Other officers elected Tuesday were James Andrews, deputy master; Harry Brandford, marshal; Albert Dawson, chaplain; Frank Anderson, 1st committeeman; Charles Davis, 1st lecturer; Percy Clark, 2nd lecturer; Joe Hall, Sr., treasurer; Fred McNally, recording secretary; Joe Hall, Jr., secretary.
Installation, in charge of Ernie Rawson, deputy county master, and Joe Hall, Jr. was conducted after the election.

GLEN WILLIAMS
UNITED CHURCH HAS CHRISTMAS CONCERT

Rev. W. Edgar Gill was chairman at the Sunday School concert Thursday in Glen Williams United Church, when pupils presented a program of songs, recitations, carols and dialogues.
A special feature was showing of a film "Scrooge's Christmas" with Mr. Gill reading the story which appeared at the bottom of the film, for the benefit of the youngsters.
After Santa had distributed his gifts, he was asked how things were up north, and reported that feed is a little scarce this winter. He was instructed to pick up a load of hay at John Wagstaff's to take home on the return trip.
Sunday school superintendent Mrs. Wagstaff thanked parents for turning out in such good numbers for the concert, which was followed by lunch served to everyone present.

Sorry to report that Mrs. John Hepburn is ill again and her friends wish her a speedy recovery.
Mr. and Mrs. Bert Bullock were Sunday visitors with the Alf Allens in Nassagaweya.

MEMORIALS

BLAIR—In loving memory of a dear son and brother, Pte. Reginald R. Blair, PPCLL, killed in action December 20th, 1944.
Days of sadness still come o'er us. Tears in silence often flow. For memory keeps you ever near us.
Though you died twelve years ago.—Always remembered by Mum, sisters and brother.

BLAIR—In loving memory of my dear dad, Pte. Reginald R. Blair, killed in action, December 20th, 1944.
I was not old enough to know But have been taught to love you so.
And while you lie in peaceful sleep
Your memory I will always keep.
—Always remembered by his son James, England.

CLARK—In loving memory of a dear wife and mother, Annie, who passed away December 21, 1953.
Gone from us, but leaving memories
Death can never take away; Memories that will always linger While upon this earth we stay.
—Always remembered by the Family.

DODGSON—In loving memory of a dear sister, Alice Walker Dodgson, who died December 19th, 1938.
Take her in thine arms dear Lord, And ever let her be
A messenger of love
Between our hearts and Thee.
—Hazel and George

DODGSON—In ever loving memory of Alice Walker Dodgson, who died December 19th, 1938. Beloved daughter of Mr. and Sam Walker.
Nothing can ever take away
The love a heart holds dear.
Fond memories linger every day
Remembrance keeps her near.
—Ever remembered by mother and father.

HILL—In loving memory of a dear son and brother, James Robert Hill, who died December 18th, 1952.
Gone dear James, gone forever.
How we miss your smiling face,
But you left me to remember,
None on earth can take your place.
A happy home we once enjoyed,
How sweet the memory still,
But death has left a loneliness
The world can never fill.
—Sadly missed by Mom and brothers and sisters.

HILL—In memory of our uncle and brother, Robert James Hill, who passed away Dec. 18, 1952.
Gone from us, but leaving memories.
Death can never take away,
Memories that will always linger,
While upon this earth we stay.
—Always remembered by Tom and Peg and sister Ruby and John and family.

CARDS OF THANKS
INGLIS—I would like to thank our neighbours for their wonderful acts of thoughtfulness on my brief stay in St. Joseph's Hospital, Guelph, also a word of thanks to the Fireman's W.A. Firemen and to all our friends who sent gifts and cards. —Marion Inglis.

McBRIDE—We wish to express sincere thanks and appreciation to our many relatives and friends for their kindness, sympathy and beautiful flowers extended during our recent sad bereavement in the loss of a dear mother. Special mention to Rev. Lockhart Royal and Rev. Kenneth Richardson — The Family.

TYERS—We would like to sincerely thank our friends and neighbours for their flowers, cards and gifts sent to us while we were in St. Joseph's Hospital, Guelph.—Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Tyers.

CAROLS, SKATING, DANCE HIGH SCHOOL FEATURES

Monday and Tuesday of this week the students of Georgetown High School have been holding their Christmas celebrations. In former years the school as a whole has held a party in the Assembly room, but with the increased number of students it was felt space was inadequate for such a large gathering, so grades nine and ten held a skating party on Monday afternoon while grades eleven, twelve and thirteen held a tea dance. These social events were arranged by the student council.

Tuesday the pupils as a whole held their annual Carol Service in St. John's United Church. Several students took part in the service and the school choir lead the singing of the carols under the direction of Kenneth R. Harrison who also played the organ. Those reading scriptures were Ian Murray, grade nine, Audrey Peregoud, grade ten, Sandra Bradley, grade twelve, Jacqueline Lucas, grade thirteen and Bob Crawford, president of the student council of grade thirteen. Rev. Kenneth Richardson and J. L. Lambert also read scriptures while Rev. Alfred Barker, Rev. Alex Calder and Rev. Morgan McFarlane lead in prayer. Sandra Sproule, Betty Jean Anderson and Doug Wrigglesworth were soloists and Sandra Sproule and Tom Forgrave sang a duet. The boys of grade thirteen were ushers.

REBEKAH PAST GRANDS HAVE TURKEY DINNER
The members of Verdun Rebekah Lodge Past Grand's Club held their annual Christmas turkey dinner in the McGibbon Hotel last Wednesday evening. Twenty members sat down to the appetizing dinner with Mrs. Elmer Dron, president of the club presiding. Mrs. E. Eyres of Buffalo was present for the occasion.
After dinner a short business meeting was held for the election of officers for the coming year. Mrs. Alfred Collins is president, Mrs. William Ritchie, treasurer, and Mrs. Dick Riddall, secretary. When business was concluded court whist was played with Mrs. Bob Jepson winning the first prize, Mrs. Jack McGibbon second and Miss Mabel Forgrave the third prize. The guests enjoyed Christmas cake and tea after their cards.

"Face Facts" — and Assure Forest's Future

Trees and Tree Farming Provide A Cash Crop

WINNIPEG—Right now the forest industries are Canada's biggest business. The woods operations, the pulp and paper companies, and the lumber mills together produce goods valued at some $4 billion a year. They employ close to 400,000 people and they annually pay out some $1½ billion in wages, more than any other Canadian producer. In addition, they account for a third of the nation's exports.

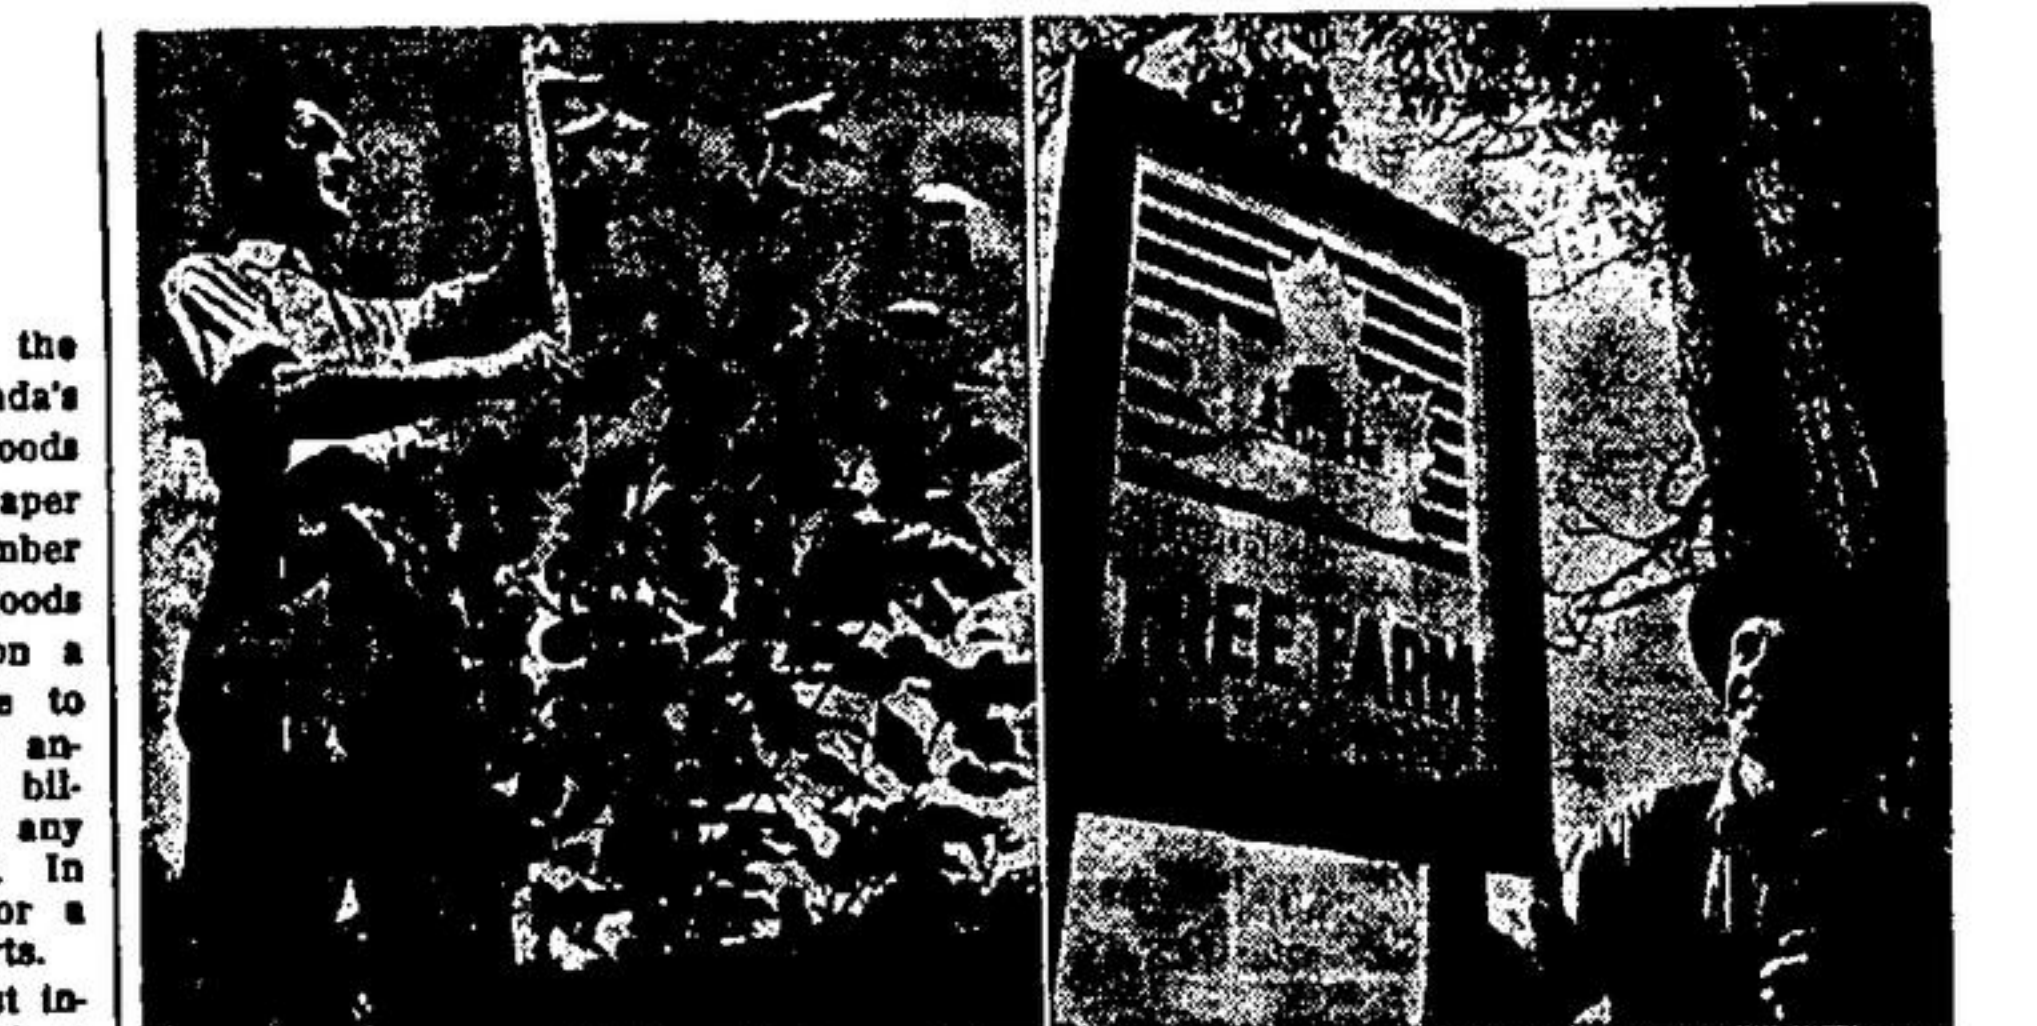

To do all this, the forest industries annually harvest a whopping 40 million cords of wood and purchase another $500 million of mill supplies and agricultural products. Yet within the next 25 years it is estimated that the wood harvest will increase to some 65 or 70 million cords. Forestry is big business now, but it's going to get a lot bigger.

These were the forest facts revealed at a National Forestry Conference held in Winnipeg this month. The Conference, attended by 150 representatives of leading national organizations studied the future of Canada's forests, especially how they should be used, managed, and conserved.

The conference was sponsored by the Canadian Chamber of Commerce, the Canadian Forestry Association, the Engineering Institute of Canada, and the Canadian Institute of Forestry. Its purpose was to bring together forestry experts, business men, government officials, and civic representatives to discuss ways and means of improving forest farming in Canada. The principal speaker was the Hon. Jean Lesage, Minister of Northern Affairs and National Resources, Ottawa.

J. L. Van Camp, secretary of the Conference and general manager of the Canadian Forestry Association called upon the Conference to frame a new forward-looking forest policy that will encourage forest management.

"Forest conservation should never mean forest preservation," said Mr. Van Camp. "There is no point in permitting trees to grow, mature, die, and then rot. The best kind of conservation is firmly rooted

In management, that is the growing and harvesting of trees on a perpetual yield basis, just like a farm crop. In this way we can keep our forests green forever, and yet reap a valuable harvest from them—a harvest that generates wealth for every Canadian." Speaking on the Tree Farm Movement, Mr. Van Camp said

It is the most important single step that individual Canadians have taken in active forest management. Hundreds of small and large private woodlot owners now display the Tree Farm sign as certification that they are growing trees on a managed basis to provide continuous crops, and that they are protecting their woodlots against fire, insects, and diseases. The Tree Farm Movement was initiated and sponsored by the pulp and paper industry and is administered by the Canadian Forestry Association. Anyone with a woodlot they are prepared to manage can apply for certification as a tree farmer.
