GOLF CLUB OPENING PLANNED SATURDAY

Golfers were out in force last weekend to test their skill for the first time this season at North Halton club. Rain Sunday afternoon curtailed the late starters.

Members are looking forward to the formal opening day next Saturday, when tournaments are being arranged during the afternoon and a party in the evening in the clubhouse. The club is advertising for more members, and full information is available from secretary James F. Evans.

Peanut Day Funds For Swimming Pool

CHURCH MEN ATTEND TUESDAY DINNER

Over seventy men of St. George's Anglican church, with visitors from Glen Williams and Norval, attended a turkey supper last night in the church basement, followed by an evening of informal entertainment.

Highlights of the program included movies of local scenes, shown by Don Barrager and a fashion show, with models displaying what wives may be wearing next season. Jack Gunning was commentator for the fashion show and those taking part modelled costumes for boudoir, beach, kitchen and evening wear. Jim Sargent, John Ireland, Bill McNally, Gordon Spence, Alf Sykes and Cecil Davidson were in the cast. Like a real show, there were prizes too, all of novel types supposedly donated by merchant members of the church.

Stan Finlay, president of the men's brotherhood, was dinner chairman. Head table guests included Rev. Kenneth Richardson, Rev. J. E. Maxwell, church wardens Harry Savings, Edwin Wilson and Joseph Eason, and Mayor Jack Armstrong.

A church quiz puzzle, created by Stan Finlay, kept members guessing as the catering group, the Daughters of the Church, cleared the tables after dinner. Bill Frestone won a prize with the lucky dinner ticket. John Ireland gave a humorous monologue and a balloon game provided some fun to end the evening.
