Members of Holy Cross R.C. church said goodbye to their pastor of fifteen years, Father Vincent Morgan on Sunday when he sang his last mass in the morning. Special devotions were held in the evening, followed by solemn benediction of the Blessed Sacrament. Father Morgan, as celebrant, was assisted by Rev. Leo J. McBride, Hamilton, a former local pastor, as deacon and Rev. A. Callaghan, Rockwood, sub-deacon.

Father Morgan will continue in Acton as pastor of St. Joseph's Church, while Father Anselm Spacey will become first pastor of Holy Cross parish, which has grown to that status.

Assisting in the sanctuary Sunday evening were Rev. P. Lardie, Milton; Rev. R. MacDougall, S.J. of St. Stanislaus Novitiate, Guelph; Very Rev. Fr. Thomas van Laer, D.D. custos provincial of the English speaking Capuchin Fathers in Canada; and Rev. Anselm Spacey.

Afterwards, parishioners assembled in the parish hall for a reception and presentation. Martin Cummins expressed the feelings of those present in a tangible way by presenting a purse to Fr. Morgan, while chairman Joseph Gibbons called on several present for parting words.

Besides the visiting clergymen, others were called on to speak. These included Mayor Jack Armstrong, who said that not only would he be missed by his church people, but by many friends outside of his church as well. Walter Biehn and Harold McClure, who have become personal friends through business associations, spoke in the same vein.

Explains Organization For Civil Defence

Lt. Col. John R. Barber explained how Halton civil defence organization would work in case of disaster when he addressed fellow members of the Rotary Club at their Monday dinner meeting at Fairview Inn.

He also introduced E. L. Miller of the Western British American group of insurance companies who made a donation to the Easter Seal campaign. The campaign has exceeded its $1500 objective and returns are still coming in, it was reported.

Plans for harness racing at the park on June 2nd are well under way. An improved program over last year is anticipated with larger 2700 employees at Malton's Orenda Engines plant walked off their jobs today in a dispute over job assignments.

The men, members of the Machinists Union, attended a meeting in Crang Plaza auditorium, North York at which a negotiating committee was appointed to interview management tonight to attempt a settlement of differences.

The walkout was effected by issuance of personal passes signed by their foremen, and union members claim this is their right within their contract and does not constitute a strike.

Workers will report for work tomorrow morning, according to a local resident, one of several Georgetowners who work at the plant, unless otherwise notified. Unless the job assignment question is settled before then, they will again stage a "pass" walkout and another mass meeting.

According to a daily newspaper report today, the protest is over job evaluation and the classification of jobs which creates different pay rates. A man on one machine, for instance is an operator with a certain rate of pay. A man moved around to several machines should be a machinist with a higher pay rate, it is claimed.

THE WEATHER

Mr. Editor:

Something seems to have gone wrong with the weather lately. During April, 1955, there were 17 days with rain, but by the end of the month the temperature was up to 77 degrees.

It's time I took a hand in it again, and the weather MAY improve.

—Ern Batkin.

FUNERAL TODAY FOR ORANGE LODGE HEAD

A prominent Orangeman and a valued member of Georgetown Fire Department, Harvey Lusty, 46, of 41 Ontario Street, was buried in Greenwood Cemetery this afternoon following funeral service at the Harold C. McClure funeral home.

He died in Guelph General Hospital early Sunday morning, where he had been a patient for several weeks after becoming ill in January.

The town fire truck, banked with flowers, headed the funeral cortege, and firemen in their dress uniforms attended the service in a group. They also paraded to the funeral home last night to pay their respects.

Mr. Lusty, who was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Milton Lusty, was born at Rockwood, near Hamilton, but had spent most of his life in Georgetown and Stewarttown. The family moved to Stewarttown when he was a youngster and he attended school there. He moved with his family to Dundalk, but returned here in his teens, worked for a time with Alf Thompson, then had his own trucking business. Since 1940 he had been employed at Smith & Stone, working in the turning department.

He was instrumental in reorganizing Loyal Orange Lodge 68 at Stewarttown two years ago, and devoted much of his energy to lodge affairs. He was master of the lodge at the time of his death. He was interested in show poultry and was a member of Georgetown & Halton County Poultry Association. He also enjoyed sports, playing softball with Smith & Stone teams and bowling in the industrial group.

Surviving are his wife Doris Harris, two daughters, Mrs. George Greig (June) and Barbara; a grandson Billy Greig; brother Clement Lusty of Glen Williams, and sister Myrtle, Mrs. Austin Corner, Belfountain.

Rev. Alex Calder and Rev. Alfred Barker conducted the funeral service, and members of LOI 68 conducted an Orange service at the graveside. Pallbearers were three lodge members, Jack Jenkinson, Cecil Smith and William Hulls, and three firemen, Chief William Hyde, Deputy Jack Harrow and Clarence Spence.

WHAT COUNCIL DID

REVISED INSURANCE PROGRAM FOR ALL MUNICIPAL BUILDINGS

Sweeping changes in insurance on public buildings administered by the council were made on Monday when council heard a lengthy report submitted by E. L. Millar, speaking for the Western British American insurance group.

Council endorsed his proposal and will place the business through local agents Walter T. Evans & Co. and the John R. Barber Agency. Mr. Barber and James F. Evans accompanied Mr. Miller to the meeting to help explain details of the new set-up.

The approximate $120,000 valuation placed on buildings includes major items of $61,000 on the municipal building and $40,000 on the fire hall.

Savings in premiums have been effected through co-insurance and by taking a 3-year policy split into annual payments. Total cost of the policy which will eventually replace a number of separate policies placed at various times on town buildings, will be only slightly higher than the present insurance premiums.

A deputation from the Rotary Club, John Gunn, Jim Ritchie and Ralph Ursell, asked that they be added to the park racetrack prior to the harness meet in June. The property committee and town engineer were delegated to see what can be done to improve the track.

Richard Vandenburg left the meeting still unsatisfied in one of several appearances to request approval for a group of stores which he plans to erect on Guelph St.

Okayed at one stage, his plan hit a stumbling block last week when it was found council had misinterpreted the meaning of a right-of-way for fire protection over neighbour Fred Ross property.

Mr. Vandenburg said he now plans to drop one store from the building, which would leave a rear entrance-way for the time being to satisfy council demands. He was told to submit this to the new planning board, while Cr. Alfred Sykes said that he thought the applicant should have satisfaction soon, as his plans have been stalled so many times.

Mr. Ross was present to tell council that he does not believe a service road at the rear of his property, where he also plans a store building, is sensible at present. While he thinks all highway frontage will be commercial eventually, there is still residential property whose owners could not be expected to deed land for such a road, he said.

Ray Berg asked again about opening Cherry St. and was told by Cr. Walter Gray that he expects to present such a motion at the next council meeting.

Alex MacLaren, the town's representative on Credit Valley Conservation Authority, gave a report on what the authority is trying to accomplish. Asked about repair work on the papermill dam, he said he would investigate and see what could be done to preserve it.

Mayor Armstrong mentioned possible parksites above the dam and on the old hydro dynamo properties.

James McBride, Swanek subdivision resident, asked council if they could not take action to help residents caught in the middle of a contractor controversy while road conditions are deplorable.

Mayor Armstrong said council is most sympathetic and is doing its best for an early solution, though powerless to have town men work on roads which are still private property. Engineer Douglas Wilson said he understands grading will take place this week, and there should be some improvement after this.

Duties Explained To Altar Guild Members

Well over a hundred members of the Niagara Diocesan Altar Guild were guests of the Daughters of the Church in St. George's parish room last Tuesday evening. The Guild brought with them examples of the very beautiful, painstaking work they do, making and embroidering altar linens and church vestments.

It was the occasion of their regional meeting, and members were present from Anglican churches in Hamilton, Niagara Falls, Adershot, Stoney Creek, Oakville, Burlington, Ryckman's Corners, Orangeville, Ancaster, Bronte, Hornby, and Glen Williams and Norval. The president, Miss Kay Donkin of Burlington presided, introducing various Guild officials and visiting clergy. Rev. Kenneth Richardson extended a warm welcome to all.

Rev. John Anderson, Chaplain of the Guild, from the Church of the Redeemer, Stoney Creek, was the special speaker for the evening. He chose "Duties of Altar Guilds" as his subject. Rev. Anderson pointed out that members of altar guilds, in performing their duties, should regard their services in the church as an act of worship and privilege.

Mrs. Norman Pickett of Stoney Creek, Embroidery Convener for the Guild, gave a talk on church linens, their care and use. Mrs. Ron Edwards extended a vote of thanks to the Altar Guild on behalf of the Georgetown and Glen Williams ladies.

A social half hour with refreshments followed the conclusion of the meeting.
