Church Groups Must Work Together, Says WMS Speaker

A large attendance showed keen interest when members of executives of United Church Women's Associations and Missionary Societies met in Burlington on May 28. Mrs. Berry, whose husband is head of the Mission to the Nation, outlined a unified program for all churchwomen when she spoke at the afternoon session. She said that every church member must himself be a missionary, and that W.A. and M.S. groups can work more efficiently when they work together.

Halton W.A. president Mrs. W. B. Fleuty and W.M.S. head, Mrs. Arthur Harris conducted the opening service in the morning. Mrs. G. F. McMillan, wife of the pastor of Trinity United, welcomed the guests to Burlington. Mrs. Swinton, president of Hamilton Conference W.A. led a singsong.

The theme chosen for the devotional, given by Mrs. Frank Taylor, Ancaster, was "What Does the Lord Require of Us?" The Lord requires the same as he did of the early disciples, she said. We must believe his gospel; we must be filled with the same spirit as those early church members; and our everyday life must be dedicated to God's glory. Belief, love and witness are primary responsibilities of a Christian, she said.

A pot luck luncheon followed separate executive sessions of the two groups. Mrs. Bridgeman, at the opening of the afternoon program, welcomed the guests.

Rev. G. K. McMillan, in the bible study period, gave what he considers is one of the truly great passages in the bible, Paul's letter to the Philippians. It's theme is to take Christ as the pattern of life, lifting man above pettiness and selfishness. Paul's letter was written to his church, endangered by strife, and he urged men to esteem others better than themselves. In this way, Christ takes away smallness of spirit which destroys group harmony and makes for accord.

Mrs. Lloyd Leaver, Port Credit, in her synopsis of the 32nd annual meeting of Hamilton Conference WMS emphasized the need for more reading. She stated that only half the local auxiliaries are using the study book, and only one-third the book shelf.

Mrs. Dorian Haight, Wesley Auxiliary, also brought some interesting news from the annual in Kitchener. She said it was suggested that WMS branches send in their money quarterly. Letters of tragic need have had to be refused because funds are lacking. Midwife kits, costing $10 are one of the desperate needs in Africa, she said.

Mrs. G. Douglas, Trinity Church organist provided the day's music. Mrs. L. Shaw, Port Nelson, expressed thanks to speakers and others taking part in the program. Members were invited to attend a picnic on June 18th at Cedarvale School, Georgetown, each bringing their own picnic lunch.

A DISTINGUISHED VISITOR TO GIRL GUIDES WORLD CAMP

The Canadian Girl Guides Association have just heard the good news that Countess Estelle Bernadotte will visit their Centenary World Camp which will be held next August at their Doe Lake Camp.

This distinguished visitor will stay at the camp from August 8th to August 19th, and will there represent the World Association of Girl Guides and Girl Scouts, of which she is now Vice-President. Countess Bernadotte was born in Pleasantville, U.S.A. and in 1929 married Count Folke Bernadotte, a nephew of the late King Gustav of Sweden.

With her husband she travelled widely and shared with him a love of the out-of-doors and of camping. They had many camping experiences in countries with differing climates and conditions.

After her husband's tragic death in 1949 while acting as a mediator for the United Nations between the Arabs and the Jews, Countess Bernadotte became the President of the Central Council of the Girl Guides of Sweden, and in this position she still holds. She has also been a member of the United Nations Commission on Prisoners of War.

All of the 1500 girl guides and their leaders, who will represent over 38 different countries, are eagerly looking forward to meeting and talking to their sister guide, the Countess Estelle Bernadotte.

Dawn Fiebig, 1st Georgetown Girl Guide Co. has been accepted to attend this camp.

WEINER ROAST FOR CHI RHO CLUB

The Chi Rho couples club of St. George's Anglican Church had a weiner roast Thursday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Korzak, Glen Williams.

President Clare Francis was in charge, and a brief devotional service was conducted by Douglas Meades and Mrs. Kenneth Richardson. Members enjoyed a singsong around the campfire while eating hot dogs and drinking coffee. The club volunteered to serve refreshments at one of the organ recitals being held this month to introduce the newly-installed organ.

Ex-Deputy Chief Was Policeman Nearly 50 Years

George Scott Guthrie, 88, a Georgetown native who was former deputy police chief of Toronto and was buried in Greenwood Cemetery here on Saturday.

Retired 19 years ago after nearly fifty years on the force, Mr. Guthrie died at his home, 44 Walford Rd. on Wednesday. Only one man had exceeded his service record and that was his brother, Inspector Nat Guthrie who died a year ago, also at the age of 88.

Mr. Guthrie went to Toronto from Georgetown in 1898 to be a policeman. His brother Nat was there two years ahead of him. His grandfather was an inspector of the Royal Irish Constabulary. When he joined the department the force consisted of 227 men. There was no fingerprinting system, no automobiles, no registration of weapons, no ballistic system. For a few years he walked a beat, then was assigned to mounted duty and at the end of his seventh year was given his detective's badge. He was a detective and sergeant of detectives for 18 years. In 1928 he was appointed chief inspector. In 1935, he was appointed deputy chief and given wide powers of administration and discipline.

In his career, George Guthrie made 1800 arrests, ranging from murder to theft. He was an expert on pickpockets and was able to say that he had never fired a shot from his gun to make an arrest.

During the second world war he was temporary chief, taking over the post when General Draper went to England to volunteer for service.

He had been president of the Chief Constables Association of Canada for two years, secretary for five, and was an executive officer and member of the Toronto Police Amateur Athletic Association. He was also a writer of police articles. He won a $200 prize at the World Congress of Police Chiefs with a paper he wrote on extradition. He was a member of the Foresters and of Parkdale and Wellington Masonic lodges.

He leaves his wife, the former Lottie May Kelly of Westmount, Que.; three sons, Edward, Sam and George; two daughters, Margaret and Mrs. Dorothy Swarbrick; and a sister Bella, Mrs. G. P. Wright, Neville, Saskatchewan. Funeral service on Saturday morning took place in Dovercourt Presbyterian Church.
