All of these business, military and church associates have become his friends over the years. Mr. Noble recalled some incident or accident concerning each one of them with remarkable clearness of memory. The relationships of people, the marriages, the children, their homes and accomplishments, all have been of the greatest interest to him. He demonstrated this interest in greeting each one with great pleasure through the afternoon and evening. A large number of letters and messages arrived from those who could not attend. Guests were welcomed by Mr. and Mrs. Egbert and Mr. Wm., Allen Dempsey, of Belleville, daughter of Col. Noble and their husbands, with the help
