HITS HYDRO POLE TO AVOID CAR

A motorist travelling north on Main Street last Saturday tangled with a hydro pole rather than hit another car and emerged with a cut over his left eye plus $400 damage to the front of his car.

George Stringer, 5 Durham St., was travelling towards Acton when he overtook another northbound car. Unable to decrease his speed fast enough because of slippery road conditions, he attempted to pass.

A southbound car made this impossible and left Mr. Stringer with no alternative but to take to the west ditch where he hit the pole. Dr. Alistair Macintosh treated the face lacerations. Corporal Jim Bilsborrow investigated the accident.

THREE CARS MEET DAMAGES MINOR

A minor three car collision at the corner of Elm and Ontario Sts. on Monday caused a total of approximately $150 damage to the vehicles involved while the drivers escaped serious injury.

The mishap occurred when a car driven by Clifford Burt, of 123 Main Street, proceeding north on Ontario street stopped just south of Elm to allow the south bound traffic to clear before making a left turn.

A southbound car driven by Vernon McCumber, of 12 Chapel St., was approaching the corner when the driver of the 3rd car, Henry Hundrich, of 11 Manchester Street, Galt, thinking the McCumber vehicle was going to turn down Elm Street pulled out onto Ontario St.

The Hundrich car struck the right fender of the McCumber vehicle, knocking it sideways into the standing Burt car.
Cst. Nelson Trafford of the local police investigated.
