

Have a bone-dry basement

Damp, wet basements went out years ago when STA-DRI came in. STA-DRI is the inorganic mineral coating for all masonry, that seals water out. Homeowners victimized by water leaks can get STA-DRI at neighborhood dealers. No more bailing, pumping, costly trench digging and outside waterproofing to keep water out of basements. Just mix the powdered material with water, apply to the inside or outside of masonry construction and water pressure leakage problems are gone. STA-DRI comes in white and a variety of attractive modern colors at no extra cost, so its perfect for beautifying unsightly walls. Easy to apply and economical, it contains a mold and mildew inhibitor for additional protection. STA-DRI is time-tested. Years of use give it the background of fact necessary for successful application and lasting satisfaction.

Only STA-DRI dares to advertise and support the claim that IT WILL HOLD A WALL OF WATER NINE FEET HIGH WITHOUT LEAKAGE. Newcomers to the masonry waterproofing field claim "new" and "never before" when advertising at lower standards when STA-DRI has exceeded these claims for years and has hundreds of thousands of satisfied users to prove it. Don't be misled. Demand the package that says "Best by Test". Don't be content with second-raters or take something that's "just as good". Nothing is as good as STA-DRI for stopping water and beautifying masonry.

Sowed Oats Half a Century Ago March 12

A much earlier spring was recorded fifty years ago, according to Norman Brown, operator of Brown's Taxi, who recalls sowing a field of oats on March 12th.

Mr. Brown remembers the date because it was the first time he drove a team of horses with harrows. The crop on the farm of his father, the late James Brown, Norval Station, was one of the heaviest, he remembers.

Mr. Brown thinks the season is much later nowadays, when farmers figure they are doing well to have their crops sown by mid-May. Although the oat crop was exceptionally early, farmers of fifty years ago planned on having seeding all finished by the middle of April.

The Brown farm, which later was owned by Upper Canada College and then by Charles Coupland, has now become partly suburban and a number of houses exist where there once were fields of grain.

Birthday Cake For Rebekah Euchre Party

Thursday evening, March 15th, Verdun Rebekah Lodge celebrated their 38th birthday with their annual euchre party. There were twenty tables of cards in play. Mrs. A. S. Wilson won first prize, Mrs. Nan Scott second, Mrs. Albert Henny, third and Robert Lane fourth.

Mr. Reg Newton was the lucky winner of the door prize, Mrs. John Inglis the birthday prize and Mrs. Dan Livingstone the lucky draw on the hamper of groceries.

After cards the players moved downstairs where lunch was served, topped off with the traditional birthday cake made by Mrs. S. B. Groat.

FARM NEWS

HUNTLEY, McINNIS SEED FAIR SPEAKERS

The end of the current week will see Halton's seed fair in Milton. Unfortunately circumstances have arisen which will make it impossible for the Hon. F. S. Thomas to be at Milton, as previously announced. We understand from E. Ross Segsworth, president of the Halton association, that they have been fortunate in securing Dr. Don Huntley, head of the Field Husbandry Dept. at Guelph to pinch hit for the Hon. Mr. Thomas. Dr. Huntley is no stranger to Halton farm operators and always has a worthwhile message. The second speaker, Mr. Charles McInnis is the veteran leader of the Ontario Hog Producers' Co-Operative. All officers and directors of the Halton Hog Producers' Association swear by Charlie McInnis so all in all the Milton town hall should see a capacity crowd on Saturday afternoon of this week.

Tells Farmers Club About Delrex Future

Rex Heslop, promoter of Georgetown's new Delrex section, spoke to members of Terra Cotta Farmers Club at their March meeting. Introduced by Art McKane, Mr. Heslop outlined some of the achievements already accomplished in Delrex and the plans he visions for the future, for the area acquired by his company which is now contained in Georgetown's boundaries. A question and answer period followed when Mr. Heslop spared no effort to enlighten his audience on further points of interest. Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Hunter were hosts at their home in Terra Cotta. While the men conducted their business meeting prior to meeting with the ladies, the ladies discussed plans for an April social in Snelgrove Hall, with Cheltenham club as guests. Roll call "A Foolish Question" was answered by 15 members. The topic: "Good humour is the health of the soul, sadness is poison" was taken by Mrs. Art McKane. During the joint meeting, the program included piano solos by Irene Hunter, vocal solos by Betty Jean Anderson and a selection read by Mrs. McKane in the absence of Mrs. Fraser Macdonald. Mrs. John McClure, as scout, thanked the speaker, hosts and those taking part in the program and presented Mrs. Heslop with a box of spring flowers, expressing the group's pleasure at her attending the meeting with her husband. Lunch was served by the Ladies, supplemented by a generous supply of nuts and candy provided by the host and hostess.

UNDERGOING SEA TRIALS — The Canadian Pacific's spanking new flagship, the 26,000 ton liner Empress of Britain, is shown above silhouetted against the darkening sky above the River Clyde, shortly after the vessel sailed for Liverpool to undergo her initial sea trials. Newest of the Great White Empress fleet, the magnificent liner will leave Liverpool Apr. 20 on her maiden trans-Atlantic voyage to Canada, arriving at the port of Montreal on April 26th.
