LEGION NOTES

SUNDAY IS THE DAY and we are all hoping that everyone of the 400 odd members will be on hand for that very important occasion, the Decoration Day parade. The time is at 2:00 o'clock at the Legion Hall with the actual service taking place at 2:30 in Greenwood Cemetery.

There are at least two bands taking part, the Lorne Scots Brass Band and the Georgetown Girls' Pipe Band, as well as any visiting branches who may decide to bring their own bands. Neighbouring branches have been invited, and it is hoped that they will respond in the large numbers that they usually do. We know we can always count on the Acton Branch for a good representation, as they always turn out in large numbers for any affair we have. We expect that a good number will be on hand from Milton as well, and also from other branches around the zone. This parade was cancelled last year, but we hope will be carried on annually in the future.

Quite a number of local organizations have expressed intentions of taking part and this will add to the service. There are a great many of those Comrades who have gone to the great beyond buried in Greenwood Cemetery, and it is only fitting that they should be remembered once a year by a ceremony such as this.

So try and make a point, Comrades, to turn out in full force for this affair. After all, Branch 120 does not ask you to appear on many parades, so why not make this a one-hundred per cent effort for each and every member.

Arrangements have been made with the W.A. to serve lunch to those taking part in the parade.

Hog Direction Program Starts in September

A program whereby hogs can be directed to the best market in accordance with demand has become a necessity in Ontario and will be instituted in mid-September, according to Chas. McInnis, President of the Ontario Hog Producers. This program is designed to strengthen the producers' bargaining position and has been necessitated by the large percentage of the hogs which were being delivered direct to packing plants. These direct deliveries were largely in response to extra payments made to truckers by packers to encourage delivery of hogs to their particular plants.

In preparation for the direction program, the Hog Producers have licensed truckers who handle hogs, their Co-Operative selling agency has been planning the establishment of new assembly yards to which hogs will be brought and from which they will be directed to the points where they are in greatest demand. Yards will be established at Windsor, London, Stratford, Barrie and Peterborough, in addition to the facilities established last year at Kitchener and the public stockyards at Toronto.

Under the new direction program, hogs picked up at the farm by a trucker will be taken to the nearest assembly yard. There, the trucker will be told to deliver them to the plant to which they have been sold—or possibly the animals may be unloaded. Facilities for proper feeding and watering of hogs are available at these yards, as well as facilities for washing and disinfecting the truck. Scales are also provided to enable the weighing of the live hogs. From these records, the marketing agency can check on the dressing percentage of hogs and gather very valuable data which can be used to the benefit of the producer. Commenting on the direction program,

Mr. McInnis said the continued large percentage of hogs delivered direct to packing plants had made it impossible for the marketing agency to bargain effectively. How can you bargain when your buyer already has the product-killed and processed in his plant, he asks. The new plan will overcome this problem since the hogs will go to the plant only after agreement has been reached on price.

The direction program will also eliminate the special payments to truckers by the packers. These payments had been made by the packers to ensure their receiving the share of hogs they needed to meet their requirements. However, this will be unnecessary now, since the only way the packer can be sure of sufficient hogs will be to bid competitively for them from the Ontario Hog Producers Co-operative—which has the responsibility of selling all Ontario hogs going for slaughter.

Elimination of these payments to truckers should enable payment of higher prices to the producer. Reports have placed them as high as $3 per hog in some cases. This meant the packer paid that amount over and above the market price, but the producer received little if any of that sum. Mr. McInnis adds that the Hog Producers have no intention of squeezing the truckers. They provide a necessary service and should receive fair payment. However, he feels the trucker is hired by the farmer, and payment for his service should only come from the farmer, who in turn should receive the full price paid for the hogs by the packer or butcher who buys them.

MALTON MONTREAL CAPETOWN

No, it's not a new air service. But a new achievement by one of your industrial neighbours, Orenda Engines Limited. For the whoosh of Orendas will soon be heard over Capetown as pilots of the South African Air Force soar aloft in Sabre 6 fighters, made in Montreal by Canadair Limited.

Why an achievement for Orenda—and therefore for Malton?

Because S.A.A.F. chose the Sabre 6 fighter as the best of all the fighters now in production anywhere for the superior punch the Sabre 6 gets from its Orenda 14—designed and built in Malton by people of this community and the surrounding area.

And that's the story of MALTON—MONTREAL—CAPETOWN.
