Outgrow Hotel Facilities
Lions Move Meeting Place

The Lions Club of Georgetown held their regular meeting Tuesday, May 21st, at the McGibbon House, their last here after over a quarter of a century of Tuesday night assemblies, since the club was chartered in 1931. A recent surge in membership forced the move to a larger meeting room.

Don Barrager presented Gladys McGibbon with a bouquet on behalf of the club stating their regret at having to make the necessary change and that they leave the McGibbon House with many memories of the past 26 years. She was thanked for her cooperation and service during this time.

Miss McGibbon in turn thanked the Lions and mentioned the staff's enjoyment in having the club. She said that she had watched it grow steadily to its present status where, with a membership of 48, hotel accommodation was no longer adequate for a club of such size. She wished them success in their work in the years to come.

The guest speaker for the evening Jack Gummell of Oakville was introduced by president Dick Rid-

Dog Control Report is Heard by Urban Board

Two officials of the District Humane Society at Oakville, director Ross Pearen and shelterkeeper Alan McNab reported on the progress of dog control in this area at the May meeting of the North Halton Urban Board held in Georgetown Wednesday, May 15th.

The board which comprises representatives from Acton, Milton and Georgetown called the delegation when at the last meeting it was pointed out that a number of dogs were still running free in these towns. A report on the operations of the control truck in this area was given by Mr. McNab who stated that so far this year the truck had travelled some 2000 miles and picked up 61 dogs. Eleven of these were reclaimed by their owners and all but two of the remaining dogs were destroyed. These two were taken into Oakville homes.

He explained that the truck visited the towns at least twice weekly, sometimes in the very early morning and sometimes at night in an effort to pick up the strays. He stated that there are only eight complaints on record since the first of the year and that these had been thoroughly looked into by the police. He stressed that residents seeing dogs running loose should notify the local police of the street and time so that the next trip will be made to that particular town at that time.

It was suggested by the board members that the dogs may be becoming educated to the fact that they should stay out of sight when the control truck is around. Another more likely view was that the dog owners were the ones who were learning. An invitation to inspect the shelter at any time was extended to the members by the director.

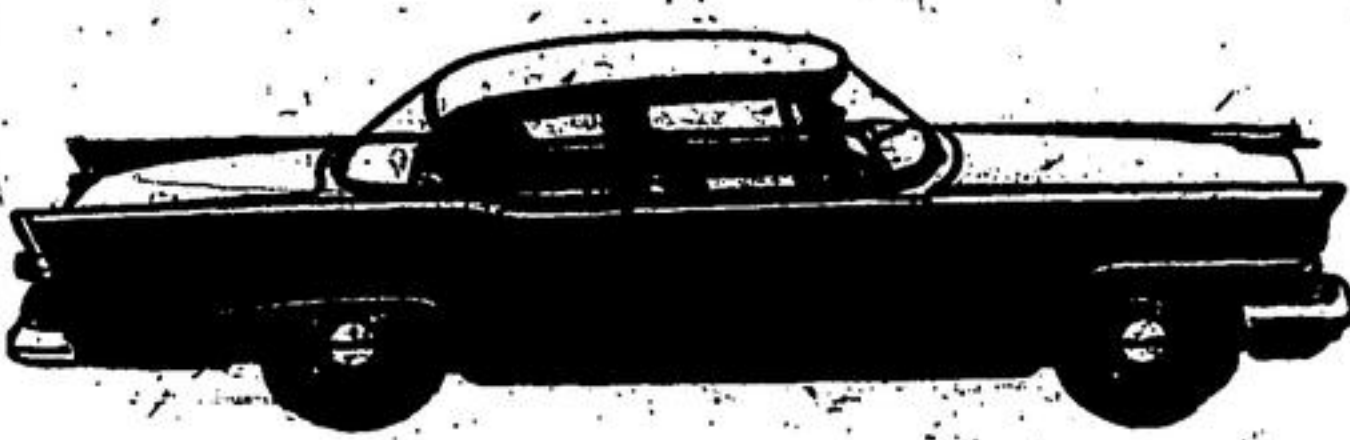

Turning to the fire area agreement Acton questioned the argument of the Esqueuing delegates in opposing the idea of providing
