WARNING!

It is illegal to discharge firearms anywhere within the town limits of Georgetown.

THERE HAVE BEEN COMPLAINTS THAT PEOPLE ARE SHOOT-ING, PARTICULARLY IN THE VALLEY AREAS NEAR NEW SUBDIVISIONS.

It is a dangerous practice, particularly when so many young children are playing in the area, and offenders are warned that they will be prosecuted.

ROY HALEY, Chief of Police.

MINISTERS MAY FORM DISTRICT ASSOCIATION

A ministerial association compri sing all ministers in this area of North Halton is being promoted by three Norval clergymen.

Rev. J. E. Maxwell, Rev. G. Leckhart Royal and Rev. W. Edgar Gill met last Thursday at the United Church parsonage in Norvar to consider such an organization Mr. Gill was named secretary and Mr. Royal chairman and it was suggested that neighbouring ministers, particularly those in Georgetown, te consulted about organizing a Credit Valley ministerial associa-

Discussion concerned cooperative activities such as united services on Sunday evenings and during the week of prayer, and in Lent 1957, a united evangelistic effort; joint midweek meetings for prayer and fellowship; teaching of the bible in area schools. Another meeting was held Monday at Mr. Royal's home, when i was reported that encouragement had been received from the chairman and secretary of the Georgetown ministerial association. Plans were made to invite ministers from Georgetown, Huttonville, Hornby, Ballinafad and Cheltenham to meet at Norval on the morning of November 5th.

ing the schools from Cheltenham FAVOURITE HYMNS The secretary set up a map showto Hornby and plans were madbegin regular visits to 'hem November 1st, or as soon as arrangements can be made with teachers who have, in most instances, re quested this service as provided for in the school regulations.

Mr. Maxwell was congratulated vice. on his appointment as Anglican rural dean of Halton, and invited to explain his duties. An interesting discussion of closed rural churches in the area followed, without any plan emerging. Mr. Maxwell, invited the group to his home next Monday to set up an agenda for the Nov. 5th meeting.

ASHGROVE

POTTERY DEMONSTRATION VIEWED BY INSTITUTE

The Women's Institute held their October meeting at the home of Mrs. C. B. Dick with thirtythree ladies and several children attending. Roll Call was answered by "What I saw of interest at our Fall Fair." Mrs. Percy Leslie was in charge of the program and called on Mrs. Leslie Giffen for the motto "Home is a place of peace." Nancy Hunter sang two solos acompanied by Mrs. Frank Wilson at the piano after which Mrs. John Belboddy gave an amus ing reading 'Burdock's Music Box.' Current events were given by Mrs. R. J. Graham. Mrs. J. Wyatt of Georgetown gave a very interesting demonstration on pottery which was very much enjoyed by the ladies. In the business period which followed a donation was voted toward the Unitarian Service Committee. It was decided to organize a Project Litter Bug poster contest for the school children in the community and a committee was put in charge of this. A committee was also appointed to plan a fall euchre party. Mrs. John M. Bird reported that the W.I. had eighty entries at Georgetown Fair and won prizes on three quarters of these.

Mrs. George Nurse briefly discussed the resolutions presented at the area convention held in Guelph and said that the resolution submitted by Ashgrove Institute was carried. After lunch an auction sale of baking, fancy work and of plants was held with Mrs. Francis Thompson as auctioneer who did the job splendidly. The CGIT girls and mothers held meeting on Sunday afternoon in the basement of the church.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wilson and Marilyn attended anniversary services on Sunday at Woodbridge United Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Wilson and Bill were Sunday visitors with her brother, Mr. and Mrs. James Miles at Weston.

GLEN WILLIAMS

AT CHURCH SERVICE

The evening service at Glen Williams United Church was a little different from usual Sunday, as the congregation sang favourite hymns of their own choosing for the first twenty minutes of the ser-

The theme of the service was the "unpopular" law of Christ demanding that his followers deny themselves to some regard, . and take up their crosses daily and manfully. Rev. W. E. Gill took his scripture lesson from Luke 9, verses 18-26. Illustrations of this high level of courage are found, he said, in war veterans who have suffered amputations and are proud to have served their nation and to be cheerful and independent in spite of their disability.

Bob Hynds Was Glen Bandsman

Well remembered here as a member of the old Glen band, R. J. (Bob) Hynds, 69, died recently in St. Catharines where he had lived for several years.

An Acton native, where his father operated a jewellery store, Mr. Hynds came to Glen Williams as a young man to work in a glove factory operated by the late Joseph Beaumont. There he married Ir. ene Graham.

He was a trombonist in the village band and he served with a military band during the first world war. After returning from overseas service he had an insurance business in Georgetown, later took a position as messenger at the Bank of Commerce. The family moved to Hamilton and later to St. Catharines where he had been a car salesman for many years.

Surviving are his wife and four children, Mrs. Wilhelmine Symonds, Robert, Graham and Percy. The children are all resident of Hamilton.

Interment was made in St. Catharines cemetery where a graveside Legion service followed the service at a funeral home.
