Nativity Services at Two Anglican Churches

Perhaps the largest attendance in years marked the Nativity services at St. George's and St. Alban's Anglican churches.

St. George's held the customary midnight choral communion on Christmas Eve, with the choir singing Handel's anthem "The Glory of the Lord" and leading worshippers in Christmas carols. The church was decorated with evergreens and poinsettias and in each window torchbearers supported candles which lit the church.

A family service was held at 9:45 Christmas morning with junior choirs of boys and girls leading the music. The girls sang "Break Forth O Beautiful Heavenly Light" and the boys "Unto Us a Child is Born." The rector spoke to the children on the real meaning of Christmas and Christmas gifts.

At Glen Williams liturgical gifts given by the Canon Wallace junior guild were dedicated, foam rubber scarlet covered kneelers for the altar rail and two white satin kneeling cushions for holy confirmation and matrimony services. Chairs had to be brought in to accommodate the overflow congregation.
