SECOND SECTION

CLUB MIDTOWN

By a special request from one (and possibly our only) fan we returned this week, despite the fact that we have little to report. If you find the odd paragraph where the plot is a little thin, it is because we had to stretch it to make a long column. (Ed. Note: Yea, but did you have to dilute it that much?)

Okay, so it's thinner than a gnat's ankles already, but it is the best we could do on short notice.

From the ridiculous to the sublime — we would like to thank Donna for writing up the Formal for us. Special events like that terrify us. (Writing them, not attending them.)

Which reminds us; next Friday night there will be a Hard Times dance with the usual prizes for the best costumes. It seems to us that it should actually be a 'Sadie Hawkins' type of dance, bein' Leap Year, and all.

Unfortunately for us males, it is now too late to plan such an alteration. All we can do is wait and scheme for another opportunity to trap the unwary females into supporting us for a night.

Ed. Note: (Who are you trying to kid?)

There was an executive meeting at Donna's house on Tuesday night, but because this is written before that we are unable to report on the proposals and accomplishments of said meeting. (We should be clairvoyant.)

Editor's Note: (Anything would be an improvement.)

All this competition is giving us a complex, so we'll pull a Houdini act here and reappear in a Lonesome Polecat suit Friday night.

Ed. Note: (Why not get a costume?)

Achievement Day For 4-H Homemakers Club

J. E. W.

Saturday, February 25th saw the completion of Halton County's 4-H Homemaker Club Project — "What Shall I wear" and in spite of the severe ice storm on Friday and resulting bad roads, one hundred of the one hundred and ten girls who finished the project, were in attendance at the Achievement Day, held in the Milton High School.

Mrs. Mabel Borgstrom, county home economist, was in charge of the day and was assisted by Miss Florence P. Eadie, supervisor of Junior Extension for the Home Economics Service of the Department of Agriculture, Miss Ruth Shaver, Home Economist for Simcoe and Ontario counties and Mrs. Marion Montgomery, formerly of the Home Economics Service.

During the morning program, each club member participated individually by judging a class of blouses, a class of costume charts, and by selecting suitable blouse materials to harmonize with given skirts. The members' own blouses, charts and record books were also on display.

After luncheon each club participated in the programme as a group, club exhibits were shown on "A well planned costume for church", by Ashgrove, Omagh, and Scotch Block, and commented on by Marilyn Wrigglesworth, Joyce Robertson, and Sachi Sanmiya. Bannockburn Club displayed "A Well Planned Costume for School," with Rieke Duenk as their Commentator and Ballinafad showed "Lines to Suit the Figure." Beth McEnery making the comment.

A skit was presented by Stewart-town on this same subject, with Ruby Tennant, Jean Corley and Grethe Koeslag taking part while "How to Plan a Wardrobe", was the subject chosen by Pat McKay, Sharon Bussell, and Brenda Robertson, of Hornby Club. Joan Coverdale, Diane Hiscock, Jane Clements and Joanne Henry of Lowville; Helen Vivian and Audrey Featherstone of Nelson; and Marilyn Cleave and Marie Harrop of Norval.

Following the programme, J. E. Whitelock, agricultural representative for the county brought greetings and paid great tribute to the work of the local leaders of the 4-H Homemaker Clubs. Mr. and Mrs. Whitelock then assisted in the presentation of Provincial and County Honour Certificates to the following:

Marilyn Wrigglesworth, Audrey Featherstone, Joan McKay, Helen Vivian and Marilyn Cleave; and Provincial Honours for 12 Homemaker Club Units completed, to: Evelyn McKay, Ruth Robertson, Elizabeth Gibson and Beth McEnery, and county honours for Homemaker Club units completed.

Certificates of Achievement were also presented to girls completing two units; a 4-H Homemaker Club Crest to each new member and a silver teaspoon to each club member.

As a fitting closing to the day, each club leader and assistant received the gift of a house plant, in recognition of her efforts. Club leaders for this unit were: Mrs. Hector Bird and Mrs. Vernon Archer of Ashgrove; Mrs. F. J. Shortill and Mrs. McEnery of Ballinafad; Mrs. H. Wilkinson and Mrs. Stan Matthews of Bannockburn; Mrs.

D. Macpherson and Mrs. Bert Renick of Dublin; Mrs. D. Downs and Mrs. Stan May of Hornby; Mrs. Stan Randell and Mrs. W. B. G. Johnson of Lowville; Mrs. Delmar Colling and Mrs. David Sherwood of Nelson; Mrs. H. Robertson and Miss Ellen Chapman of Omagh; Mrs. H. McLaughlin of Norval; Miss Charlotte Turner of Scotch Block; Mrs. Fred Armstrong and Mrs. L. DeVries of Stewarttown.

The summer project for 4-H Homemaker Clubs will get under way almost immediately, with Leaders' Training School for "The Cereal Shelf" to be held in the Department of Agriculture office on March 13 and 14. Inquiries from anyone interested in starting a new club will be welcomed by the Home Economist and Agricultural Representative.

Anti-Yaws Fight in Laos

Modern health methods, penicillin and aid by the World Health Organisation and the U.N. Children's Fund are helping to win the war against the disfiguring tropical disease, yaws. About twenty per cent of the world's estimated 50,000,000 victims live in the area ranging from Laos, Indochina, to the Philippines including the Pacific Islands. Here a villager in Laos, where WHO aid has already yielded substantial results, receives a penicillin injection from a member of a travelling medical team. Treatment is supervised by Dr. E. J. Douvrie (right), WHO medical officer from France.

OUR COUNTRY
OUR FREEDOM

LET'S TRAIN TO DEFEND THEM

... and it takes time to train a modern soldier. It is not a simple nor an easy one — but trained, armed strength is the only answer to threats of aggression. Let's make sure that we are prepared to defend our country — our freedom.
