

May Crown Ceremony First Time in Town

Parishioners of Holy Cross R. C. Church attended a special May devotion a week ago Sunday afternoon in the church, when the ceremony "Crowning of the Blessed Virgin" was enacted for the first time in Georgetown.

The impressive ceremony included a living rosary, in which children of the parish, the girls in white and boys in their Sunday best, formed a crown around the church interior. Each of the 69 children said a Hail Mary with the congregation replying.

Mary Jean Tucker was queen of the May and placed a crown of flowers on the head of the virgin's statue. Mary Neale carried the crown and four boys from Notre Dame de Beaugard farm, dressed as knights, acted as an honour guard.

In his talk, Fr. Anselm Spacey explained the meaning of the ceremony, saying that Mary is queen of the universe and that prayers said are taken by her to God.

Arrangements for the ceremony were looked after by Mrs. Reuben Neale, Ann Tucker and Joan Cummins.

AT ESQUESING COUNCIL

Tighten Restrictions On Garbage Dumping

A by-law prohibiting the "throwing, placing or depositing of rubbish or refuse on Esquesing township roads" was passed by the township council at their meeting in Stewarttown last Tuesday.

The council appointed Clifford Wrigglesworth as a member of the board of Hornby Community Park, and delegated Arthur Benton, assessment commissioner, to attend the assessors' convention in North Bay.

At an earlier meeting May 7th, Esquesing Planning Board was requested not to approve more than two separations from any parcel of 100 acres or more, and only one separation from parcels of 50 acres or less, in any one calendar year. This is designed to keep building from mushrooming in the township faster than economies will allow, while not depriving any landowner of the right to sell portions of his property.

Road superintendent William Townsend was instructed to purchase chemicals and spray for weed control on township roads this summer.

Fox claims were paid at the two meetings: Jack Lawson $300; Mervin Nesset $750; Cliff McDonald $750; Ward Brownridge, Newton Ruddell, Donald Brown, $300 each.

Sheep claims included payment of $111 to Albert Presswood for 4 sheep killed by dogs and damages to 5 lambs, and $25 to Albert Robinson for a sheep killed. A. N. Stark was valuator in both cases and received an $8. fee.

Deputy Reeve George Currie presided at both meetings in the absence of Reeve Walter Linham due to illness, and councillors Spencer Wilson, Campbell Sinclair and Wilfrid Bird were in attendance.

Mrs. George M. Begg Was Agnes McLeod

Mrs. George M. Begg, who died in Toronto last week, was Agnes F. McLeod before her marriage, a member of a family prominent in Georgetown several years ago.

Mrs. Begg died in the Wellesley Hospital on May 21st where she had been a patient since fracturing her hip in a fall. She was buried in Mount Pleasant Cemetery after a funeral service Tuesday at the Morley Belford chapel.

A native of Georgetown, she attended public and high school here. Her father was postmaster when the post office was on Main St. and he had a large general store, later operated by John McLean, which took in the present Bank of Commerce and Garner locations. The family lived in a large house on Main St. south which is now the Valleyview Apartments.

After her parents died, she went to live with her brother in Toronto, was later married and continued to make her home in the city.

Surviving are her husband, a sister Eleanor, Mrs. H. M. Wetherald, Windsor and a brother Norman, Toronto. She was predeceased by a sister and brother, Mrs. H. Henderson and William McLeod.

Miss May Langan, Miss Hettie Lawson, Mrs. J. Arnott Early and Mr. Robert Early attended the funeral service.

Concert Series Here If Enough Interested

District people interested in having the finest Canadian concert talent visit Georgetown are invited to attend a meeting in the public library next Tuesday, June 5th at 8 p.m.

Charles Jordan, well-known Canadian baritone and teacher, will be addressing the meeting. If enough interest is shown, further organization work will be undertaken to bring artists to town next year under sponsorship of Concert Associations of Canada. The association has such well-known musicians as Mary Syme, pianist; Betty-Jean Hagen, violinist; Elie Spivak, violinist and Bernard Johnson, baritone on its roster of available talent.

"For too many years Canadians have been inexcusably unaware of the fact that truly great artists in every field have been developing under our very noses," says Mr. Jordan, "only to leave in pursuit of careers in other countries, notably the U.S."

The recognition they receive elsewhere only points up how Canadians deprive themselves of the opportunity of hearing them, simply because we do not recognize our own talent, he says and it is high time Canadians closed the door on the exodus.

An active concert series operating across Canada in town's like Georgetown would bring the double benefit of providing cultural entertainment for ourselves and our children, and encouraging Canadian musicians to develop their talents at home.
