang "Were You There?" Mr. Calder's sermon was on the Easter theme, "Tragedy and Triumph."

At the evening service the choir sang the anthem "Laft Up Your Hands" and Mrs. John McClure sang a solo, "Consider the Lilies."

FIVE GRASS FIRES OCCUPY FIREMEN

Eight weeks of inactivity for Georgetown Fire Department ended last week end, when grass fires in town and the Glen resulted in five calls. A township call Saturday to Dolly Varden was to a garbage dump on property owned by Mrs. Angus Mc-Donald. Church services were interrupted twice on Sunday morning by the siren, with firemen going first to railway property beside Harold Cleave's farm where fire has broken out on previous occasions, and half an hour later to a grass fire which threatened a heathouse on James McIlwrath's property on Maple Ave. E.

Sunday afternoon, a grass fire originating in Glen Williams was checked when it geached behind Harry Logan's and Mendowglen Growers. Monday nood, the fifth call came to a grass fire behind Sherman Handy's on River Drive.

Curlers Elect Officers Annual Dinner Meeting

Last Thursday evening 45 men of the Georgetown Curling Club met in the Legion Auditorium for their annual meeting and dinner. The Ladies Auxiliary of the Legion catered, serving a roast turkey dinner.

Following dinner, the election of officers for the coming year was held, with Past President Nels Robinson chairing the meeting. Those elected were George Cleave, president; Dick Licata, vice-president, and Bob Darou, secretary-treasurer.

Lions Club members have been involved for some time in preliminary work connected with the erection of # swimming pool in Georgetown. Plans are sufficiently well advanced now to anyounce to the public the progress which has been made.

Members of the club have arranged for the purchase of the land behind the arena from the Buck Estate. The old slaughter house has already Been torn down. Plans are on the drawing board for the pool, filtration and purification system and dressing rooms.

Estimated cost of the 'project is $50,000. The Lions hope that other organizations and all the people of Georgetown and district will support this effort. They have a very good fund to start with and will be raising more money at every opportunity.

l'eanut day will be the first major enterprise this year, and all money raised that day will be earmarked for the pool. Work has begun on a large "Fund Thermometer" for the four corners on Main Street.

Six Easter Services Town, Glen Anglicans

Over 350 members of St. George's and St Alban's Anglican Churches received communion Easter Sunday. All six services were well attended with people standing for the eleven o'clock one. Rev. Kenneth Richardson's sermon centred around the Resurrection with the emphasis being, on victory over death.

The children of the Sunday School were shown a coloured picture on the Easter story and also a soundcolour movie, "God's Wonder Film". They were all given Easter crosses and attended the 11 o'clock service when they presented their Lenten

In the afternoon Mr. Richardson performed three baptisms - Kevin Douglas, son of Mr. and Mrs. Doug Townsend; Michael James, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Sargent and Richard Lleweyllyn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hawksby.

BABY'S CRIES ROUTE THIEVES AT GARAGE

Monday night thieves broke into Bert McMenemy's garage by breaking a pane of glass in the garage door to reach the lock. It looked as though they planned to take a truck in the garage but as the battery was dead they contented themselves with taking odds and ends within easy reach.

Mrs. McMenemy was awakened around 4 o'clock by their baby erying and thinks the thieves were frightened by the light being switched on as she heard a car drive away.

Brampton Youth Killed In Silvercreek Accident

Make Staff Changes At Provincial Mill

A new man has joined the staff at Provincial Paper, Ltd., with Lawrence Maughan taking a position as
