Mrs. Stringer Explains Tattooing as a Hobby

Mrs. Vern Pickett was hostess for the W.I. meeting on Tuesday afternoon, May 17th. The president, Mrs. W. Bird opened with the ode and creed. Flower convener, Mrs. Murray Bridgen reported the cards of thanks from the sick folks. Mrs. W. Bird gave a very full report of the day she had attended the officer's conference at the OAC in Guelph on May 12th. Programme was in charge of Mrs. Percy Leslie, who called on Mrs. John Ruddell for the motto "A community is like a ship, everyone should be prepared to take the helm." Piano selection by Vern Pickett. Mrs. Bob Alexander gave some thoughts from the TB banquet held in Trafalgar Hall in April and told of the ways the seal money is used and how the largest amount goes to the Hamilton San. It has always been the greatest killer and in the olden days meant slow death but by x-ray and newer methods it is being detected and can be cured if found in time. Current events were given by Mrs. C. B. Dick. A pleasing duet was sung by Susan and Chris Canham after which Mrs. W. Stringer demonstrated tattooing, also a place mat made from a feed bag and a rug made from ordinary string. This was all very interesting and inspiring to the ladies to go home and try their skill at making these things. A social hour closed this pleasant afternoon.

At the church service on Sunday morning Rev. J. L. Blair of Milton conducted the sacrament of the Lord's Supper. Three young people were received into membership, Evelyn Gertrude Bird, Robert Ward Ruddell and Thomas Allan Brownridge. Also three babies were baptized, Lorne George Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Wilson, Ann Marie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chris Paulin and Dale Floyd, son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Bridgen who wore the hand-made christening gown that his grandfather Clayton was baptized in. After the service, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Bridgen entertained at a dinner at their home and among the guests were Mrs. John Clayton, great grandmother of baby Dale Bridgen and Edward Bridgen, a great uncle.

Mrs. Harold Coulson and daughter Linda Pearl of Milton were week-end guests with her sister, Mrs. Horace Barnes and family.

School Paper Staff Fetes Miss Parkinson

Entertaining for Miss Dorothy Parkinson, who has been staff editor of High Tales this year, members of the high school paper staff had a picnic supper Thursday at the home of editor Don Souther.

Miss Parkinson, who is leaving Georgetown to be married in June, was presented with book ends by the students, and then Gerald Scott officiated at a novel "shower" of things which might be useful in her new home in Oakville.

Prior to the party, the group was taken on a tour of the Herald shop where they saw how a paper is produced.

Members who made the tour were Don Souther, Bill Hardman, Ross McGilvray, Richard Slenko, Terry Harley, Doug Wrigglesworth, Bob Hill, Sue Crabtree, Leanne Davou, Lyn Treleven, Sheila Carney, Paul Frost, now a student at Ryerson who was one of the original editors, and Gerald Scott who will be editor next year.

Public holidays are all over, until July 1st, Dominion Day, on a Friday this year.
