Congratulations, Mr. Warden

Elevation of Stan Allen to the county wardenship yesterday confers not only an honour on one of Georgetown's outstanding municipal servants, but on the town itself.

It is the first time in twenty years that Georgetown has been the residence of Halton's top man. Last man to hold the position was Harold Cleave, who was warden in 1936.

Mr. Allen is well qualified for the post, and will make a fine presiding officer for the deliberations of the county council.

No stranger to the speaking platform, he has on three occasions represented one of the political parties.

on provincial and federal elections. That sufficient voters did not uphold his political views to elect him does not detract from his ability. As a councillor, particularly, he has been faithful in the time devoted to the job, and honest in his opinions and his decisions. He is not a man to backtrack from an opinion, nor does he do any double talking in public affairs. He has earned the wholesome respect of a large share of Georgetown's voting public, and will continue to merit this in his larger office, we are confident.

The Herald takes pleasure in wishing him a successful year ahead, and in extending congratulations to Halton's new warden.

We Join the Appeal

The daily papers these days are full of pleas by columnists, feature writers and organizations that our governments, provincial and federal, take immediate, sensible action to deal with the problem of sex delinquents.

The appeal was sparked by the tragic murder of a little girl in London ... something which happens only rarely, but which can happen anywhere at any time.

At present there is no way of dealing with the type of mental illness which prompts a person to commit such offences against society. While murders are relatively rare, lesser tragedies are not, and every day the daily papers tell of children and women being molested, with a subsequent round-up of "known" sex delinquents for questioning.

As Frank Tumpene says in the Tely, if there are such "known" characters why isn't there something done about it, and why are they allowed to roam loose in society.

The sad fact is that only the courts can deal with these unfortunates, and jail terms are no solution. We do not confine mentally ill people of other types to jail, and we should not treat sex offenders that way.

It is imperative that the government set up specialized institutions where psychiatric treatment is available, where cures can be attempted, and if no cure is possible, offenders can be confined indefinitely in surroundings similar to that of other mental institutions, with kindly care replacing the altogether wrong prison surroundings now offered.

Local Interest in Olympics

There will be more than usual interest in the Olympic hockey games in Georgetown this year.

As well as following the progress of the Kitchener-Waterloo Dutchmen, hockey fans will be particularly watching the performance of Art Hurst who not so many years back was one of the Raider stars.

Art went from here to Kitchener where he was a Dutchman stalwart for several seasons. Now with Stratford, he was brought back to replace another Georgetownner, Joe Schertzl, who is ineligible to play because of prior professional ranking. Art's wife, Jessie Murphy, is a Georgetown girl too, which strengthens the ties he has with our town.

Joe Schertzl, while able to play only in exhibition games, is also making the trip, as is another district man Walter Bianchi, the latter solely as a spectator.

We will be following the sports pages of daily papers more avidly the next few weeks, and watching the television performances of the team as they meet the top amateurs of Europe in Italy.

Halton Farmers Like Gov't. Price Supports

Agricultural price supports, their benefit to the farmer and affect on consumer, taxpayer and wage-earner were discussed in National Farm Radio Forum, January 9th.

The majority of Halton Farmers felt price supports were a benefit to the consumer as they have a tendency to stabilize supply and prices. Some thought there was too great a difference between support and retail price.

It was agreed that the cost to the taxpayer was very moderate. The wage earner benefits as producers are in a better position to buy their manufactured goods. The farmer also benefits by price supports as they help to stabilize farm economy, thus enabling the farmer to plan ahead being reasonably sure of the price he may expect to receive.

C.W.L. Urges Government Confine Sex Criminals

The Catholic Women's League held their first meeting of the year in the parish hall on Monday, January 16th. During the meeting it was decided to hold a "cabbage roll" dinner, convened by Mrs. John Koloski, on Sunday, January 29th. It was also decided to hold a rummage sale and sale of home baking in February in the parish hall.

There was a great deal of discussion regarding an article written recently by Frank Tumpene regarding the criminal code particularly pertaining to sex criminals and their treatment. A motion was passed to write a letter to the local member of parliament asking him to support a bill to have the criminal code changed in this regard.

Mr. Peter van Wouw showed some beautiful coloured slides on New Brunswick and Quebec and local scenes after the business meeting. Mrs. Fred Tucker was in charge of the appetizing lunch served before closing.

Sunday School Plans Buy Movie Projector

Plans were made at St. John's United annual Sunday School meeting to purchase a sound movie projector early this year.

The projector fund started three years ago by the school and aided by other departments of the church will soon reach the objective amount. A committee headed by William Kinrade will choose the projector and suitable screen. The school will use the projector to promote Christian education in the community.

The ladies of the W.A. served a full course dinner to the executive of the school for the meeting which was held in the church parlour on January 9th.

Reports from various departments of the school indicated a healthy increase in enrolment and attendance. The 1956 executive includes the following teachers: Floria Alcott, Mrs. Chester DeForest, Toni Lee, Mrs. Ernest Forgrave, Gail King, Pat Willson, Mrs. Harvey Chappel, Cecil McNamara, Mrs. Gordon King, Mrs. Vern McCumber, Frank Whitmee, Fran Deans, Jack Runham, Mrs. Jack Watson, Graham Farnell, Mrs. Robert Souther, Alan Prouse, Rev. Morgan McFarlane, Mrs. Ken Richardson.

Officers are: Sandra Scott, secretary; William Kinrade, treasurer; Karen Scott, assistant treasurer; Mamie Campbell, envelope secretary; Vern McCumber, equipment and supplies; Margaret McFarlane, pianist; Wayne Fiebig, Peter Forgrave, projectionists; Mrs. H. C. Wrigglesworth, missionary superintendent; Ernie Alcott, Ernie Forgrave, general superintendents.
