"Your Silent Servant"

An official valve turning ceremony, allowing natural gas to flow into the Georgetown distribution system for the first time, will take place at the regulating station on the Eighth Line, Tuesday August 21 at 11.30 a.m.

Residents of Georgetown, and those immediately bordering the transmission line to Georgetown, please note: If you have requested natural gas service, or if you are contemplating the use of natural gas, call the local gas office, TR. 7-3921, to arrange for the installation of the gas meter.

When your appliances are connected, we will endeavour to see that you get the most efficient and economical results from your use of natural gas. For any further information, call TR. 7-3921.
