

By Way of Introduction . . .

The United Suburban Gas Company Limited has received authorization to proceed with its plans to introduce Natural Gas into the communities of Milton, Georgetown and Acton. Plans are now under way for laying pipelines to these towns and the installation of distribution systems necessary to deliver Natural Gas to your home. Construction will commence as early in the Spring as weather permits. Every endeavor will be made to have Natural Gas introduced into the town's distribution plants by the 1st of July.

The United Suburban Gas Company is an old established company, having provided gas service in the Oakville area since 1929. This area, for many years serviced with manufactured gas, has recently been converted to Natural Gas. The citizens and industries of Oakville are most pleased with this modern "miracle" fuel and the service provided by United Suburban Gas.

The history of Natural Gas in Ontario dates back to January 23rd, 1889, when the first commercial production was discovered in Gosfield Township, Essex County. Today, Natural gas is used in the home for everything from cooking, water heating, refrigeration, automatic clothes washing and drying and incineration to space heating and automatic furnaces. Natural Gas is used extensively in commercial establishments and by industry because it offers instant heat with no warm-up period, precise temperature control and a high degree of efficiency and dependability at low cost.

The United Suburban Gas Company is thoroughly experienced in the latest methods of installing pipe lines and will carry out this work in the most efficient manner possible and with the least possible inconvenience to the town and land-owners in the town. Immediate plans call for the construction of a transmission line from the Southern part of Trafalgar Township to Milton, thence to Georgetown and on to Acton. It is anticipated that the laying of this line will require about two months. While this work is going on, additional contractors will be laying the main lines in the towns.

Down through the years, The United Suburban Gas Company has made every effort to be considered a "good citizen." What the public thinks, matters to us. During the next few months we will do our best, through your newspapers and other media, to tell you about Natural Gas, so that by the time it arrives in your community, each citizen will have a full knowledge of the many advantages this modern fuel has to offer.
