

Golf Club Ladies are Spring Fashion Models

A fashion show and tea arranged by the Ladies' Section of the North Halton Golf & Country Club, under the convenship of the President, Mrs. J. H. Chamberlain and the Social Convener, Mrs. H. G. Hutchinson, was held in the Club House last Thursday afternoon. The event attracted 150 members and guests from town, Brampton, Milton and Acton.

Fred and Jack Cotton of Cotton Brothers' store arranged the showing of the fashions, which ranged from bathing suits and sportswear, casual cottons, and dressy cottons, to more formal summer evening-wear. Members of the Club acted as models.

Mr. Fred Cotton did the fashion commentary, assisted by Mrs. Hutchinson. Mrs. Wesley Wolfe of Acton was in charge of the recordings which were played while the models displayed the fashions.

Members who modelled were: Eleanor Spitzer, Mrs. Murt Allison, Mrs. Ross Duncan, Mrs. Russell Woods, Mrs. Harold Henry, Marna Mackenzie, Lynn Scott, Leanne Darou, Mrs. Douglas Brown, Mrs. Arthur Beaumont, Mrs. Stan Wade, Mrs. Harvey Chappel, Mrs. Jack Gunning, Mrs. K. M. Langdon, Mrs. Jack Malcolm, Mrs. Robert McColgan, Mrs. William McNally, Gail Malcolm and Sherron Bradbury.

During an intermission in the fashion show, afternoon tea was served. Mrs. Bert Gilmer convened the tea, and various members assisted her in serving. Pouring tea and coffee at a table attractively arranged with pink and yellow snapdragons and yellow candles were Mrs. Carl Martin, Milton, Mrs. John Bell, Mrs. Sam Mackenzie and Miss Jean Mackenzie.

The main lounge and sun veranda of the club house were enhanced with bouquets of spring flowers and ferns for the occasion, thru the courtesy of Norton Floral. Robb's Drug Store supplied the Elizabeth Arden make-up used by the models and also donated the door prize. The jewelry worn by the models was supplied by Barber's, with Mrs. Paul Barber and Mrs. Mervyn Cook selecting the harmonizing costume jewellery for the various ensembles.

Mrs. Leigh Bradbury was in charge of costuming the models. She was assisted by Mrs. Graham Farnell, Sandra Scott and Isobel Thompson, as well as two members of the Cotton Brothers' staff, Mrs. John McGillivray and Mrs. James Dobbie.

As fashion show guests entered, they were welcomed by Mrs. J. H. Chamberlain, ladies' president, and Mrs. E. W. Binkley, vice-president. Also greeting the guests were Mrs. Cyril Brandford and Miss Marjorie Mackenzie. Miss Karen Scott helped usher the guests to their seats.

At the conclusion of the show numbers were drawn for the lucky door prizes of Elizabeth Arden make-up kits. Mrs. John Gunn and Mrs. D. W. Baxter were the winners. Mrs. L. Percival won the draw for the bouquet of flowers on the tea table.

Mr. Featherstone was buried in the family plot at Bethel. The pallbearers were Williard, Ralph and Carlyle Featherstone of Milton, Carlos Featherstone of Bridgeport, Brodie Featherstone of Everett and Walton Cane of Milton.

Glen Cemetery Board Seeks More Property

The necessity to buy more property immediately was the main problem under discussion at the meeting of the Glen Williams Cemetery Board held in the town hall on April 12th. The Board also made a decision to hire a caretaker for the cemetery.

Mrs. Robert McMaster was the new appointee to the Board. Other members present included Robert McMaster, Howard Garvin, T. Hill, C. Wheeler and Mrs. Vern Kirby.
