LEGION NOTES
by Leslie Clark

Well, all our new furniture is now here, and the man who is in charge of the refurbishing (Harold McClure) is busy getting everything lined up. We think the room is going to look top notch when it is finished, and hope the members will appreciate it and keep it the way it's supposed to be.

Jim Murphy has arranged something special for refreshments on the occasion of the grand opening, which is scheduled to take place at our next regular meeting Sept. 27th. We understand a real big night is planned so be on hand for it. (Understand Jimmy wants to bring some dancing girls, but the executive are a little on the stodgy side.) We're all for you, Jimmy. No need to dampen your plans because the executive are getting a bit settled in their ways!

Seriously, tho', we believe an effort is being made to get some entertainment, so let's have a real turnout for a bang-up affair!

Excellent crowds attended the two decoration days services held last Sunday in Port Credit and in Milton respectively. Quite a large number attended the parade in Milton from Branch 120.

The corn roast was a great success and Jim and his helpers deserve a lot of credit for the hard work that went into it. We hope everyone realizes that there is an awful lot of hard slugging for one of these affairs, usually left to a very small handful of willing workers.

The service officers' school was held in Milton last Monday evening. Our officer, Wallace Thompson attended, representing Branch 120.

We hope we can round up a few volunteers to go to the district convention in Woodstock in mid-October. This is one place where we think the Branch is missing the boat by not attending the district meetings because they are very interesting and a good time may be had as well as them. How about some of our membership thinking it over?

(Don't say you didn't hear about THIS, Messrs. Cross and Wilcox.)

Brampton is playing host to a gathering of Legionnaires tomorrow night and Branch 120 has received a special invitation. Hope that there are a bunch down from town.

And may we say thanks publicly to Chief Roy Haley for a wonderful job handling the traffic situation a week ago Sunday. He and his men deserve a hearty vote of thanks for their efforts to make the parade a successful one.

We've been asked a goodly number of times why the television film wasn't procured for showing at the Legion some night, so here's the answer.

The writer contacted Station CHCI as soon as possible, but the film had already been destroyed. On top of that, evidently television requires the picture taken from the negative itself which reverses the black and white process, and would mean another print would have to be made, which, while easily done, would have been prohibitively expensive. We were interested ourselves, because we had thought of obtaining it and showing it to the different units appearing in the parade, as well as the various branches in the zone. However, we'll have all the angles taped for the next time! This was sort of a hit and miss affair, in getting the event covered, starting from a casual conversation.

Have you got your zone tickets yet? If not, do so at once. While we haven't got too many selling them the ones that are really supersalespeople. And we would like to publicly thank two ladies for helping us to get them sold. Mrs. Tom Grieve who started the ball rolling and did a wonderful job of selling the day of the parade, as well as since, and Mrs. Alex Taylor, who seems to be disposing of them faster than I can keep her supplied! (don't take me seriously, Mrs. T., I'm willing to keep trying). Thanks, ladies. A number of the boys have also been good enough to take some books. And if you readers think this is a broad-hint, it is so you ticket sellers contact the writer!

Our membership drive is starting soon, and let's everyone get out and get a new member! It doesn't take a great deal of work and will be really appreciated by your local Branch.

Georgetown Flower Girl At Acton Cousin's Wedding
A wedding of local interest took place on Saturday, September 1st at St. Alban's Anglican Church, Acton, when Raymond Walter Wallis, son of Mrs. Marie Wallis and the late Mr. Thomas Wallis took as his bride, Carol Agnes Edwina, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Tyler of Phoenix, Arizona. Baskets of white gladioli decorated the church. The bride's parents are former Acton residents. Her father was employed in the Georgetown Liquor Control Board Store before moving to Arizona.

The soloist, Fabian Doucette, was accompanied by Mrs. Frank Oakes at the organ. He sang the Lord's Prayer before the ceremony and "Come to Thee" while the bride and groom were signing the register.

Rev. Evan Jones officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore an embroidered floor length tulle gown with a fitted bodice and tiered bouffant skirt. Her fingertip veil of fine illusion veiling was caught to a scalloped headdress of iridescent sequins and tiny pearls. She carried a white orchid pinned to a white prayer book with satin ribbon and streamers.

The bride was attended by three bridesmaids, wearing waltz length gowns of pink crystal charm, styled in a Princess line, featuring hem length streamers and Bertha necklines. Picture hats and shoes in the same shade completed their ensembles and they carried sheaves of white poms and pink rosebuds with silver streamers.

The bridesmaids were Miss Irene Wallis, Williamsburg, sister of the groom, Miss Brenda Huffman, Burlington, cousin of the bride and Mrs. Walter Wilson, Milton, close friend of the bride.

Miss Lorraine Tyler, sister of the bride, was the maid of honour and wore a matching aqua gown and accessories. She carried white poms and red rosebuds with identical streamers.

Miss Peggy Tyler, Georgetown cousin of the bride, was flower girl and wore yellow crystal charm with matching headdress of yellow mums and carried a basket of bronze mums.

Lyle Wallis, brother of the groom, was best man, and the ushers were Robert Tyler, Acton, brother of the bride, Ronald Ryder and Donald Kearney of Milton. The ushers and father of the bride were attired in white dinner jackets and dark trousers. The groom wore a navy suit.

Following the ceremony, the bride's mother received about 140 guests at a reception held at the Legion auditorium. She wore a dress of copper silk corded nylon with matching accessories and a corsage of yellow sweetheart roses. The groom's mother, who assisted, was attired in navy blue crepe with matching accessories and wore a corsage of pink roses.

The bride and groom cut the four-tiered wedding cake which had been made by the bride's mother in Phoenix, while dinner music was provided by Eric Paige at the piano.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallis will reside in Acton on their return from their wedding trip to Algonquin Park, Ottawa and Northern Ontario. As a travelling costume, the bride wore a sandalwood ensemble with beige accessories. Her corsage was the white orchid from her prayer book.

They left after a bevy of friends gathered at the door and showered them with confetti, while the bride threw her bouquet.

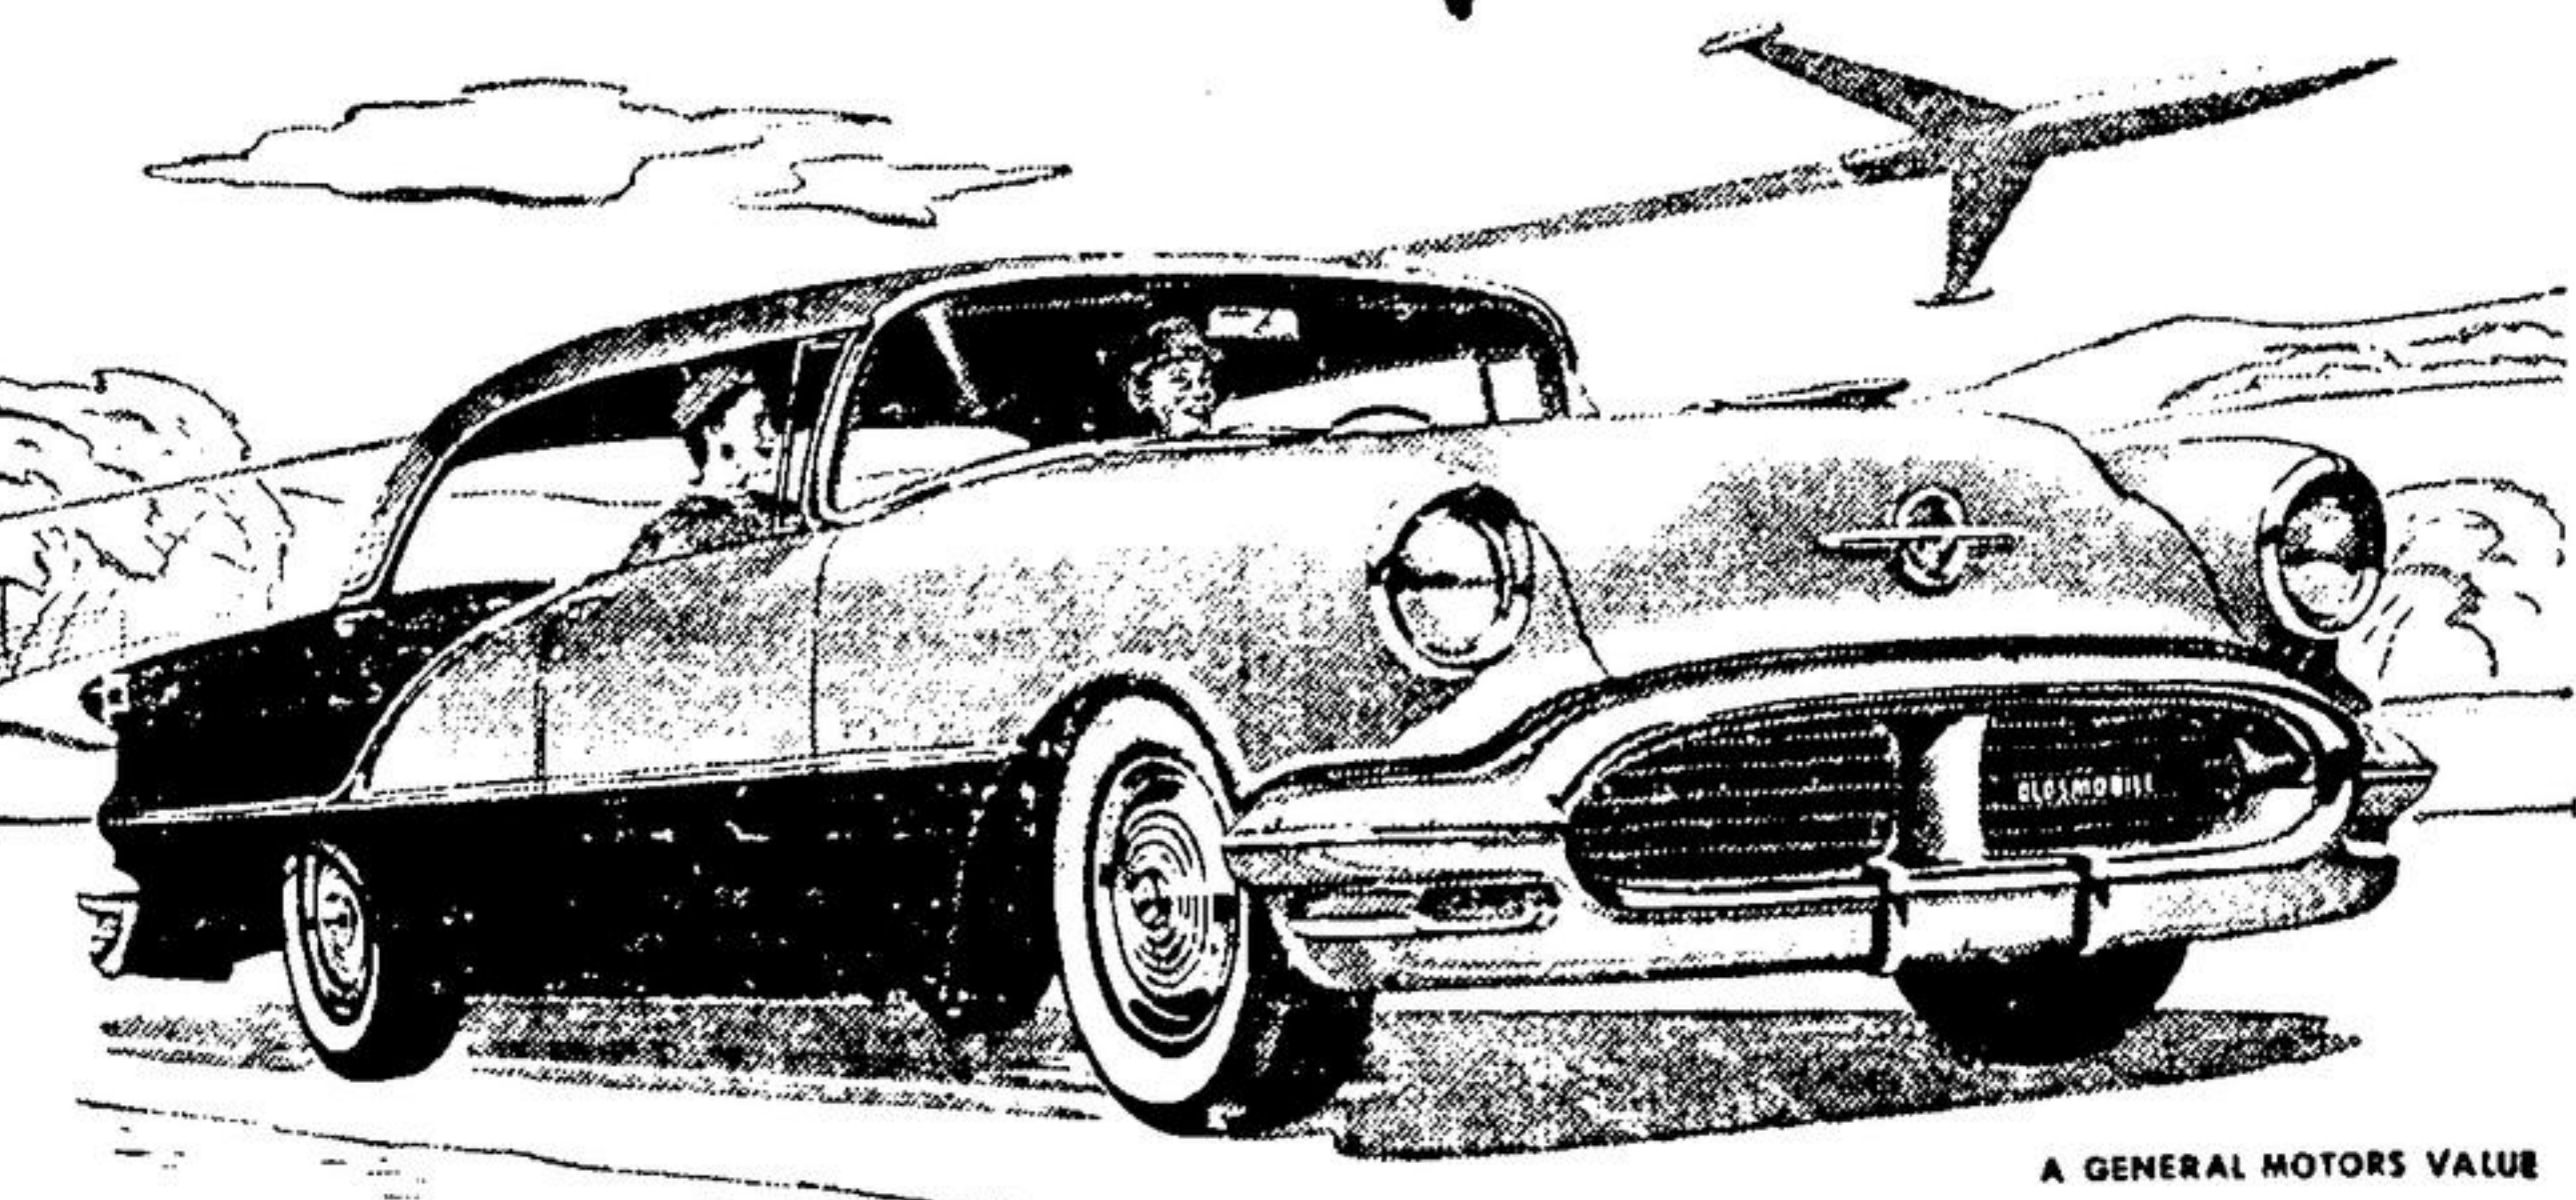

Guests attended from Milton, Guelph, Williamsburg, Burlington, Hamilton, St. Catharines, Georgetown, Dundas, Campbellville, Oakville, Brampton, Cardinal and Acton.
