Rotarians Sponsor A Wonderful Evening

Lamhouse,
December 11th, 1956
Dear Mr. Editor:
Monday night, my husband and I were included in a group of people who donated some of their time to a most entertaining and enjoyable evening.

And egg nog time is extra enjoyable when you fill the bowl with our old-fashioned egg nog. It's smoothly blended... rich... delicately flavored. Everybody loves it! Order a couple of quarts TODAY.

person's and wisdom, their knowledge of what has gone before is part of the pattern of their life. They are people who have matured with our growth from village status and have a deep respect for the past and a confidence in the future.

I have always respected and had a certain sympathy for older people, who are sometimes passed by as we rush on with our own interests. We seem to be in too much of a hurry to give thought to them.

That is why I think a very heavy vote of thanks should be given the Rotarians for their thoughtfulness in transporting these good people to and from the party, and their wives who spent many hours preparing a most delicious turkey dinner. It was an evening we all will remember.

COSTIGAN-HARRISON VOWS AT ST. GEORGE'S CHURCH

Mr. and Mrs. James Anson Costigan, who were married Friday evening in St. George's Anglican Church, are motoring in the southern States on their honeymoon trip.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Costigan and is employed at Provincial Paper Ltd. His bride, Joan Louise Harrison is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Harrison, 45 Ontario Street. She is employed in the payroll department of Smith and Stone Ltd.

The bride wore a cathedral length gown of tulle and rosepoint lace. The one-piece design featured a V-neckline with red sequins and hly point sleeves. The bouffant skirt was of alternate layers in tulle and rosepoint lace worn over slipper satin. Her french imported silk illusion veil fell from a hat which featured tulle braiding. She carried red roses and white Stephanotis.

Mrs. Elmer Fendley was her sister's matron of honour. She wore a midnight blue ballerina length gown of crystal and nylon filled in a two-piece design. The tulle basque was cuffed with tulle, pleating for highlight and featuring a low pointed waistline which flowed into a crystal panel. The bouffant skirt was of tulle over silk bengaline. The bolero jacket had elbow length sleeves and shawl collar. She wore a head-dress of matching midnight blue feathers, and carried a bouquet of yellow roses.

Cec Greenslade, Brampton was groomsmen and Danny Sinclair, Hamilton, a cousin of the groom, was usher. Mr. Harrison gave his daughter in marriage.

Receiving afterwards in the parish hall, the bride's mother wore a navy blue silk dress with pink hat and pink rose corsage. The groom's mother assisted, wearing periwinkle blue tulle and lace, matching shoes and hat and a corsage of pink roses. Honoured guests at the wedding and reception were the groom's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. James Costigan, Sr., 55 John St.

For traveling the bride wore a large wool sheath dress, a beige hat, brown shoes and carried a matching bag. She wore a corsage of yellow roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Costigan will be living at 29 Market St.

Gibbons Place Kids Have Community Party

The mothers living on Gibbons Place put a very nice community spirit into action on Monday afternoon by giving a community Christmas party for all the children living there. It took place at the home of Mrs. Lee-Thompson at No. 16.

Nineteen children were present and had a wonderful time, each of them receiving Christmas crackers, balloons, candy canes, and a gift from Santa Claus who took time out from his busy schedule to be present.

SCHOOL CHOIRS PLAN SINGING FOR TOWN

Next Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday evenings the people of Georgetown are going to be able to enjoy the lovely voices of the choirs from the three schools and Monday evening the Boys' Band will also be playing over the loud speaker system of St. John's United Church.

Monday evening, Harrison School choir and the boys' band will be heard. Tuesday, Wrigglesworth School choir and Wednesday the Chapel Street choir. It will be a lovely thing to hear the choir voices coming over the speakers into the crisp Christmas air.

ACTION FAIR BOARD STEWARTTOWN EUCHRE

Action Agricultural Society sponsored a well attended euchre party and dance in Esqueving Community Hall, Stewarttown on Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Stan Matthews were prize-winners at cards, while Mrs. S. Robb and Willard Britton won second prizes. William Thompson and Mrs. Hamilton won prizes for having the most lone hands.

J. J. Atkins, Stewarttown was winner of the door prize, and Mr. and Mrs. Atkins also won a prize for being the oldest married couple attending the party.

Elizabeth Gibson and Frank Wilson were spot dance winners and Mrs. Wallace Swackhammer and Harold Robinson won an elimination dance.

Georgetown B & P Women Hold Cedarvale Party

Instead of holding a Christmas party just for themselves the members of the Business and Professional Women's Club asked permission to hold a party for the Girls at Cedarvale School and this took place on Monday evening, December 10th. The members were taken on a tour of the school prior to the party by some of the girls. Mrs. Stan Wade was in charge of the entertainment and provided some hilarious games and contests for everyone. The club provided a lunch of sandwiches, cookies and ice cream after which gifts were given to each girl. It was a most enjoyable party for the members and girls alike.

A very short meeting was held after the party to arrange for help for the Hungarian people who are moving to town and it was decided to try to have their cupboards filled with food for them when they arrive here. A hamper will be placed in McClure's Home Furnishings store where anyone may leave their donations of staple foods or a donation of cash to purchase what is not donated. It was felt that perhaps the town's people who felt they could not make a large donation at this time could leave enough money to purchase two or three cans of something. The members felt that their Christmas dinners would be more palatable if they knew they had helped even in a small way, these people who have been through such a tragic experience.
