Mr. and Mrs. Herman Klooster
Married at Grand Valley

The Latter Day Saint Church in Grand Valley was the scene of the wedding on Saturday, June 2nd, with Elder R. J. Farthing, officiating at the marriage of Ruth Isabel Taylor, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Taylor, of East Garafraxa, and Herman Klooster, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Klooster, of Ospringe.

Baskets of mums, snapdragons, gladioli and sweet peas decorated the church for the double-ring ceremony. The wedding music was played by Miss Lorna Taylor, of Grand Valley, and Mrs. Muriel Firth of Georgetown, a friend of the bride, sang "God Hath Not Promised," before the ceremony and "I Love You Truly" during the signing of the register.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor-length wedding gown of nylon tulle over taffeta with chantilly lace bodice descending into a train. The bolero jacket was buttoned in front from neck to waistline. The sleeves were made in lily point fashion. Her Queen's crown was highlighted with sequins which held the fingertip veil of tulle illusion. She carried a cascade of sweetheart roses tied with red satin ribbon and white satin streamers tied in baby bows fell from the cascade.

The matron of honour, sister of the groom, Tini Klooster, was gowned in pink brocaded chantilly tulle over taffeta. The bolero jacket was of brocade chantilly lace and she wore fingerless gloves of net to match. Her headdress was of nylon pleated tulle trimmed with sequins. She carried a nosegay of yellow mums.

The bridesmaid, Jean Parker, the cousin of the bride, wore a pretty gown of nylon embroidered lace and taffeta in Nile green shade, fashioned strapless with bolero to match. Her gloves and halo of pleated lace, were of matching shade. She carried a nosegay of yellow mums.

The junior bridesmaid, Bonnie Logan, cousin of the bride, wore a gown of yellow nylon net over taffeta with lily point sleeves and fingerless gloves. Her halo was of pleated nylons, she carried a nosegay of pink snapdragons.

The little flowergirl, niece of the groom, wore a dress of pale blue satin, a pleated halo of satin and white gloves and carried a bouquet of pink snapdragons.

The best man was Ivan Penfold. The ushers were Kenneth Haws and Henry Klooster.

Following the ceremony the bride's mother, received the guests, wearing a navy blue printed crepe satin dress with white accessories and she wore a corsage of pink carnations.

The groom's mother receive in a black brocaded lace over crepe silk dress with matching accessories and she wore a corsage of pink carnations.

The bride's table was centred with a three-tiered wedding cake and pink candles.

The waitresses were friends of the bride, Orma McBride, Alice Taylor, Lorna Taylor, Mary Haws, Norma Watson, Melrose Mann, Florence McDonald and Evelyn Bayne.

Over ninety guests from Grand Valley, Alton, Erin, Hillsburgh, Brampton, Georgetown, Ospringe, Rockwood, Drayton, Glen Williams, Belwood and Hveston, BC, partook of a wedding dinner, the caterers being the women of the Latter Day Saint Church.

Elder R. J. Farthing acted as the toastmaster. He proposed a toast to the bride which was responded to by the groom, Herman Klooster. Toast to the bridesmaids was by Ivan Penfold, responded to by Kenneth Haws, to the bride's mother, by Joe Boersma, to the groom's mother, by Harvey Taylor. Short speeches of thanks on behalf of the bride's parents, were given by Norman Haws to the waitresses, by Laura Farthing to caterers, and Margaret Taylor extended a warm invitation to relatives of the parents of the bride to see the gifts.

Mr. Arnold Bayne spoke on behalf of the friends and neighbours.

The bride chose for travelling a paper taffeta blue and white dress, pink wool shortie, white accessories and a corsage of pink carnations. After a short honeymoon, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Klooster will reside at 1 Academy Road, Georgetown.

Visited Daughter Here
Dies Few Hours Later

Mrs. Audrey Scott's father, William McLeod died very suddenly on Sunday, June 10th at his home in Etobicoke in his sixty sixth year. Mr. and Mrs. McLeod had spent the afternoon with Mrs. Scott at 12 Church Street and left about five thirty and at eight thirty in the evening Mrs. Scott received the word her father had died sitting in his chair.

Mrs. McLeod was the former Ly-la Hawthorne of Aetna and she survives her husband. Mr. McLeod had lived in Toronto nearly all his life. Born in Brooklyn he attended school there and later in Whitby but his family moved to Toronto when he was quite young. He had worked with the same firm, McMillan Cartage and Storage Company for forty five years and had just retired one year ago. He served with the armed forces for four years during the first world war.

Besides his wife he is survived by a son Ray of Toronto, daughters Audrey, Mrs. Scott of Georgetown, Dorothy, Mrs. Thos. Woods, Toronto, one granddaughter, Patricia Scott of Georgetown, one sister Mrs. William Henry of Toronto and one brother Art McLeod of Toronto.

Rev. Ray Costerus is Ordained to Ministry

Rev. Ray Costerus, pastor of Aetna Baptist Church, was ordained last week.

Named council's moderator for the ordination was Rev. Fred Bennett, moderator of the Guelph Association. Rev. Alfred Barker of Georgetown was clerk.

Dinner was served to about 60 delegates from Stratford, St. Marys, Galt, Hillsburgh, Cheltenham, Belfountain, Brampton, Georgetown, Kitchener, Preston, New Dundee and Guelph.

Mr. Costerus' parents and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Costerus and Miss Helen Costerus of Toronto, Mr. Fred Errett and Mrs. Clara Luggden of Toronto, Mr. and Mrs. Ewing of Burns, superintendent of home missions, Toronto, took part in the service. Rev. Gordon Crofoot of Stratford gave the charge to the minister.

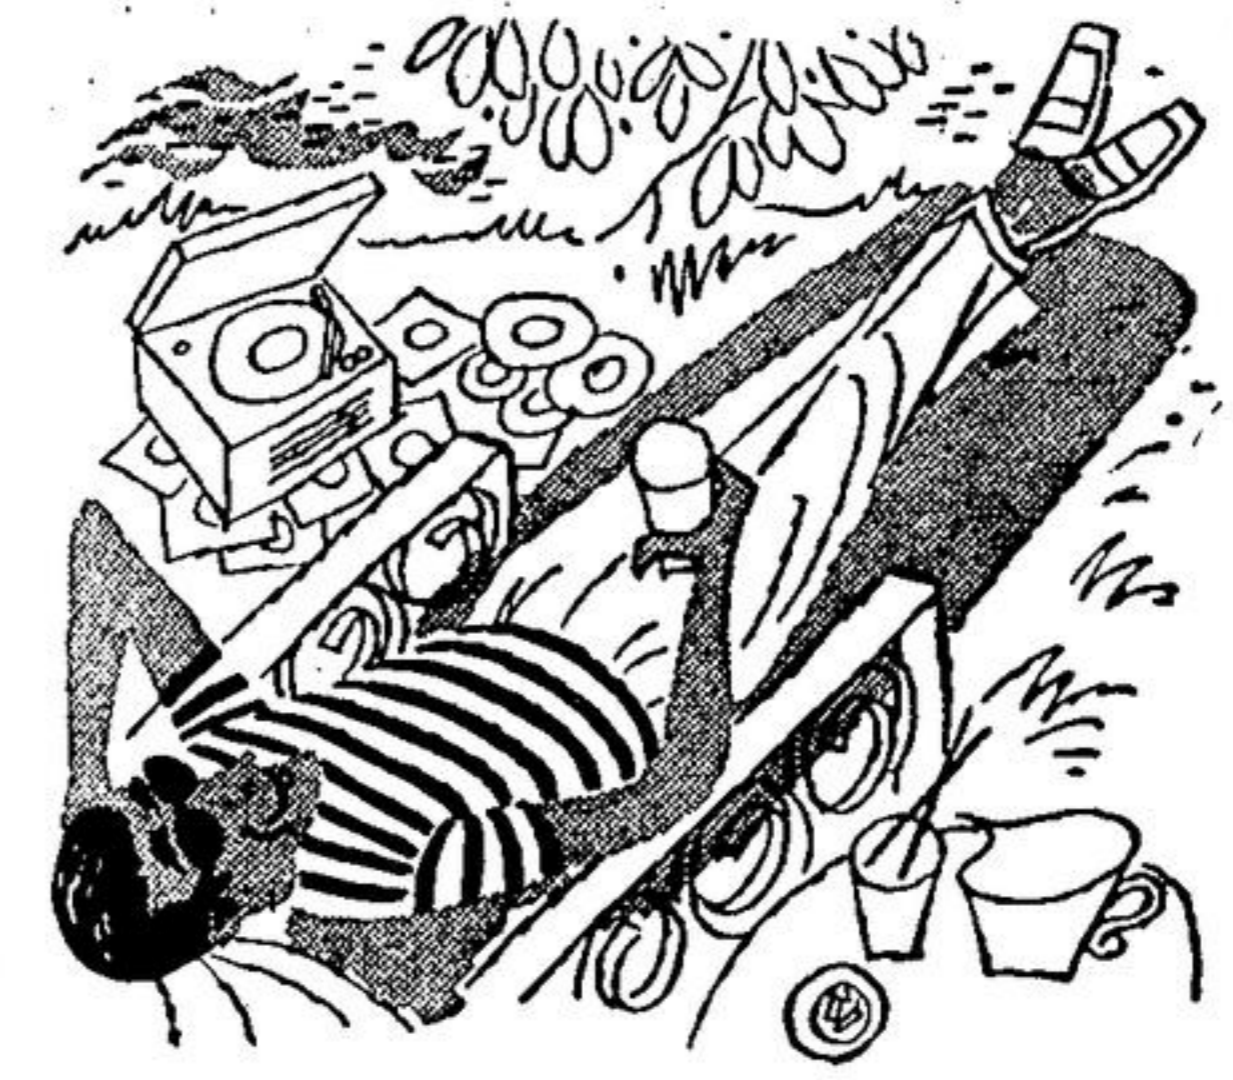

Afternoon and evening sessions were marred for friends when Howard Lambert suffered a heart attack during the dinner hour. He was taken to hospital in Guelph and died a few days later. Mr. and Mrs. Lambert moved to Guelph several weeks ago and had come back for the ordination.
