Are Georgetowners adjusted to their growth?

During the past quarter century, our economy has broadened and deepened . . . our population has increased by more than 50%. Are we satisfied today with the manner of life our our parents? Do we want to continue in a horse and buggy era?

We are no longer in the wings . . . we are on the stage, in the spotlight with other progressive communities.

Ten years ago artifical ice was installed in your arena. This was financed by sale of debentures, which have all been paid off During this period the youth of our community have enjoyed its facilities.

Like every home, business or industry, certain maintenance and improvements are necessary. Money must be spent to keep a place modern, efficient and adequate to community require-
