LEGION NOTES

by Lee Clark
Charlie Day reminds every one to get their children's names on the list for the Christmas Tree that is in the Legion Hall. Remember, that he has a big job in arranging the Christmas (with his committee)—a terrific job, and all the help he can get will be appreciated. He wants ticket sellers badly, so why not offer to sell a few books for him?

The Branch padre tells us that the arrangements are all made for the Remembrance observance, and that he is hoping for a large crowd and also, of course, favourable weather. The ministerial association have decided to try a new time and this year the service will be held at 12:30 sharp at the cenotaph. Each minister, is holding a memorial service in his respective church, and then will proceed to the cenotaph to take part in the service. Each one is taking part in the service.

It is emphasized that in view of the hour, immediately after the church services, that the service MUST be prompt as to time, and will not be a long one.

Major Paul Harbov assures us that once more the local company of the Lorne Scots will take part, as also will the High School cadets, and that the usual very impressive guard of honour will be mounted at the cenotaph. Three bands, the Lorne Scots, Girls Pipe Band, and a newcomer to the Georgetown music world, the newly formed boys band, will take part, and this should certainly add to the day. It is hoped that as usual all the organizations in town that have taken part, and placed wreaths will do so again, on this very solemn and serious occasion. One of Georgetown's best known soldiers of two wars, Henry Shepherd, MBE, will as usual, marshal the parade. To make sure that the parade will be in plenty of time at the Cenotaph, he asks that it assemble before 12:15 at the Legion Hall, as he intends to move off sharply at 12:15.

So all members are asked to be on hand in lots of time and let's try and make this the best parade and service ever held in Georgetown. And to the citizens of Georgetown may we ask, please be on hand for this short but very important service. May we count on your support? Thank you.

Mrs. Tom Grieve and her committee are busy preparing for their big day on Saturday, and we hope that the weather favours them. We would ask everyone approached to help to try and do so.

Last Thursday evening saw the regular monthly meeting held in the Legion Hall, with not too large a crowd present. President Harvey Garvin, presided and the treasurer and secretary were in their respective chairs. The roll call was taken, and the minutes of the last monthly meeting were read back and adopted, and the minutes of the recent executive meetings were read for the members' information.

All the committees were heard from through their chairmen and they all gave satisfactory reports. The bingo, entertainment and sick reports were especially favourable ones.

During general business it was moved that the branch would sponsor the kid hockey again this winter, and as the town has grown until it is estimated that there will be possibly four hundreds boys eligible this winter, it seems to be quite a chore. Criticism was heard regarding improvements being made by the executive without bringing it up before a general meeting. However the president explained that they were authorized during the summer when the executive have full power to act on their own. He asked for specific complaints, but there were none. One of the comrades stated then, that if it were a mistake to make the improvements that the executive had made around the branch in the past few months, then he hoped and felt that the vast majority of the members would agree with him, that they should make a lot more mistakes, because the new improvements were certainly wonderful. Question of the dues came up, and it was unanimously decided that as of December, 1955, dues would be increased to $5.00 per year to cover the extra cost of the Legionnaire, the official organ of the Legion. Criticism was heard regarding the way Dominion Command had forced this upon all branches, however, it was pointed out that nothing could be done at present. It is hoped that the magazine, however, will be greatly improved with the increased money from subscriptions.

It was also passed that from now on memorial services for our departed comrades will be held the evening before at the funeral home. This in view of the much larger number who can be on hand in an evening, and also to shorten the graveside ceremony. A request was made that the branch purchase copies of the Dominion constitution for each member. This did not find favour with the floor and it was decided to get one copy of the same.

Short reports were given by the president on the progress of the Armistice ceremonies and the Armistice banquet. He announced that Jim Yates would be selling tickets immediately following the meeting. After the closing ceremonies, refreshments were served by Com. Alex Taylor.

Everything seems to be in order for the November 11th banquet, and all the executive have been working hard on it. It is hoped that there will be a real turn out for this affair, and that the evening will be a grand one. The evening is unique in the fact that quite a beautiful and large gift is being made to the Legion that evening by one of our biggest supporters, and we think that every member will be just as pleased with it as your executive was when they saw the sketch of it. To set this off, a drape for the stage has been ordered and the W.A., in their usual cooperative way, have ordered drapes to match. They are in gold, and what with the new paint job, will certainly add to the beauty of the place.

Entertainment has been procured for the dinner, and once again we think that you will like it very much. The ladies as always put up a real dinner, and there'll be dancing following. All for one buck!!

Darts and cribbage are once more in full swing around the rooms, and faces we haven't seen since last winter are coming around once again Saturday afternoon sees a fairly full house in the television room where the cribbage games are held.

Comrades! We've been asked to remind you of your dues. Please check the board and if you are behind a lit-

County Masonic Lodges Hear Grand Jr. Warden

Last Tuesday evening, October 25th, was the occasion of the annual Halton County Night of the Masonic Lodges, AF & AM, in this county. This year the honour of holding the evening, came to Credit Lodge, Georgetown.

Members of lodges from Milton, Acton, Burlington, Oakville and Campbellville lodges were present, as well as the district deputy, Rt. Wor. Bro. Ross McKay, Hillsburgh.

The evening was held in the Legion auditorium, with the W.A. catering for a turkey supper.

Speaker for the evening was a well known Toronto lawyer and parliamentarian, Donald Fleming, QC, MP. Mr. Fleming is the year Grand Junior Warden of the Masonic Lodge in Ontario. He gave a very inspiring address based on "Citizenship." Entertainment was provided by Ken Harrison at the piano, Sylvia Diggins on the piano accordion, and Michael Armstrong, baritone, all local artists, who added to the enjoyment of the evening.

The introduction of the guests was done by the master of Credit Lodge, Walter Pidler, who was chairman for the evening.

Rt. Wor. Bro. E. V. MacCormack proposed the toast to the visitors, responded to by the worshipful masters of the eight Halton lodges. The toast to Grand Lodge was proposed by Wor. Bro. C. C. Scheer and responded to by Rt. Wor. Bro. Ross McKay. Rt. Wor. Bro. Donald Fleming was introduced by Very Wor. Bro. R. M. Smith of Oakville, and the ladies who catered were thanked by the senior warden, Bro. J. Evans. Junior Warden Tom Niven concluded the evening with the Senior Warden's toast.

Canada's labour income reached an all-time peak of $11,900,000,000 in 1954.
