

WHAT COUNCIL DID

RESIDENTS PROTEST AND TREES MAY BE SAVED

A "Save the Trees" Campaign by residents of Main Street North met with some success at council meeting Monday when they were promised that every consideration would be given before five large maples are topped in a sidewalk straightening campaign.

A petition was received signed by some 25 residents on both sides of the highway, alarmed by reports in last week's Herald that the trees would be removed.

The trees, in front of the residence of Miss Farmer, are in direct path of a new sidewalk planned because of highway widening.

Petitioners found considerable support among council members. Cr. Alfred Sykes said he would like to see the trees stay, even if it meant circling the sidewalk around them. He said the sidewalk must be curved in to the bridge approach.

Reeve Stan Allen expressed the same opinion, though he is worried that it will be dangerous to have a highway sidewalk running directly along the roadway. There is not room to install the sidewalk inside the tree line, as porches and steps of residences are too close.

Cr. Gray and McGilvray said that in the past trees have been removed, perhaps sometimes unnecessarily, and that because of past mistakes, there is no reason to keep up a tree slaughtering program.

Cr. LeRoy Dale said that when he first stepped off the train 42 years ago to settle in Georgetown, the vista of trees from the station platform stayed in his mind, and that he hated to denude the town of things which take a lifetime to grow.

Mayor Armstrong said council should decide on some definite policy for the future and that when trees must be removed there should be a tree planting replacement system, or the town would eventually be a "barren desert."

The road committee will consult with the town engineer before any action is taken.

Mrs. Joe Emmerson, one of the signers of the petition, was at the meeting and also complained of the dust nuisance in the neighbourhood.

"We're almost swamped by a dust nuisance which has been getting worse and worse for three years," she said.

Cr. McGilvray, who lives in the same neighbourhood backed her up but pointed out the impossibility of oiling when new sidewalks would be laid and the highway resurfaced. All that can be done is to use calcium, he said.

Dust was also Lloyd Foster's complaint.

Mr. Foster said he hoped he would have a more satisfactory answer than last year for a dusty road on Mountainview.

"I haven't opened my windows for two weeks," he said, "and I won't put in another summer like last year."

He was told that the road is going to be surface treated this year for a permanent solution and that a prime coat of oil will be going on this week, to be followed by chipped stone and tar.

Cr. Sykes said that calcium had been sprinkled that afternoon, and that if there is still dust more will be put on. Cr. Gray, who is road chairman, promised to look over the situation the next morning, and do his best to overcome the nuisance.

Gertrude Mary Winfield Lengthy Illness Fatal

Gertrude Mary Winfield, 55, died in Guelph General Hospital, June 7th after a lengthy illness.

Mrs. Winfield, a former Glen Williams resident, was a native of England. She first lived in Campbellville after coming to this country and after her husband's death moved to Glen Williams. She later lived in Rockwood and had been a resident of Guelph for several years.

Surviving are five children, Gordon Fricker, Norval, Joyce, Mrs. Alvin Cartledge, Montreal; Donald Winfield, Winnipeg; Albert and John Winfield, Guelph. Her mother, Mrs. Jessie Allen, died in Milton on Easter Sunday. She also leaves four grandchildren, and seven sisters, Mrs. Margaret Stover and Mrs. Olive Fetter, of Milton, Mrs. Alice Howard, Campbellville, Winnie of Toronto and three sisters in England.

Capt. Fisher of the Salvation Army conducted the funeral service in Guelph on Monday and interment was in Woodlawn Cemetery there.

The Boyles Return From South America

America Mr. and Mrs. William (Ben) Boyle arrived home by plane this week from South America, and are back at 8 Parkview Blvd. after an absence of eight months.

Mrs. Boyle accompanied her husband to South America where he was doing research work with Lundberg Explorations. They made their headquarters in Caracas, Venezuela, travelling to different parts of the country at various times.

WHAT COUNCIL DID

COUNCIL CONCERNED AS WATERWORKS COST RISES

Criticism was expressed by two council members Monday of mounting costs of the new waterworks system.

Originally estimated to cost $265,000 by Phillips and Roberts, consulting engineers, it is now believed the finished system which includes a new deep well, reservoir, and waterworks building may cost over $300,000. At any rate, it will cost more than the $285,000 debenture issue and extra funds will have to be borrowed to pay for it.

"Too many things were not included in the original estimate" said the reeve, Stan Allen, water chairman, commenting when council passed an $850 expenditure for a vacuum pump and valves recommended by Mr. Roberts. He also criticized Corrish Construction for not finishing off roads properly where cuts had been made to lay waterlines.

Mayor Armstrong said he is concerned in getting the job finished and the plant in operation. The reeve was instructed to meet with Mr. Roberts, and get both a complete date and a final price figure.

A 6 inch main will be constructed on Kennedy Street and the road will be opened from Arletta to Cherry where some new homes are being built. Cost estimates for the job are $1750.

Expenses up to $95 will be allowed

Galt Outplayed but Tie Locals in Soccer

GEORGETOWN JETS 3 GALT GREEN WHITES 3

Saturday's soccer score in Galt by no means gave a true impression of the game.

Play started at 3 p.m. as scheduled under very hot conditions.

Jimmy Crichton opened the scoring with two well-taken goals for Georgetown, one after about ten minutes of play, and the other 15 minutes later. The ball at this stage was being distributed from end to end without much avail to either side, when a long ball came from the Galt defence to the centre forward who promptly flicked it into the Georgetown net.

Although this goal was waved aside by the linesman, the referee disregarded his decision and awarded Galt the goal.

Early in the second, Jimmy Crichton scored his third. Later Galt scored from a penalty, and with only 5 minutes to go, Galt was awarded a trivial penalty through which they scored another goal.

The Jet defence has been one of the main reasons for recent victories.

FUNERAL SERVICE HERE FOR MRS. JAMES RUDDELL

On Monday, June 12th, Mrs. James F. Ruddell died suddenly in hospital at Montreal. Mrs. Ruddell was the former June Blake, daughter of the late Mr. Blake and Mrs. L. Berry of London, England. She was married to James Ruddell of Georgetown nine years ago on the 24th of May, in London. They had met while James was serving overseas with the RCAF. He came back to Canada at the end of the war and attended Queen's University for a year, before returning to England to be married and bring his bride to Canada.

While he was finishing his Engineering and Physics course, Mr. and Mrs. Ruddell lived in Kingston, during which time Mrs. Ruddell worked as a court stenographer. After Mr. Ruddell received his degree, he was chosen to go on the Research Defense Board of Canada, and stationed at Greenwood, N.S. Their next move was to Halifax, with the RCN, where Mrs. Ruddell worked with the Cancer Society during the time they lived there. Their next transfer was to the RCAF Station at St. Hubert. At the time of her death Mr. and Mrs. Ruddell were making their home at St. Bruno, Quebec.

The funeral service was held at the Harold C. McClure Funeral Home last Thursday afternoon, June 7th. Rev. Alex Calder of Knox Presbyterian Church took the service. The pallbearers were: Fred Ruddell, Newton Ruddell, William Corley, Kenneth Kirkwood, and William Richmond and Dermot Campbell, both of Toronto. Those carrying the flowers included: Jack Ruddell, Frank Ruddell, Mac Alexander, George Henderson, John Gray, of Port Credit, Jim Macdonald, of Toronto, and Flt. Sgt. Jim Brown, Montreal. Interment took place in Greenwood Cemetery.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Ruddell leaves her sister-in-law Jean Ruddell, two aunts, Isabelle and Margaret Moore, all of Georgetown, and her mother, stepfather and two half-sisters in England.

and this game was no exception. Jim Monteith, Andrew Nolan, Freddy Allen, Pete Schipper, deserves full credit for their efforts.

Jets still boast an unbroken record and should draw a good crowd to see their next home game at Georgetown Park which will be played at 3 p.m. Saturday, June 30th against Milton.

Afterwards, editor Marilyn Souther, entertained at a buffet supper at Pine Acres, the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Souther.

Members of the group included Doug Wigglesworth, Frank O'Neill, Barry Timleck, Michael O'Brien, Terry Harley, Sandra Scott, Karen Scott, Leanne Darou, Gerald Scott, Donna Bennett, Bob Hess and Mr. Damon Roberts, staff advisor to the students.

SOMETHING NEW

Something new in next week's Herald. See if you can notice a change.

Milton Youth Dies, 1 Injured Hungry Hollow Car Plunge

Injuries suffered in a wild car plunge down a steep embankment at "Hungry Hollow" brought death a few hours later to a young Milton man.

Driving on the 9th Line towards No.

7 early Sunday evening, a car operated by Dieter Claer, 23, of 8 Martin Street, Milton, went out of control; as it started down a steep hill into the river valley, and came to rest at the foot of the hill 300 feet from where it went into a skid. A passenger, Norman Malyk, 22 of 358 Main St., Milton was thrown 30 feet after the car stopped and suffered terrible injuries. He died in hospital in Brampton at 11.30 a.m. Monday morning without regaining consciousness.

Claer was also hospitalized with a broken right arm. His 1949 Plymouth coupe was completely demolished. The car swerved into the right ditch, turned upside down and ended in its plunge. It cleared a 4 foot wire fence, took bark off two trees fifteen feet from the ground, completely obliterated a large cedar tree, and landed upside down at the foot of the valley.

P.C. Forrest Inch of the town police force was called to the scene and Dr. J. H. Chamberlain treated the injured men before they were removed by ambulance to Brampton.

The accident victim was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Malyk, residents of Milton for a year, and he also leaves one brother Arthur. Both he and the driver were employees of Ontario Steel Products.

The funeral service was held this afternoon at the McNab and Son funeral chapel, Milton.

AT ESQUESING COUNCIL

Advance Tax Payment Time to October 15th

Esquensing Township Council held two meetings this month, one on June 4th and another on June 6th.

A by-law was introduced to enlarge the township school area to take in the Stone School. Ratepayers in the school section voted some time ago to join the area, and the transfer will take place effectively January 1 next year.

Tax payment date was changed. From now on taxes will become due October 15th each year, instead of December 15th. A discount will be allowed if paid by September 1st.

The distance at which a gasoline pump or service island may be located from a road allowance in the township was set at 20 feet and future installations of this nature will have to conform to this ruling.

John Currie and L. Thornton received $30 each for foxes destroyed under the county by-law.

Sheep claims totalled $84 — $30 to Donald Lindsay for a sheep and lamb, and $54 to W. A. Cook for 3 lambs destroyed by dogs. N. A. Stark received $16 for 4 trips as valuator.

GLEN WILLIAMS

CHORLEY NURSERY SCHOOL CLOSING

A graduation ceremony for members of Chorley Park nursery school took place recently when some six members of Mrs. Marjory Newman's school graduated, complete with mortar boards and caps.

There was an excellent number of parents and others interested present to see the children give an excellent program of dances and songs including, among others, a greeting, "Good Evening", Bobby Shafto, a Rhythm Band, The Sailor's Hornpipe, Highland Fling and Minuet, as well as a number of solos.

At the end of the evening diplomas, hand made by H. J. Newman, husband of the teacher, were presented to the six 'graduates'.

Mrs. Newman was presented with a beautiful bouquet of flowers by her pupils.

Children enrolled in the nursery school this year included: David Clark, Blake Chamberlain, Donald Macintosh, Douglas Goodlet, Lidianne and Cathy Beer, Frances McCracken, Andrea Smith, Paul Sanderson, Danny Dew, Denise Ussel, Teresa Gwizdala, Lyle Winfield, Billy Calder.

WIN FIRST LACROSSE GAME LAST NIGHT

Georgetown N&Gs started their winning ways last night at Dundas, winning 16-6 for their first in four starts.

Widdis, Beaumont, McCandless and Caruso shared in the scoring orgy. Last Wednesday the team dropped an 18-8 game in Owen Sound, fading in the last period after making a good showing with a short-handed team.

Must Find Canvassers Or Pool Stays Closed

In a last ditch effort to have the community swimming pool open within the next few weeks, committee directors have called a public meeting next Monday evening in the Arena Rose Room.

Those who have served as canvassers already and those who wish to volunteer their services in this capacity, are particularly invited to attend, as well as anyone who can be helpful with ideas for raising the $18,000 needed to complete the pool.

Meanwhile, as Georgetown swelters in an early summer heat spell, a swimming pool in which some $32,000 has been invested by generous supporters, must stand empty, pending raising of the extra money needed for plumbing and electrical work.

There is no need to wait for a canvasser to call at your home. Those making their first donation, or those who may wish to add to what they have already given, may do so at either of the local banks. The money is needed immediately, or there will be no swimming in Georgetown this season.
