PAST PRESIDENT'S PIN FOR CHARLOTTE McCULLOUGH

A director of the ladies section of Equine Agricultural Society, which sponsors Georgetown Fall Fair, Miss Charlotte McCullough presided over the annual convention of the Ontario Association of Agricultural Societies, of which she was president, at the King Edward Hotel in Toronto last week.

One of the highlights of the convention was the presentation at the close of a past president's pin to Miss McCullough for valuable services during her tenure of office.

Some three hundred ladies attended and elected Miss Ella Hamilton of Russell as the new president. Other officers are: Mrs. William Dawson, Tillsonburg; Mrs. Eliza Stone, Dunbar; vice-presidents: Mrs. H. A. Dickson, Mount Hope, secretary-treasurer; Conventers, handcrafts: Mrs. Alex McKinney, Brampton; junior work Mrs. S. W. Bathwell, Navas; publicity, Mrs. Allan Kuebler, Dundalk.

Honorary president, Mrs. Ethel Brant Monture, Brantford and Rochester, the group's first president, compared the women's division with that of 20 years ago when there were only 17 members. Mrs. Monture is the great-granddaughter of Joseph Brant, chief of the Six Nations.

The men's meeting was addressed by many outstanding speakers and panel discussions took place on such subjects as midways, advertising, etc. Stanley Darling of Burk's Falls was elected president for 1957 with S. Fitzgerald, Shannonville vice president; secretary, F. A. Lashley, and M. B. Cochran, Almonte, treasurer.

On Thursday evening a banquet was held in the Crystal Ballroom for the 700 delegates, and the guest speaker was Rev. H. S. Rodney of St. Thomas, an accomplished after-dinner speaker. There were greetings from the Ontario Government by Hon. W. A. Goodfellow, Minister of Agriculture, and his predecessor, Hon. F. S. Thomas, M.P.P. of St. Thomas.

A high-class floor show followed the banquet.

Attending the convention from Georgetown were Miss Charlotte McCullough, Mrs. Donald Lindsay, Mr. and Mrs. Spencer Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Fisher, Mrs. Frank Petch, Mrs. Bert Gilmer, Harding Price, Garfield McGillivray, George Ironsides, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wilson and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cunningham.

CHAMBER WILL ERECT NEW HIGHWAY SIGNS

The Chamber of Commerce is planning to erect entrance signs at the highway approaches to Georgetown, which will feature the town as an industrial centre.

At the Chamber meeting last week, Harold Baird, Wm. B. Hamilton and Jack Crichton were appointed to investigate cost of erecting signs and suggest a design. Mr. Baird said that Delex Developments has offered to provide the material if the town will have the signs painted and erected.

BLIND SINGING WINNER LOCAL LADY'S COUSIN

Nicholas Genovese of Dundas, was top male singer at the final night of the Kiwanis Music Festival in Toronto, and won the trophy for professionals and amateurs.

A blind golfing champion who lost his sight in a welding accident eight years ago, he is a baritone and won three classes earlier in the two-week festival. In sports he has won in several Canadian and United States blind golfing tournaments.

Adjudicator Robert Irwin told Mr. Genovese: "As much as we sympathize with you and admire your courage, we want it to be perfectly clear we are giving you this trophy for no other reason than that you are a magnificent singer."

Mr. Genovese is a cousin of Mrs. Dick Licata, 52 Main St. S.

WHAT COUNCIL DID

Council Gets Tips From Planning Head

Meeting with Georgetown Planning Board on Monday, council heard Mr. Pearson of the Ont. Dept. of Planning state his views on the zoning by-law which has been under consideration for several months.

Mr. Pearson stressed that council must decide if zoning is going to be introduced or if only lip service is going to be rendered to it, before any legislation is contemplated.

"You must decide whether you are thinking of individuals who can get at you with pointed spears, or the community as a whole," he said. "Planners must be like doctors who say you can't contaminate water, then drink it."

It is a council's job to make their very best decision for the good of a town as a whole, and with vision for twenty years ahead, he said. Thinking may later have to be changed to suit changing conditions.

Asked by Mayor Armstrong about the problem of reserving areas for industry which can create hardships for individual property owners, Mr. Pearson said that council should be reasonably sure that something is going to happen before this action is taken. He cited two extremes, one where the building of a few houses had caused an industry to leave a town because it was too expensive to expand, and another where reserving for industry keeps land vacant for years.

He advised that council approve as much of a by-law as possible, then isolate debatable areas and have another discussion with a planning consultant. Another tip was to keep agricultural land in that classification if there is no immediate need for a decision, though keeping in mind the end use of this land.

He said the planning department at Queen's Park can only help with advice in principle. Study must be given to the predominant character of an area and council must guard against letting something happen which will affect the future of a whole area, he said. In cases of allowing house building in an industrial district, the decision should be because the land is needed for housing, not just to take pressure off council, he said.

Asked by Cr. Harrison if building permits can be held up before legislation is passed, Mr. Pearson said this could be done if a by-law had had three readings and is waiting for planning dept. approval.

Victory Here Paves Way Juniors Outclass Preston

An unaided tally by Theo Charlton at the 17 minute mark of the final period Tuesday night, March 5th, stymied Preston's third attempt at a rally and preserved a 7-5 win for the Georgetown Junior Raiders on their home ice. The victory, number three for the J.R.s, abled them to pull even with Preston in the hotly contested 4 of 7 series and necessitated a 7th and deciding match in Preston.

The goal was Charlton's sixth in two successive games.

It was one of the few games in which Preston show signs of outshining Georgetown especially in the last half of each period. Their concentrated attacks coaxed Lockhurst to one of his sharpest games in the net on the entire season. For the first 40 minutes he stopped at least one labled shot from every member of the Preston crew and after two periods they had only been beaten once and that was partially due to a careless play by one of his own-defence-men.

Doug Richardson who centres the Nitro line of Dance, Richardson and Hart fanked with Charlton on the night's play. The "slinker" was Georgetown's best threat inside the Preston line and more than deserved his third period goal even if it wasn't the most picturesque effort of the struggle.

Neither Melvin Aucoin nor Norman Frederick Schulz were too effective in a scoring way. Schulz got credit for one in the start of the last stanza but it was a little on the shady side, and resulted in the loud and lengthy exchange of adjectives between the Georgetown players and the honourable goal judge.

Aucoin came closest when he carried right in on goal from the opening face-off and then shot wide. Charlton had better luck on his drive a minute and 40 seconds later as Georgetown put on one of their quick flurries around the Preston cage. They continued to circle the net like it was the last wagon, much to Proud's discomfort, and bagged their second tally of the second minute, a lone effort by Dance at 1:55.

Hyde was still cooling off from a 10-minute misconduct penalty handed to him in the first stanza for playing footsies with the sin bin door when Pomeroy tipped a pass over to Ken Richardson for the third goal. Richardson's shot from an almost impossible angle caught the extreme right-hand corner at the 3:50 mark.

from behind the net glanced in off the back of Proud's skate at 19:44.

Schulz sparked the 1st of a series of comeback attempts by Preston with his off colour goal from a jamming session in the J.R.s crease.

The puck was batted to the goal line by a well placed right hand. Whether it went over or not, and even that was in doubt, wouldn't have mattered. Charlton maintained the J.R.s three goal lead when he slapped Beckett's pass behind Proud a couple of minutes later. Preston fought right back with two fast ones, Ron Bowman from Schulz at 10:26 and Percival from Burr at 13:37.

Doug Richardson put that rally down with unassisted tally at 14:29, a harmless looking slider from the circle to the left of the Preston net. Bill Bowman tried to keep it rolling with his second and his team's fifth on a breakaway at 16:31 but Charlton took the starch out of any more spirited attacks with the third part of his hat trick at 16:58. And that's how it stood at the final buzzer, Georgetown 7, Preston, not quite.
