How can YOU benefit from having a Current Account?

You'll find it much easier to keep an accurate record of your current expenses when you have a Current Account.

When you pay all bills by cheque on your Current Account, you receive back, at the end of each month, all your cancelled cheques as well as a bank statement showing every withdrawal and every deposit you have made. The cancelled cheques serve as receipts—and are accepted in court as evidence of payment of the amount shown. Furthermore, they are much easier to file away than receipts and take less room to store. With them and your bank statements, you'll find it far easier to get an exact picture of how you spend your money.

So it's a good move to use a Current Account for paying all current bills—and keep your Savings Account for actual savings.

CHAMBER URGES MERCHANTS TRY SHOPPING CAMPAIGN

A projected program which would include preparation of an industrial brochure for the town and some type of shopping campaign to boost merchants' business was discussed at a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce last Tuesday in the municipal building.

Harold Bairstow, new president of the Chamber, in his inaugural speech, suggested that merchants combine for some sort of campaign and outlined possible avenues of approach.

Suggestions included issue of gift certificates with purchases, with such certificates redeemable in merchandise at any participating store, such campaign to last two or three weeks. Another idea was to have a weekly lucky draw, for which shoppers would receive chances with each purchase.

Mr. Bairstow also suggested that merchants might issue a shopping guide which would list all services available in Georgetown and would be very helpful to new residents of town who are not familiar with local stores and businesses.

Such proposals would not be definitely sponsored by the Chamber, but would be up to merchant members to combine and work out details.

Preparation of an industrial brochure, would, however, be a Chamber activity, and would be a project which would be helpful to the town in general whose lifeblood depends on industrial activity.

The question of night depositories in the two local banks was discussed. Jim Ajeorn and Dick Miller, representing the Bank of Commerce and Royal Bank said this would involve an outlay of over $4,000 to each bank and that service charges would be perhaps $10 or $15 yearly.

Enough customers would have to be assured to make this a paying proposition for the banks, and they were asked to draw up a questionnaire for interested parties. A number of merchants present indicated they would be interested in safeguarding money taken in after banking hours in this way.

Harold McClure, James Linton and Harold Marshall were named as a nominating committee to present four nominees to fill the directorate at the next meeting. They were asked to have a good proportion of merchants among the nominees.

Retiring president John Gunn reviewed last year's activities before vacating the chair for the incoming president.

Mr. Gunn said the Chamber had tried to find a solution for parking problems downtown but had run into snags in getting prices for properties under consideration. A council-ratepayers committee is presently working along the same line, seeking a large central parking area which would provide accommodation for the downtown shoppers.

The Chamber of Commerce, he said, had sparked activity towards establishment of a hospital and plans are now in progress under a hospital committee of which he is chairman.

The Chamber combined with the Georgetown's Women's Institute to instal new stone gates at the park entrance, and work will be completed on this project this year.

Assistance had also been given for Christmas lighting downtown.

The meeting was attended by some twenty interested people, representing merchants, banks, tradesmen, ratepayers associations and industry.

MILTON LAWYER GIVES TIPS ON REAL ESTATE

"Deal with reliable and well established realtors and be very careful of agreements made when selling property," said George Elliott, Q.C. when he spoke to members of Pinegrove and Ligny Farm Forums last week.

It was the final meeting of the season for the forums.

Mr. Elliott advised farmers to read contracts carefully and to consult a lawyer before signing any papers.

A film Enough and For All was shown and vocal and instrumental numbers were given by David Howden and Audrey Brown. Lunch and a social hour followed the program.
