WHAT COUNCIL DID

Ratepayers Groups Keep Council Late Says Dale

"We have too many ratepayers associations taking up council's time and keeping us late every meeting" said Cr. LeRoy Dale at last week's meeting.

Mr. Dale's remarks came as the midnight hour approached. He wondered if some of the little matters which ratepayers bring to council might not be submitted to committee chairmen, rather than brought before the whole council.

"I like to be cooperative" he continued "but a lot of time is being wasted on little matters." Mayor Armstrong said it is his hope, when renovations of the municipal building is completed, to have a committee room, and committee chairmen will be in the room on certain advertised nights, when ratepayers can visit them to discuss problems with them.

This may save some council time, he said, although this would not be designed to stop a ratepayer from discussing any matter with council should he so desire.

Mayor Armstrong said that Harold Cleave is interested in opening up a portion of his property for seven building lots which would front on an extension of Charles St. The town owns land in the vicinity, and it is important to both parties, he said, that a road be so placed that it will not isolate any land.

Reeve Stan Allen said everything must have a starting point, and that Mr. Cleave should prepare a plan and present it to council.

"The town and Mr. Cleave should get together and have a map made so each can find out what they own" was Cr. Dale's suggestion.

LEAFY SPURGE

J. E. W.

During the past week, county weed inspector Thomas Bradley has reported to us the location of several outbreaks of Leafy Spurge. All of these outbreaks which have been located to date are in Trafalgar Township. Leafy Spurge is the worst weed that we can think of at the moment. Wild Carrot, Chicory, Sow Thistle, and the like can be considered garden flowers, when compared with Leafy Spurge. It is a long lived, deep rooted perennial, weed somewhat woody at the base and containing a milky fluid. According to our literature the roots extend deep into the soil, often to

135 More Telephones
With Added Equipment

Additional dial telephone equipment in the Bell Telephone exchange building on Main street went into operation on July 3, and as a result, 135 more families in the Georgetown area have received telephone service, Lloyd G. Denby, Bell manager for Georgetown said this week.

For several weeks technicians were busy installing the intricate switching devices to provide more TRiangle 7 telephone numbers. The additional switching facilities are expected to provide for the telephone needs of this area for some time to come.

Outside, telephone line construction crews have been adding to the network of wire and cable to provide telephone lines in newly developed sections of the Georgetown exchange area. This outside work will continue through the year.

"As this outside work is completed, more telephones will be installed progressively to meet the expected heavy demand for service," said Mr. Denby.

"As a result of these projects, it is now possible for telephone users in many sections of the Georgetown exchange area to change from party-line to individual telephone service, if they wish."

The Hog Situation

J. E. W.

"There has been gloom over the hog situation for some time, but brighter skies now appear to be breaking through." This is the statement of Prof. D. R. Campbell, of the Department of Agricultural Economics, in the last issue of the Ont. Farm Business. According to Prof. Campbell, we are consuming roughly 11 to 12 thousand more hogs per week now than we did in 1955. While DRS figures indicate that we should expect an increase of 2 per cent in the number of hogs coming to market next fall, nevertheless in view of the increased consumption, the hog situation in Canada looks somewhat brighter for this fall than it was a year ago. This is in line with what is expected in the United States. To quote from the U.S. Department of Agriculture: "Hog slaughter will drop below that of 1955 some time this fall and will stay below for some time to come. Hog prices in the late months of this year are expected to average higher than the relatively low prices of a year earlier."
