

MRS. ROBERT WESTFALL DIES IN BRAMPTON

Mrs. Robert Westfall, 69, died suddenly at her home in Brampton where she had resided for more than 40 years. Her husband predeceased her in January, 1945. Formerly Pearl Copeland, deceased, was born in Parry Sound district, had been married some 44 years and had resided here since her marriage. The funeral was held Friday with interment in Caesar's Cemetery, north of Brampton. She was a member of the Presbyterian Church. Surviving are two sons, Ivan and Ken, and four grandchildren, all residents of Brampton.

Pidwell-Mitchell Bridal At St. George's Church

St. George's Anglican Church was the scene Saturday morning, October 15th, of the wedding of Marina Muriel Pidwell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Pidwell, 46 Manor Road, Cambridge, England, to George Percival Mitchell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Percival Mitchell of 33 Fore Street, Troon, Camborne, England. Rev. Kenneth Richardson performed the ceremony. The bride was gowned in white lace and net with a headpiece of pearls and orange blossoms. Her bouquet was of red roses and white chrysanthemums. Patricia Cook, a friend of the bride, acted as flower girl dressed in plaid and roses, with headpiece and nosegay of roses and chrysanthemums. Mr. Louis Pengelly, a cousin of the bride, gave her in marriage. Mr. William Cook, friend of the groom acted as groomsmen. Mr. Olly Waters, a friend acted as usher. A reception was held at 29 Henry Street, Cloverdale Heights, after the ceremony. For a Niagara Falls honeymoon the bride chose a grey costume with black accessories. Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell will live at 29 Henry Street, Georgetown. Mr. Mitchell is employed as an electrician with Delrex Developments.

Toronto Minister United Anniversary Speaker

On Sunday, October 30th St. John's United Church will celebrate their 118th anniversary. According to available information the area of Georgetown was being served by ministers of the Methodist Episcopal Church as far back as 1836. The Wesleyan Methodist church was opened in the fall of 1841. For some years the two Methodist churches carried on in Georgetown until in 1883 the two Wesleyan Methodist Church and the Methodist Episcopal Church united to form the Methodist Church of Canada. The two congregations became 1 and services were held in the former Methodist Episcopal structure. In the year 1910 the Congregational Church in Georgetown (the present library building) was closed and some of its members united with the Methodist Church. In the year 1925 a union of great significance to the life of the church in Canada took place when two thirds of the Presbyterian Church of Canada, the Congregational Church of Canada and the Methodist Church of Canada voted to unite to form the United Church of Canada. With this union a large number of the members of the Presbyterian Church who favoured union united with the members of the Methodist Church to form the local congregation of The United Church of Canada. To celebrate the occasion of the 118th anniversary special services of thanksgiving and worship will be held. The anniversary speaker will be Rev. W. J. Johnston, DD, for many years minister of Eglinton United Church in Toronto. Special music is being prepared by the choir. Mr. Leslie Gillespie, baritone soloist will be singing at both services. On Tuesday evening the congregation will hold family night for the congregation with supper at 6:30 and a fine programme afterwards.

Cliff Costello, operator of the Safety Driving School in Clarkson, who has started a driving school in Georgetown and district, with Mrs. Lealie Clark, John Street, as agent. An advertisement concerning the opening of the school appears elsewhere in this issue. Mr. Costello was formerly Field Representative for the Ontario Safety League, and in that capacity has given lectures on safety to the Georgetown Schools. More recently, he was Safety Director for a large Automobile Transport Company. Mr. Costello plans his driving school as an aid to the safety programs in the towns where it is located.

Weavers Guild Meet
At Mrs. Corbett's Home

On Wednesday, October 19th, the Georgetown Weavers' Guild held their regular meeting at the home of Mrs. R. R. Corbett. This took the form of a "workshop" conducted by Mrs. R. Bannister of South Landing Craft Center in Queenston, who was introduced by the Guild's president, Miss Laura Treble. The afternoon and evening sessions kept the nine weavers who attended, completely fascinated, even during the "box lunch" supper, the talk of weaving methods, supplies, equipment and various ideas, was interesting. Mrs. Bannister conducted

THIRD WEEK MY LOW TOTAL =
LINKING 24 NUMBERS

HERE ARE THE SIMPLE RULES and INSTRUCTIONS

PUZZLE INSTRUCTIONS

- There will be four puzzles appearing in this contest during the week. Each puzzle is part of your entry and must be kept to submit with your final solution. A final entry form will appear in the newspaper on the fourth week. The final entry must be received by the contest office in Toronto on the fourth week.
- The object is to select a continuous chain in such a way that when the figures are added together you will have the LOWEST possible total.
- A continuous line may be drawn vertically or horizontally or diagonally in any direction on the board. The chain may be as long as you wish, but must include at least one number outside the board. The final total must be a 12 digit number (e.g. 12,345,678,901,234).
- There must be no break in your chain. You may not go back to the numbers already used in the chain, or diagonally past them.
- The chain must not cross or touch any other chain already selected (see example chart).
- Only one chain may be drawn on the board. All numbers in the chain will be shaded.
- IMPORTANT! BEFORE YOU START THE PUZZLE You will note there are 12 blank squares in the puzzle. These are the 12 "Lucky Link Food Features" in the ad. Check the winning chain on each of these products. The more products you check, the more points you score. HOW TO START TO SOLVE YOUR "LUCKY LINK" Remember not to put the same number in a chain. Ignore the figure indicating the number of packages for the price.
